AUSTRO-GERMAN LOSSES ARE HEAVIEST

Italian Headquarters in Northern Italy, Friday, Nov. 23.—(By The Associated Press.)—The battle of the mountains is raging with unexampled violence. The Italians again hold the Monte Tomba and Monte Persica positions which they lost last night. The losses have been very heavy, but the enemy's far exceed those of the Italians.

STORY OF DESPERATE COMBAT.

Italian Headquarters in Northern Italy, Friday, Nov. 23.—(By The Associated Press.)—A succession of attacks and counter-attacks followed rapidly throughout yesterday on the hills between the Piave and Brenta valleys, where the Italians and Austro-Germans are engaged in furious combat.

Battalions and regiments, their numbers diminished in the struggle, were reformed and returned to the fight. In one section where there were thirty officers, twenty-seven were killed or wounded, but the remaining three fought the battle of the thirty.

Mountain batteries had been secured in mountain emplacements and as the fight ebbed and flowed over these positions the Italians not only brought back the guns even the wheels and the limbers, their pride not permitting a vestige to fall into the hands of the enemy.

The final furious charge. The final charge of the day came at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

The enemy had struck his greatest blow earlier in the day and the fierce attack lasted three-quarters of an hour.

The whole field was swept by artillery fire and the ground was strewn with dead.

It was amid this welter of bodies and debris that the Italian lines were reformed and from it they moved forward steadily and irresistibly until the disputed ground was retaken except at one point, where the struggle still goes

Summary of the Day's War News

General Byng has settled down to a steady push against the German lines west of Cambrai, after his recent rapid forward dash, and has made substantial progress along a front of nearly six miles. Incidentally it is now announced that more than 100 guns were captured by the British during this offensive including numerous heavy pieces. The British pressure is now being mainly directed northward on the east and west line running between Fontaine and Quant. The apparent objective is to carry the enclosing movement about Cambrai further to the north and east but to drive in behind both the former Hindenburg line as it bears off to the northwest, and the Quant-Drocourt switch, thus

Washington, Nov. 24.—Ambassador Bakhmeteff of Russia formally notified the state department today that the embassy does not recognize the authority of the extremists now in control of the foreign office at Petrograd. In a letter to Secretary Lansing following the resignation of three of the chief officers of the embassy to avoid having relations with the Bolshevik government was not representative of the true will of the Russian people and that he would not recognize that or any similar government which would lead the country into non-participation in the war.

The ambassador said he considered himself duty bound to remain at his post and would do so with a competent staff of assistants. While expressing the belief that the true service of Russia was bound to rise, he said it was evident that until conditions changed the embassy could not exercise in full measure its essential duties and therefore he had authorized mem-

ANOTHER "CLEAN CAMPAIGN"

The Journal-Gazette Company
PUBLISHERS OF THE JOURNAL-GAZETTE
709-711-713 CLINTON STREET
FORT WAYNE, IND.
CIRCULATION DEPARTMENT
W. RAY, CIRCULATION MANAGER

Dear Sir:-

Being a carrier of the Sentinel, you are aware of the fact that the News are the owners of both papers. I consider that the Journal-Gazette has as much right to your subscribers as anyone, therefore, before doing anything with your route, call at the Journal-Gazette office and talk with Mr. Ray. Just a talk with this man will convince you as to what you will want to do with your route.

Thanking you for any past favors, we are,

Very truly yours,

THE JOURNAL-GAZETTE COMPANY,

BY-- W. R. Ray

Cir. Mgr.

The above reproduction is of a letter, a copy of which was posted by the Journal-Gazette to each of the boys delivering a Sentinel route in Fort Wayne. Despite the letter's illiteracy and general untruthfulness, it is self-explanatory, meaning simply that the Journal-Gazette, through its circulation manager, endeavored to bribe the Sentinel carrier boys into delivering to the Journal-Gazette office the lists of their customers even before these lists were given to the Fort Wayne News, which publication recently purchased the entire property of the Fort Wayne Sentinel. It is only fair to state that Mr. L. G. Ellingham, president of the Journal-Gazette, denies all knowledge of the posting of this letter. But the man whose name appears as its author is still in the employ of the Journal-Gazette.

Of course, when the Fort Wayne News purchased the Sentinel property, one of the chief considerations involved was "good will," which in the newspaper business means subscription lists. Now, there is no intention on the part of the News to attempt to buy and sell public favor. It concedes the Journal-Gazette every right to canvass Fort Wayne with an army of solicitors singing the merits of the Journal-Gazette as opposed to those of the News. In fact it invites such competition, abiding most willingly with the verdict on the comparison of the two publications.

But it does not concede the right of the Journal-Gazette or any one else, to attempt to debauch young boys by holding forth rewards for thievery. Route lists and subscription lists are as vitally a portion of a newspaper's physical plant as are its linotype machines, or as are the mailing lists of houses like Sears-Roebuck-Siegel Cooper, etc. The attempt to bribe these carrier boys is on a parity with endeavoring to bribe a proof press boy into stealing a copy of a mailing list. That the letter failed utterly of its purpose is aside from the point.

The names and addresses of the carriers of the Sentinel, and of the agents in surrounding towns, used by the Journal-Gazette, were secured by disreputable methods and when subscribers of the Sentinel generally receive letters from the Journal-Gazette asking them to change from one paper to the other, they may know that their names and addresses were secured by the same dishonest tactics.

Just how the Journal-Gazette obtained the names and addresses of all the Sentinel carriers and agents the News is not prepared to prove in court but it is morally certain of the means employed and it possesses no condemnatory language too strong to classify them.

Petrograd, Nov. 23.—(Friday)—The text of certain confidential communications between the Russian foreign office and foreign governments were published today by Bolshevik and social revolutionist newspapers at the instigation of Leon Trotsky, the Bolshevik foreign minister.

Trotsky says that the documents are those of the "czaristic, bourgeois and coalition governments," and from them "the Russian nation and all nations in the world must learn the truth of the plans secretly made by financiers and traders through their parliamentary and diplomatic agents."

German and Austrian politicians, Trotsky declares, may try to make capital out of these documents, but he warns them that when the German proletariat by means of a revolution secures access to their chancelleries they will find there documents which will show up in no better light than those now published.

All who wish to help the great cause of the Y. W. C. A. and who have not yet subscribed may do so by calling the association building, phone 1290, or any of the workers or team captains.

This evening's roundup meeting of the workers in the Y. W. C. A. war fund campaign will be held at 7 o'clock at the association building will be attended by an enthusiastic group of patriots as ever completed a week of effective work for Uncle Sam in his time of need.

Washington, Nov. 24.—With the sliding of an 8,000-ton steel ship down the ways of a Pacific coast ship yard today the shipping board recorded the launching of the first of the merchant fleet it is building. Other accessions to the fleet will be launched in a steady program from now on, including three 26,000-ton steel ships and three 10,500-ton wooden ships during December. The shipping board is clearing a right of way for its building program by requisitioning 1,500 railroad cars to move fir ship timbers from the west to eastern yards, where the scarcity of that material is holding back activity of the building of the wooden craft.

TEUTONS TRY TO STRENGTHEN FOR FRESH ASSAULT

BRITISH BOOTY IN GUNS IS HEAVY

Reinforced by divisions from other sectors of the western front the Germans are resisting desperately the British advance on Cambrai. Around Fontaine Notre Dame, less than three miles west of Cambrai, and the Bourlon wood, close by the most strenuous fighting has occurred with the British making progress.

General Byng is combining his attacks with consolidation work and the British are firmly established in their new positions, which give opportunities to destroy the usefulness of Cambrai as a supply center as well as a starting place for a drive either north behind the Drocourt-Quant line or west against Cambrai. Heavy fighting is taking place at Mouevred, three miles south of Cambrai, at the other end of the wedge driven across the Hindenburg line Tuesday and Wednesday.

The Bourlon wood is the dominating hill to the west of Cambrai and the Germans have put up a strong resistance here as well as at Fontaine Notre Dame which flanks the wood to the west.

The British have made advances at the southern and southwestern edges of the wood. Near Mouevred General Byng's men have taken Tadpole copse, which dominates the village, part of which the Germans still hold. In addition to nearly 3,000 prisoners the British have captured large quantities

BOND PAYMENTS INUNDATE THE U. S. TREASURY

Washington, Nov. 24.—A heavy flood of overpayments on liberty loan installments has swept into the treasury surplus money holdings of nearly two billion dollars. These funds again will be thrown on the money market, chiefly by premature redemption of treasury certificates of indebtedness. Loan payment installments of 18 percent due the 15th of the month from subscribers were overpaid 350 percent, it was estimated.

ANOTHER U-BOAT IS SENT TO BOTTOM BY U. S. DESTROYERS

Washington, Nov. 24.—Definite news of the destruction of another German submarine by American destroyers reached the navy department today in a cable report from Vice Admiral Sims. The submarine damaged by a depth bomb went down with all on board after a destroyer had attached a line and was attempting to take her in tow.

Two destroyers took part in the action. One sighting a periscope at four hundred yards headed for it and was forced to the surface in an effort to keep from sinking. Many members of the crew may have been killed or rendered senseless by the bomb's explosion.

The Anti-Tuberculosis society Saturday mailed to former subscribers and many others envelopes containing Christmas anti-tuberculosis seals. The receiver is expected to return all that he does not want to keep.

The first one hundred went to M. V. Walsh as usual.

The first five hundred went to Lennart and Ortlieb, as usual.

Meter Department Force of the General Electric Eighteen Years Ago.

The above picture, which is supposed to represent the entire force in the laboratory of the General Electric company eighteen years ago, will be of interest to the readers. It will also help the reader to a realization of the wonderful expansion of the meter department of the big plant. When the above picture was taken, the entire force in the department did not exceed fifty; today it exceeds 400. Of the seventeen men represented in the picture, nine are still employed at the works, though some are not now connected with the meter department. The personnel of the group is as follows: Standing from left to right, those standing are J. A. Stover, F. Crichton, W. S. May, C. Stevens, F. Wellman, P. Murphy, J. Smith, D. McNutt, C. Kern, N. G. Bucher and W. F. Lageman. Those seated are F. McCurdy, J. Haberly, J. B. Mills, E. J. King, A. Trentman and J. L. Bireley. Those still on the pay rolls are Messrs. Stover, Crichton, May, Wellman, Smith, Bucher, Lageman, Mills and J. L. Bireley. The picture was taken in 1899. The department today is under the supervision of P. C. Morgenthau, under the title of managing engineer of the meter department. Mr. Morgenthau commenced work at the plant in 1897, in the meter department, but a short time previous to the taking of the photograph, he was temporarily transferred to another department, which accounts for the absence of his portrait in the group. James H. Haberly, whose portrait is in the group, is now the secretary and treasurer of the Fort Wayne Engineering and Manufacturing company. J. B. Mills is a member of the city council, representing the Sixth ward, and an appointee on the board of public safety by Mayor-Elect W. Sherman. The meter department of the General Electric works is most progressive and recently organized for mutual advancement and social purposes the 'Meter and Instrument society,' which meets twice a month to listen to lectures on subjects of special interest to the members of the department. At a meeting of the society Thursday night there were over 100 members present. J. L. Bireley was the speaker.

RIFLE MEMBERS MUST HAVE LICENSES

Cannot Handle Cartridges Without Permission from Their Uncle Sam.

The following circular issued for distribution of the Fort Wayne Rifle and Revolver club by George H. Gwaehn, the secretary, gives some very important and valuable information to members. It reads as follows:

"Following the passage a few weeks ago of the Explosive law which was put into effect on November 15th, it will be necessary for all persons to secure a license in order to have in their possession any explosive or explosives for re-loading ammunition of any sort. This refers to powder and primers in bulk, but does not refer to cartridges of any sort already assembled. The above license can be secured at the office of the county clerk.

"The in-door range is now open to club members who will be admitted to the grounds of the General Electric company on Broadway where the range is located, upon presentation of the license. Members of the club who do not have their membership cards with them will not be allowed to enter the grounds. The following evenings have been selected for shooting: Tuesday evening rifle practice; Wednesday evening pistol practice; Thursday and Saturday evenings, rifle practice.

"There are quite a few members of the Rifle club who have not as yet paid their dues for 1917. It would be appreciated if all such members would send in their remittance as soon as possible as we need the money."

RIGHT TO KEEP BACK PART OF WAGES RAISED

Question Will Be Determined in Suit Against the Nickel Plate.

Whether or not a railroad company has the right to withhold a portion of an employee's wages to be applied to insurance is to be determined in a suit filed Saturday by Arthur V. Fry against the New York, Chicago and St. Louis Railroad company.

Fryover is suing for $350 which he claims was wrongfully and unlawfully kept out of his monthly wages, earned by him as a brakeman. He alleges that each and every pay-day the company would pay his earnings and wages then due him, less $1.13, which it kept out and retained over his objection and protest in payment of dues or premiums for policy of insurance which it issued and carried on him to cover damages, payable to him in case he should meet death or receive injury or become sick while in its employment. He also claims that it is compulsory that all of the company's employees running upon the road take out such insurance and their premium payable once every two weeks.

THIRTY JURORS DRAWN

For Service in the Federal Court Next Month.

A venire of thirty jurors has been drawn for the term of federal court, which starts December 11. Eleven cases will be heard. They are as follows:

Standard Asphalt Rubber company against C. H. DeFrees.
George B. Undergrove against Harry O. Grothe.
Eunice E. Armstrong et al against the Fort Wayne and Springfield Railway company.
Frank H. Cutshall, trustee, against Maurice Goldberg et al.
Imperishable Sill company against National Fire Proofing company.
William W. Canada against Pennsylvania company.
Laura E. Cresse against Grand Rapids & Indiana Railway company.
Herman M. Pence against Wabash Railway company.
Fairbanks Steam Shovel company against Wabash-Portland Cement company.
Martha S. Wells against Metropolitan Life Insurance company.
William W. Parker against Pennsylvania company.

HEARING IS HELD

A hearing was held Saturday afternoon on the report of the department of the first to be filed under the 1917 ditch law. The report shows that a total of $11,959.55 is due for cleaning and other work on one of the ditches. The ditch is in Jefferson, Jackson and Milan townships. There is much objection to the amount charged and the farmers affected expect to fight the payment of it.

Called Her Names.
Because her husband persisted in calling her naughty names, Lena Hawkins has filed suit in the superior court asking for a divorce from Charles Hawkins. She also alleges that he repeatedly struck her and has made her life most miserable. Mr. and Mrs. Hawkins were united in wedlock in April of last year. Mrs. Hawkins is represented by H. Waveland Kerr.

PROSECUTORS GO EAST

A. W. Grosvener, county surveyor, accompanied by Mrs. Grosvener and two daughters, Juliet and Florence, left Friday night for Amherst, Mass., where they will visit over Thanksgiving day with their parents, Prof. and Mrs. E. A. Grosvener. The elder Mr. Grosvener was on the faculty of Amherst college for forty years, retiring but a short time ago.

NOTES OF THE COURTS

A suit was filed Friday by Prosecuting Attorney Frank A. Emrick against Doyle Rush, asking for forfeiture of a $25 bond.

The deed thought to have been stolen from David C. Stout's automobile has been found. Arrangements are now under way for a big "feed" at the Baltes hotel.

THE ASSESSMENT ROLL FOR THE STRAUSS BROS. AND BRANCH CHURCH IN PLEASANT TOWNSHIP WAS FILED IN THE COUNTY RECORDER'S OFFICE SATURDAY.

Judge Carl Yapple in the superior court Saturday granted a decree for divorce to Gertha Crawl from Delphos. Mrs. Crawl is given the custody of their child and Crawl is ordered to pay $3 a week for its support.

The case of Albert Freishoffer and Frank Johns against Henry W. Troutman in the superior court has been dismissed. The same action was taken in the suit brought by Jeanette Kinney against Hattie Metsker.

SENTENCE SUSPENDED

Judge J. W. Eggenman in the circuit court Saturday morning sentenced Carl Axt, 18, to thirty days in the county jail and fined him $1 and costs for stealing an automobile tire. The sentence was suspended pending Axt's good behavior. Judge Eggenman gave a severe lecture, warning him to stay away from poolrooms and dance halls.

WHITE GRAIN MORE NORMAL

Food Director Hoover Finds Great Improvement in the Situation.

WHEAT DELIVERY IS VASTLY BETTER

Mills Get Grain and Flour Prices Correspond With Prices of Wheat.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 24.—Marked increase in flour production and normal deliveries of wheat by farmers were noted today by Food Administrator Hoover in his October report to congress.

He reported that wholesale and retail flour prices were rapidly adjusting themselves to the fixed wheat price.

"Country deliveries of wheat," the report said, "show a large increase over those of last month and analysis based on previous years' percentages, indicates that the normal percentage of this year's crops has left the farm. A large part of the movement of what is being directed from the point of origin to the mill eliminating the transportation burden caused by shipment to the terminals and reshipment from there to the mills.

"With very few exceptions mills are being supplied to the extent of their need and an even distribution of wheat among them is being maintained. Mills are also running at a higher percentage of operation than is usual at this time of year and the production of flour compared with that of a year ago shows a marked increase.

"The price of flour is generally at the mills fairly reflecting the wheat price and the wholesale and retail flour prices are rapidly adjusting themselves to the established wheat price."

ADVANCE OF BREAD PRICES

Washington, Nov. 24.—Bread prices advanced 55 per cent during the sixteen months ending Oct. 1, while prices of flour advanced 249 per cent in the same period, but on Oct. 1 had declined to 128 per cent above the July, 1916, price, according to a chart presented by the baking industry today to the food administration. The analysis shows the average cost of other bread ingredients advanced 194 per cent during that time but on Oct. 1 had declined until they were but 110 per cent above the July, 1916, price, according to information from members and officials of the Associated Master Bakers.

SPECIALTIES STRONG FEATURES OF MARKET

Rails Lead in Moderate Reaction, After an Uncertain Start.

New York, Nov. 24.—Specialties were the only strong features of today's brief stock market session. Rails led the moderate reaction as the result of existing transportation problems and numerous industrialists the shipping market fell back 1 to 3 points in sympathy. The few notable exceptions included Canadian Pacific, General Electric and American Can.

The closing was heavy. Sales approximated 350,000 shares. Liberty bonds sold at 97.62 to 98 and the 3 1/2s at 99.06 to 99.05.

Latest complication in the railroad situation arising from war conditions contributed to the uncertainty. Tendencies manifested at the opening of today's stock market. Reading broke 1 1/2 and Southern Pacific a point, recessions in other rails being limited to fractions. Industrials and shippers were highly irregular at mixed gains and losses, which ranged from 1 to 3 points. United States Steel reacted a point and crucible steel 2 points. Liberty bonds sold at 97.62 to 97.90 and the 3 1/2s at 98.96 to 99.

PURDUE STUDENT IS KILLED BY TRAIN

Paul Kemp Believed to Have Been Trying to Steal Ride to Bloomington.

Lafayette, Ind., Nov. 24.—Paul A. Kemp, aged 19, a student at Purdue, was found dead beside the Monon railroad tracks south of here this morning. Evidently he had fallen from a train. Both legs were cut off and the trunk of his body was also mangled. It is thought he was beating his way to Bloomington on a night passenger train when he met death.

Raymond Carpenter, whose home is at Bloomington and who has been working here, was seriously injured and unconscious a few yards from Kemp's body. It is thought Carpenter, who was heading his way to Bloomington, is at a hospital here and is still unconscious, having a fractured skull.

AT THE TRANSFER

WAR FILMS AT TRANSFER. Sensational Pictures Show Crushing German Defeat in Arras. Sector.

"Nothing like like 'The Battle of Arras,' as shown at the Transfer Theater, has been seen here in the way of battle pictures. This film record of the British drive was so realistic that it seemed to bring the war overseas. There were glimpses of actual fighting. The huge tanks lumbered by, crossing ground that looked to be impassable. These tanks, more than anything else perhaps, conveyed an idea of the scale on which a modern engagement is conducted. Guns of all sizes were seen hurling their death stream upon the Germans. But best of all were the 'Tommys,' who went into the battle laughing and singing.

"The whole grim anatomy of war passed in review, giving the audience a vivid picture of the task that lies ahead of us.

"The spectacle aroused such enthusiasm as has greeted few films of the front.

AMES COLLEGE WINS MEET

Chicago, Nov. 24.—With a score of 62 points the Ames team, college team of runners won the annual cross country run of the western conference here today. Chicago was second with 59 points; Wisconsin third with 61; Ohio State fourth with 80, and Minnesota fifth with 87 points. The winning team's time was 25:48. The race was decided over a five mile course in Washington park. Purdue, winner of the event a year ago, did not enter a team.

RICHARD RINGBERG

FATALLY INJURED

G. R. & I. Section Men Find Him Unconscious Near Shelbyville.

On the early morning patrol of the G. R. & I. tracks near Shelbyville, Mich., yesterday, section men discovered a man lying at the side of the tracks in an unconscious condition. Papers in his pockets indicated that his name was Richard Ringberg, of Grand Rapids, and the circumstances indicated that he received his injuries by either falling from a freight train while stealing a ride, or by being struck by some train while trespassing on the company's property. Ringberg was taken to the hospital at Allegan, Mich., where he died at 5:45 o'clock Saturday morning. The circumstances surrounding the death of Ringberg, who was about sixty years old, so far as is known he has no relatives in America. For some months he had lived at 308 Briggs street, Grand Rapids, and worked in a furniture factory in that city. The remains were turned over to the authorities at Allegan and will probably be buried by the county.

CAPTAIN STOLL AS HOST.

Entertains Men Who Were With Him in Detective Work Once.

Yesterday Captain Henry Stoll had the pleasure of entertaining for a short time two men who were associated with him in railway detective work years ago. They were J. E. Ward and W. G. Bates. Mr. Ward is now chief special agent of the Wabash, with headquarters in St. Louis, and Mr. Bates is captain of police of the Peru division. Twenty-four years ago Mr. Ward spent some months on the Pennsylvania, assisting Captain Stoll in installing the police system, serving in the capacity of lieutenant. After several years' service he resigned and went to the Wabash in a similar capacity. It was while Mr. Ward was connected with the Pennsylvania police department that W. G. Bates commenced his service there, remaining five or six years and being advanced

WILL BRING A CROWD.

Wabash Makes Arrangements for Foot Ball Special.

"I expect a crowd of upwards of 300 on the special train from Wabash tomorrow, on account of the foot ball game," said District Passenger Agent W. H. Shorey, of the Wabash, this morning. "We have arranged for a seven car train and will be in position to provide further accommodations, if necessary," continued Mr. Shorey. The train will arrive here at 12:10 o'clock and will leave on the return trip at 6 o'clock in the evening.

Rifle Club Commences Indoor Target Practice.

The Fort Wayne Rifle and Revolver club resumed indoor target practice today by having some contests this afternoon. Tonight there will be other contests and the management of the club expects a big crowd of shooters. It is especially desired that all be in attendance tonight.

THIRTY-ONE NEXT THURSDAY.

Joseph C. Grosjean, head of the billing department of the General Electric works, who has succeeded in ending the darts of Cup so far, will be thirty-one years old next Thursday, Thanksgiving day. The anniversary will be quietly observed at the family home. Mr. Grosjean holds a responsible position at the General Electric works, where he has been employed for a number of years, with the exception of a short time he was employed at the Fort Wayne Engineering and Manufacturing company's office.

BURNED BY ELECTRIC FLASH.

Earl Whitacre Painfully Hurt at the Lights.

While operating an electric switch in the operating department of the General Electric works, in building No. 26, yesterday afternoon, Earl Whitacre, an inside wireman, was painfully hurt by an electric flash. His left arm and wrist were badly burned and his face and both eyes suffered to a lesser degree. The injured man was attended by Nurse Frances Steeler and Dr. Fred J. Schultz immediately following the accident and then sent to his home. His eyes are not permanently injured and the burns on his face and neck are not deep and will not leave scars.

G. R. & I. BOWLERS REORGANIZE.

As a result of the resignation of Ben Zern from the trainmaster office force at the G. R. & I., the bowling league has been reorganized but the name, which is to be changed, has not been announced. The present schedule of games will continue, however, and the only change will be in the personnel.

FORT WAYNE B. R. T. PUTS W. G. FERGUSON AT HEAD OF ROSTER.

JAMES E. KARNS.

Fort Wayne lodge, No. 126, Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, held its annual election last night and placed the stamp of approval upon the service of men who have served in official capacities during the past years. The new roster is as follows: President, W. G. Ferguson; vice president, C. R. Deihl; treasurer, A. J. Matott; secretary, James E. Karns; journal agent, P. S. Patton; examining physicians, Dr. William Neumeyer, 1324 South Calhoun street, and Dr. George B. Steimen, 1162 West Main street. President Ferguson served the brotherhood in that capacity from January 1, 1909, to December 31, 1914, when he was succeeded by James E. Karns, whom he succeeds now. Mr. Karns was elected secretary to succeed N. S. Patton, who takes another position. Fort Wayne lodge, No. 126, is third in point of members in the United States, having 765 names on the roll. It is also in the front ranks with a record for motive power department of the Pennsylvania Northwest system.

W. G. FERGUSON.

FOOD SUBSTITUTES HAVE HIGHER COSTS

Cornmeal, Fish and Other Things Boosted as Demand Grows.

Indianapolis, Nov. 24.—Food authorities are having their attention called to the higher cost of "substitute foods." The essence of the war time food campaign is the argument in favor of substituting, on the American table, cornmeal for wheat, nuts and fish and poultry for meats and the saving of fats in all directions.

In order that there may be sufficient wheat with which to supply our allies and their armies, and that there may be meat sufficient to provide fighting rations for the armies of America and her associated nations in the war, the people here at home are being urged to use "substitute foods."

When the consumer goes to buy cornmeal to take the place of wheat on his wheatless day, he reports that the price of cornmeal suddenly has rocketed upward until wheat has become much the cheaper diet.

The order of fish that formerly sold for 15 cents in the dairy lunch room, becomes a 25-cent order on meatless day. It is in this way the "higher cost of substitute foods" becomes a serious question for the consideration of the Hoover food administration. Cornmeal at 10 cents a pound has become just as important to the consumer as $20 pork or the $20 barrel of flour.

The Indiana state council of defense requests that all reports of price sky-rocketing, especially as pertains to substitute foods recommended in the save-wheat, save-fats campaign be reported promptly to the end that there be some truly "horrible examples" made of the guilty, who will certainly feel the teeth of the food control law.

BLUFFTON LAWYERS NAMED.

Bluffton, Ind., Nov. 24.—William H. Eichhorn, Edwin C. Vaughn and Frank W. Gordon have been selected by the Indiana State War association and Jesse Eschbach, state conscription agent, to become a Wells county board to help the conscription board in the classifying of drafted men. This board with Mr. Eichhorn as chairman, will select other attorneys to help the drafted men in filling out the questionnaires, and will then help the conscription board in classifying such drafted men.

CORN THIEVES.

Hartford City, Ind., Nov. 24.—Many reports of corn thefts have been made by farmers living near this city. The farmers say people drive along in autos and stop long enough to get a small load of corn. They report that most of the thefts are at night. The funeral of Gola Patton, who was killed at Muncie Monday, when he was hit by an auto truck driven by Gola Smith, was held here. Coroner Downing, of Muncie, has not returned his verdict in the case. Smith is being held under $3,000 bond.

EIGHT NEW CLUBS.

Huntington, Ind., Nov. 24.—F. A. Loew, county agent, has organized eight farmers' clubs, the object being to bring about the raising of more hogs, and the conservation of pork by discouraging the selling of immature hogs. C. R. Benjamin, of Crown Point, Ind., accompanied Loew, and arrangements were made in each neighborhood visited to bring about co-operation that will provide every hog raiser with an adequate supply of corn.

ELEVEN CARS OF COAL.

Bluffton, Ind., Nov. 24.—Coal Administrator John Miller states that eleven cars of coal had been received in Bluffton so far this week. Two cars arrived this morning. The coal situation in Bluffton remains serious, however, as each car that comes in is almost unloaded from the car and delivered to persons who have had their order in previously. Persons who have not already placed an order for the coal cannot get it, it seems.

CONTRACT AWARDED.

Portland, Ind., Nov. 24.—The Otis Elevator company of Indianapolis was awarded the contract for the installation of two elevators in the new court house Thursday afternoon by the county commissioners for $6,825. The Houghton Elevator company of Toledo bid $11,500. Two elevators will be installed. One, the public elevator, will be placed near the center of the building, while a private car will be installed in the north end of the building.

TO PROTECT SCHOOL CHILDREN IN WAR WORK

Request for Such Aid Must Be Approved by Council of Defense Committee.

Indianapolis, Nov. 24.—Requests for the co-operation of school children of the state in war work hereafter must be authorized by a committee of approval, a part of the state council of defense. The committee is to act as a clearing house to which requests for the co-operation of the children must be submitted. This committee has been created as a result of the unprecedented demands that are being made upon the time and energies of children. Superintendents all over the state are writing to the council objecting to the never-ending requests. The State Teachers' association, at its recent meeting in Indianapolis, recognized the educational section of the council as the official committee for the guidance of all war service required of the schools of Indiana. Accordingly, the committee on approval after studying the situation, has decided to send out a letter to all superintendents asking them not to permit any person or organization to ask school children to sign a war pledge without first securing the approval of the committee.

The committee also advises school officials not to permit any person or organization to ask children to sign a war pledge, either for financial contribution or for service, without first giving them an opportunity to talk the matter over in their homes. This request is based on the theory that all propositions securing the support of boys and girls should be approved by their parents.

The committee on approval consists of J. J. Collicott, state vocational director; City Superintendent T. F. Fitzgibbon, of Columbus; County Superintendent T. H. Williams, state high school inspector; and J. J. Pettit, John, director of the extension division of Indiana university.

INCOME FROM MOVIE WAR TAX IS CONSIDERABLE

Movie fans of Fort Wayne are paying $1,500 weekly in war taxes. When it is estimated what a small proportion this sum is in comparison with the multitude of picture houses in the United States the income of this tax can be realized. Moving picture show patrons seem to be contented with the extra pennies levied upon them and little or no complaint has been heard up to this time.

In the 6c Coony's Broadleaf and Little Havana Cigars quality will be remembered after the price is forgotten.

THE TANKS.

Again the tanks have become an almost romantic feature of the great war. General Haig's extensive employment of these engines to clear the way for General Byng's stunning drive into the Hindenburg line was attended with much success, though it is not yet entirely clear that the British victory was made possible by the initial performances of the tanks.

More than a year ago, when Haig launched his great smash on the Somme, this new phenomenon of the war was first uncovered. Volumes were written of them by the correspondents. They were treated with a great variety of opinions and sentiments and a good deal of enthusiasm was stirred by their performances. Some of the comments of the war writers were of a sort to lead the world to believe that a supernatural monster had been harnessed by the British and driven against the Germans. Others wrote of them in serious vein and there was as much concern over the ludicrous appearance of these great lumbering engines and the laughable terror they were said to have inspired in the breast of the foe as there was relating to the actual military accomplishments of the device. Something of a mystery was made to surround the tanks. Their nature, origin, place of construction and manner of operation were speculated upon at vast length and not much that was enlightening came out. Even so eminent a literary man as Hall Caine applied himself with mighty diligence to give the tank what was coming to it and with enthusiasm he proclaimed that the means of promptly beating the kaiser and ending the war had been found.

Then it was learned that the British tank was an adaptation of the American caterpillar farm tractor—a common enough engine in this country. And that was about all there was to it, save that a British officer had discerned the possibilities of taking the most powerful type of these tractors, giving it heavy armor and filling it with machine guns. It was simple enough, after it had been done, but there undeniably was some genius in conceiving the expedient. The tanks have been useful and if details of the late big drive of the British serve to confirm all that has been said in the first blush of enthusiasm of their performances in opening the way for the infantry and cavalry to advance against the powerfully constructed and strongly defended lines of the Germans the tanks will merit all that has been said of them.

There does not appear any reason to question that the use of the tanks in ripping away the maze of barb wire entanglements which lay across the path of the British advance, thus making artillery preparation unnecessary and so permitting the general assault on a wide front to be launched as the surprise that most surely it was, did contribute vastly to the British success.

It is made known that the American armies in Europe will be provided with these armored tractors. It is conceivable that they will be an improvement on the British design, both in mobility and strength, for American engineers excel in that kind of construction, and with plenty of them they may cut a big figure in the war. Nevertheless, it has been made clear on many occasions that the high command of the American army means to place great reliance in its men and their superior practice with the rifle—which, as General Pershing stated not long since, is distinctly an American weapon and one with which Americans have made history. There will be no discounting of heavy artillery, machine guns or even tanks, but Americans can shoot and they can use cold steel with the best of them.

ATTACKING PROHIBITION LAW.

Only the more fatuous have supposed that the prohibition law passed by the legislature last winter would not be forced to a test in the courts. That the liquor traffic in Indiana would let the whole business go by the board without a fight was not to be thought. And the fight is on.

Two brewing concerns and a saloonist in Evansville have launched the attack upon the Indiana dry law and the enactment will have to be defended by the state in all the courts, no doubt, from the tribunal of first instance to the supreme court of the United States. A deal is at stake and the brewery, distillery and saloon interests of Indiana are not likely to let their case go by default.

No one can do much guessing worth while as to what will come out of these suits. The supreme court of the state in rather rapid succession nullified as unconstitutional the enactment providing for a constitutional convention and the law granting partial suffrage to women. The friends of both of those measures all along expressed and no doubt felt the greatest assurance that the laws they had labored so diligently to procure would stand the test of the higher courts. Today the advocates and other friends of the prohibition law express an equal degree of confidence that the Indiana enactment to destroy the liquor traffic in the state will be completely upheld. Whether or not they truly feel the confidence they profess we cannot say.

If the prohibition law should be overturned it will merely delay, not avert, destruction of the traffic. There can be no rational denial that the sentiment of the people of Indiana is for prohibition. So long as the people feel that way about it they will continue their assaults on the traffic. If they have placed dependence on a means that at length must be found to lack constitutional warrant, they will go about the matter in a way whereof there can be no question. It also may be consoling to them to reflect that before this great war has gone much farther the federal government may abolish booze and do it purely as a measure of war. Steps in that direction, if not to that end, already have been taken.

There is nothing discouraging in the filing of these suits. The launching of the attack was to be expected. Hope must be pinned to a belief that the legal advisors of the prohibition element knew what they were about when they drafted the law and that the supreme court of the state will so find. The friends of the law will reinforce the state's legal department with all aid and every proper resource that it can be thought will avail in defending the law.

It will soon begin to gravel Lenin, Trotsky and the rest of that red-shirt bunch in Petrograd to find that the allies have counted them and their country out of the game, are preparing to get on with the war no thanks to them and will be ready in due time to do some reckoning up if it becomes necessary. Meanwhile, it opens a new field for the sporty fellows to figure out the natural odds that the Bolshevik outfit will not last long enough to get salaries fixed. That will not much matter, if it is true that the red government has begun to take possession of the banks.

Of course Admiral Capps is sick—at heart, in his nerves and of his job as head of the shipping board. Building the world's ships is a hefty task even for America's finest naval constructor. And that, by the way, doubtless is the secret of the failure of Admiral Capps to completely deliver the goods. He knows how to build the finest warships afloat, but building tubs job-lots is what Mr. Perlmutter would call "something else again."

The assault on the Indiana dry law may be merely that booze wants to have it recorded in history there was no throwing up the sponge, but that John Barleycorn wasn't out till he was counted out. And then again booze, which always has made a specialty of having the best going in the way of legal talent, may have a clear notion of just what it is about.

What the Russ radicals need to sober them and make them appreciate the golden opportunities they are dissipating is about a year of some one of the czars who made Russian history and gave definition to the word despotism.

And it now is about four days—perhaps five—since the Honorable Mr. Alex Kerensky was last heard from. Which is a good while for Mr. Kerensky to be saying nothing whatever.

The Germans are finding that the Italians are about as choice a mess of fighting men as they have been up against in this war. The Austrians learned that long ago.

With Haig's bully drive and Italy's stiff defense there are some compensations for the loss of Russia's doubtful aid.

Interest of America in the Great War

By FRANK J. GOODNOW,
President Johns Hopkins University.

Paris in three weeks, London in three months, New York in three years, was the accepted German program.

The Pan-German propaganda which had been going on for the last twenty-five years proved beyond the peradventure of a doubt that the only reason why the attempt had not been made before to realize the grandiose conception of German world domination is to be found in the fact that those responsible for it were not ready. The day had not yet come. But in August, 1914, it was believed that the hour had struck. A short aggressive and successful war and the dream of centuries would be a reality. Paris in three weeks, London in three months, New York in three years was the accepted German program.

That the Germans might thus dream of world domination we may possibly comprehend. But that the German people should be willing to resort to the practices of which they have been shown to be guilty in order to realize their dream was hardly to be believed. They have, however, under Prussian influence, adopted a philosophy of life which makes it impossible for other nations and people to coexist on terms of equality. The pride indicated in the classic boast of Roman citizenship is almost abject humility when compared with the belief of modern Germans in their superiority to other peoples. For the Roman was willing so long as his political power was recognized to permit conquered races to live in a condition of at least an approximation to social and economic equality. The modern German, however, declares with a contemptuous frankness all non-Teutonic civilization to be unworthy of perpetuation and announces his intention to disperse its degenerate followers to those parts of the earth where they will least interfere with the supremacy of Deutsche Kultur. To him the Teutons are the people chosen of God to redeem the world. Those who resist the will of God are guilty of impiety and for them no fate is too hard. With their no engagement however sacred need be kept. No means is too vile to resort to if it is thought to aid in the accomplishment of the divine purpose. Never since the times of the Old Testament has a nation so despised its neighbors as do the Germans of this day and hour. We must go back to the days of Assyria and Rome to find examples of such treatment of subject peoples as modern German policy presents. Either Germany must be taught to see the error of her ways or we non-Germans must reconcile ourselves to become the submissive slaves of German masters. The fate of Belgium and northern France may well be ours.

But detestable as the German philosophy of life is, no one can doubt the triumphs of Teutonic efficiency. Probably never in the history of the human race has so large a body of men become capable of such efficient action as has the German nation in recent years. From a scientific point of view, from a military point of view, from an economic point of view, from a social point of view, Germany has shown great strength. Opposed by almost the entire world she is still unconquered. To teach her the lesson she must be taught will require the devotion of all the power of those allied against her. The non-German world is, then, at the present time confronted by an adversary who combines unbounding ambition and insufferable arrogance with unexampled efficiency and unscrupulousness without limit. We Americans, far removed as we are from the scene of Germany's first efforts to realize her ambitions, form an important part of the non-Teutonic world. We must not lul ourselves into security because of the remoteness of our geographical situation or the pacific character of our purposes. The Germans of the present day despite our capacity, envy our prosperity, and are not inclined to comply with our desire to pursue the even tenor of our way in the continents which we have colonized and developed.

We have further in German pretensions a direct attack upon the kind of life which we have chosen to live. Two characteristics have distinguished the modern European life in which we have a share. The first is internationalism, the second is democracy.

Internationalism is the solution which we have been endeavoring and successfully endeavoring to reach, of the problems incident to the national state. The most noticeable phenomenon of modern European political life has been the development of the national state. While the ideal of the national state has been only approximately, while all races have not been politically organized, and while some races have found a home in more than one state, at the same time the coexistence of a number of politically sovereign organizations has of itself been a denial of the idea of world domination.

Internationalism is the method which has been adopted for regulating the relations of these separate political organizations. Rules of conduct have been generally adopted to which all members of the family of nations have in the past rendered obedience. The ideal of internationalism has of course not been completely realized, but enough progress had been made prior to the outbreak of the present war to justify the belief that a reasonable approximation to that ideal would ultimately be reached. No country perhaps has in the past century contributed more to the realization of the ideal of internationalism than the United States. This country has always stood for those principles the application of which would, on the one hand, lessen the probability of the development of hostile relations between states and, on the other, would offer a means for the peaceful settlement of such disputes as might arise. America's past history thus causes her to have a peculiar interest in the further development of the principles of internationalism.

The maintenance even of the accepted principles of internationalism is, however, inconsistent with the conception of world control which is at present the mainspring of German policy. That policy cannot recognize any such thing as equality among political groups. All must be subordinated to the one great power. If, therefore, we are to hope for the further development of an international life we must fight to the death German pretensions.

The second characteristic of modern European life has been the development of democracy. Democratic ideas originated in England. They were brought to this country when it was colonized and received a development which was hardly dreamed of in the land of their birth. They spread to France and through France to most of western Europe. The seeds of democratic ideas fell, however, in Germany among the thorns of autocratic government and the thorns sprung up and choked them. Just as the French revolution and the Napoleonic wars brought democracy to most of western Europe, so the present war has given it to Russia, where autocracy in its extreme form had been able to maintain itself.

We have therefore allied against Germany autocracy, practically all of western Europe, together with Japan, Russia, and the United States. If the autocratic governments of the central powers are successful in this war, democracy will be judged a failure and the struggle and agony of centuries will have gone almost for naught.

tim whose fate was due to the fact that beguiled by the fair speech of the oppressor he began too late to fight.

CRUSH THE SPY SYSTEM.

(Toledo Blade.)
Last Sunday night a Great Northern passenger train carrying five hundred soldiers was wrecked. By one of those miracles which are sometimes associated with railway wrecks the casualties were confined to the serious injury of two trainmen and the slight injury of perhaps a score of soldiers.

Railroad officers at St. Paul believe that the mechanism of the last car, occupied by the commissioned men, had been tampered with. Whether this suspicion is warranted or not, it is inevitable that the Prussian spies and plotters in this country, having been given so much rope, should turn their attention to troop trains. They have turned elevators at Brooklyn and stockyards at Kansas City, and escaped scot-free. They have caused a $5,000,000 fire in Baltimore, and not one of them is under arrest. In one month, there have been nineteen fires which destroyed either large stocks of foodstuffs or warehouses filled with munitions. There have been too many such conflagrations, they have been too closely confined to materials affecting the war, to be set down as part of the chronic hazards of fire. No one except a fool would say there was no relationship between this destruction and the spy system.

Lucky with the torch and with dynamite, the spy naturally goes the step farther and tampers with railroad equipment. Lucky in that, he will most certainly see what he can do with bridges and tunnels, with rails and ties.

The country must awaken to this menace. It has been far too careless, too easy going. It is bad enough that we should have to carry on a terrible war in Europe without having to carry on a war against German agents and German sympathizers at home. The spy system must be crushed.

FROM THE SENTINEL PAGES 25 YEARS AGO

John First, of 223 West Washington street, fell and broke his right clavicle the other day. Dr. Haynie is attending the lad, who is recovering.

George Neidhamer, a well known and highly respected citizen, died at his home at No. 53 Melita street, yesterday, of pneumonia.

A Larry Randall celebrated his birthday anniversary Friday and in the evening he was surprised by a number of his south side friends.

Mrs. D. L. Harding entertained Mesdames James Wilding, J. M. Miller, M. A. Eakin and L. Snyder at luncheon in honor of Mrs. E. S. Underhill, who leaves shortly for Toledo to spend the winter with her daughter, Mrs. John Stophlet.

This morning about 5 o'clock Mrs. Dr. Young telephoned the police station that a mad dog had possession of the Young household, on the corner of Taber and Webster streets. Lieutenant Lapp responded and found the dog frothing at the mouth and otherwise acting in a suspicious manner, but the animal quieted down and in a short time was about as well as usual.

A bold and partially successful attempt was made early yesterday morning to burglarize the clothing establishment of J. G. Thiem & Sons on the corner of Columbia and Clinton streets. About the hour of 3 o'clock Night Watchman Madden was making his customary rounds, when he discovered burglars at work in the store. Entrance had been effected at a window in the rear. The burglars had been forced open the window and had then climbed into the store room and partially closed the shutters and put up boards on the inside to prevent their light from being seen from the outside. A third man kept watch a short distance from the window upon the outside. Watchman Madden saw the light upon the inside and thinking something was wrong, hurried to the Nickel Plate depot after Officer Harkender, whom he knew would be at the depot at that hour. Harkender and Madden then went back to the scene of burglary, but the burglars had gone.

SOCIETY

Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Reul, of West Jefferson street, announced the engagement of their daughter, Thelma, to Mr. Fred D. Miller, son of Mrs. John W. Miller, of Kendallville. The time of the wedding is not decided upon but will probably take place in the spring. Miss Reul has a wide circle of friends and is known as a charming and cordial hostess as well as a young woman exceedingly fond of her home and of housekeeping accomplishments. Miss Reul went to Washington and spent a few months at the Belmont seminary, specializing in domestic science following her studies in the Fort Wayne high school. Mr. Miller holds a responsible position with the S. F. Bowser company and is prominent in the Fort Wayne organization of which he is secretary.

Miss Anna Koehlinger, whose approaching marriage is causing a circle of her young women friends to entertain in her honor frequently, was the center of a theater party at the Ophium last evening. Afterward, the company of fourteen girls went to Aurentz's where a dainty decorated table with a beautiful basket filled with pom-pom chrysanthemums and white roses with pretty nut baskets of yellow and white and corsage bouquets for everyone as well as another gift for the bride-elect. There are to be several parties during the coming week for Miss Koehlinger.

Is It Hard to Understand?
When a man works every day to support his family and doesn't drink or otherwise waste his earnings, but is still unable to furnish enough for all of them to be comfortable, then winter becomes one long and worried "how." Because it costs a lot to feed a family of several children just potatoes, bread and milk, only a few more to get fuel for just one fire. Then there's rent to pay, because houses can't be had for nothing, and it takes some sort of light in short hour days, and always there's clothing. Even if a man can manage to make his dollars elastic enough to cover the absolute necessities, can he be blamed if he wants a bit of meat or a pound of butter or oleomargarine or a can of molasses? As for shoes—think of paying the cost of three pairs of shoes out of a week of wages at fifteen dollars a week. Not five-dollar shoes either. It is of such farthings and such trifling cases that the Willing Workers know and sometimes take under their sheltering wing and help tide them over the "how" of winter days. Just now the society finds need of clothing, especially for children from one to twelve years of age. Several families are in need of a stove. Mercury dropped to ten degrees last night. Imagine a house with one small cook-stove in it to warm even a five-room cottage. To be sure fresh air is fine for sleeping, but it gets monotonous when one has to eat it for breakfast. Think of nothing getting breakfast of dumplings and milk, potatoes and cheap coffee with from three to six children trying to get warm, washed and dressed in the kitchen at the same time. Then it will be easy to understand the appeal of the Willing Workers, who have looked up every case they try to help and now implore their fortunate brothers and sisters to give stoves, out-grown clothing and cast-off bedding.

Mrs. C. J. Schoo has gone to New Albany to visit relatives for a few days. Mrs. John Felts, of Clifton avenue, will entertain the Athena club on Tuesday afternoon.

Miss Lucille Franke, of Forest Park boulevard, entertains the Qui Vive club at supper this evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank DeWald and Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Lauer are going to Elkhart for a week-end visit.

Mrs. Fred H. McCulloch delivered an address before the Woman's Suffrage organization in Delphi yesterday.

Mrs. Lyman T. Rawles has returned from Fort Riley, Kan., where she visited her husband, Dr. Rawley, at Camp Funston.

Mrs. Tillie Burnell, who has been visiting her nephews, F. B. and C. E. Lowrey, of Detroit, Mich., for a month, has returned home.

Mrs. Nancy Van Swearingen and little daughter, Nancy, left yesterday for Philadelphia after a visit here with Dr. and Mrs. Van Swearingen.

Mrs. C. W. Lang, accompanied by her children and her mother, Mrs. Anna R. Jackson, are going to Pasadena, Cal., to remain all winter.

There will be a meeting of the Council of Jewish Women on Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the new synagogue, corner of Fairfield avenue and Wayne street.

The members of the Big Four club gave a dancing party on Thursday evening in Tanner's hall. This is a newly organized club and the party was a great success. Franklin's jazz orchestra supplied the music.

Mr. and Mrs. O. N. Hart, of Fairfield avenue, have received word from their son, Oliver Raymond Hart, who has been with the aviation corps at San Antonio, Texas, for some time, that he has been sent to the United States Military Aerial school, at Berkeley, Cal., for eight months' training.

Mrs. Maude Pressler and Miss Ivy Schell are to give a dinner party on Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Pressler in Northwood boulevard, in honor of Miss Anna Koehlinger, a bride-to-be, of December. On Wednesday evening Misses Josie Lynch and Elsie Jacobs are to be hosts for a theater party at the Palace for the same bride-elect. Three beautifully appointed parties have been given in honor of Miss Koehlinger this week.

A surprise party was given on Wednesday evening by Miss Anna Schamerloh in honor of Carl Ploor, who is going to Louisville, Ky., on business. The guests were Misses Mathilda Dudenhofer, Lucile Krenke, Lavine Buhler, Alma Rubtz, Selma Claus, Rose Schodenekey, Louise Schamerloh, Martha Kimberger, Mrs. W. Brigg, and Messrs. William Frisig, Davis, Carl and Peter Ploor, George Schamerloh. Prizes in games were won by Messrs. Dudenhofer and Davis. A lunch was served and enjoyed.

The Philanthropic department of the College club, of which Miss Minette Baum is chairman, is highly pleased with the success of the sale of handwork of the blind of the state, that has been conducted at the Wolf & Dessauer store. The largest number of goods as well as the largest amount of money for the benefit of the afflicted inmates of the state institution for the blind people, has been handled and secured through the efforts of the College club. Prof. J. E. Lumley, of Indianapolis, who lectured before the club yesterday afternoon, was enjoyed by a large membership who profited by the stimulating and educational lecture on "Some Steps Toward the Millennium."

The Social Hour club met on Thursday and enjoyed their anniversary dinner at the home of its president, Mrs. Harry Rodgers, 2336 Bowser avenue. This club is composed of mothers who one afternoon in each month cast aside household cares and duties and meet at the home of one of the members for a good social time. The members were all present at this fifth anniversary chicken dinner and included the following ladies: Mrs. Pearl Call, Mrs. Jessie Porter, Mrs. Myrtle McNamara, Mrs. Braun, Mrs. Clara Guenther, Mrs. Dorothy Lyman, Mrs. Thelma Lyman, Mrs. Bessie Rodgers, Mrs. Nora Miller, Mrs. Grace Miller, Mrs. Emma Vincent, Mrs. Mary Rodgers, Clara Porter, Harold Braun, Ralph Call, Kathleen Lyman, Elsie Porter, and Neil Rodgers. Mrs. Edna Burke and Mrs. Lee Wilson were guests. Election of officers resulted in Mrs. Mary Rodgers being re-elected president and Mrs. Bessie Rodgers, secretary-treasurer.

Rietmiller-Brundige.
The marriage of Miss Sidney C. Brundige, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Brundige, of North Wells street, and Mr. William G. Rietmiller, an accountant, took place at the parsonage of St. John's Reformed church Saturday morning at 9:30 o'clock. Rev. H. P. Danneker performed the ceremony and immediate relatives were witnesses. The bride and groom left at once for Chicago and will soon be at home in their own residence in Michigan avenue.

Gave Tea for Miss Faulkner.
Miss Georgene Faulkner, of Chicago, the "story teller lady," who gave two beautiful as well as instructive talks in this city this week, was the honor guest at an informal tea at the Y. W. C. A., following the afternoon talk today in Plymouth church. The hostesses were Chicago National Kindergarten college graduates, who are teaching in this city: Misses Georgia Leedy, Irma Crouse, Margaret Colney, Marian McAuliffe, Dorothy Savers. Miss Faulkner is as charming to meet as she is in her story telling and the tea party was a thoroughly delightful affair.

WITH THE STUDY CLUBS

The Saturday club will meet on Monday afternoon with Mrs. J. G. Thieme. The Round Table club will meet on Monday evening with Miss Loretta Hayes to discuss the history and making of the constitution of the United States.

There will be a meeting of the Travel club with Mrs. M. J. Clear on Monday afternoon.

The Bay View Study club will meet on Tuesday with Mrs. Hugh Olds, 1815 Beyer avenue. Egypt and its monuments, the African chief Bryant and the reading of a "Woman's Part in Government," together with quotations concerning Thanksgiving, will be the program.

The Women's Reading club will meet on Tuesday for its fortnightly Red Cross work.

Dr. George S. Bliss will read a paper before the Fortnightly club on Monday evening on the subject of "Feeble-mindedness as a Social Problem."

Women Must Decide About Sunday Working

By REV. CHARLES STELZLE.

Let's put it down at the outset that knitting sweaters and socks for soldiers is a "labor of love" as well as of necessity. And the need is so great we can't regard ordinary "Sabbath observance" rules as final.

The women who knit have always cooked our meals on Sunday. They have been busy about a lot of things justified by "the law of necessity." Although much of their Sunday work has been due either to mismanagement or their families' selfishness.

The soldiers need sweaters much more than most of us need special meals and personal service on Sunday. Therefore, if it's right that women should do Sunday work for us under normal conditions, they should knit for the soldiers on Sunday—if they wish.

But there are other considerations, and we may as well be honest with ourselves regarding them. Much as our boys need sweaters, they need bullets more. And England has discovered a seven-day week is bad for munition workers, and our government is insisting upon an eight-hour day, even on war jobs.

It's true that women who knit sweaters don't work as hard or as steadily as munition workers. If they do work as hard, they have no more right to knit sweaters on Sunday than the munition workers have to work seven days per week; and if they don't, why can't they put in more time week days so they won't be compelled to knit on Sunday?

Honestly, isn't it true many women knit on Sunday because it's a pretty good way to pass the time? Couldn't they turn out as much if they knitted more systematically during the week? This doesn't apply to women whose work occupies every week-day moment.

(Officially Prepared for the Sentinel by the U. S. Food Administration.)

These menus do not aim to make Thanksgiving a "fast" day, because that is hardly the idea of the food administration, in asking the people of the United States to eat "wisely and without waste."

It is not necessary that anyone should be deprived of the needful amount of food. As a matter of fact it is very like the situation in the old fairy story, when the old peddler called to Aladdin's wife, "New Lamps for Old." We are calling to the citizens of the United States, "New Food for Old," but in this case they will find that to which they have become accustomed.

Briefly, we should try in all our recipes to use other cereals in place of part of the wheat flour; syrups, molasses, and honey, as well as dried fruits should furnish sweetening wherever possible, thus sparing the sugar; butter should be replaced in all recipes with other fats; whipped cream desserts so common in the past must be given up for the present for there is a scarcity of cream and it should be used to produce butter whenever possible. Local produce should be given the preference over food that must be brought from a distance.

The following recipes of foods in the above menus:

Scotch Bread.
One cupful liquid, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 cupful rolled oats, 1-4 yeast cake, dry or compressed, in 1-4 cupful lukewarm water, 2-1-2 cupfuls white flour.

Scald the liquid, add salt, and pour over the rolled oats. Add yeast, and let it stand 1-2 hours. Add sifted flour, knead, and let rise until double in bulk. Knead again, let rise in pan till light. Bake in a moderate oven from 50 to 60 minutes.

Corn Meal Crust for Pumpkin Pies.
Grease a pie tin. Cover it with corn meal by shaking with a rotary motion. Have corn meal covering pan to a depth of 1-16 to 1-8 inch. Fill with pie mixture. Bake.

Corn Meal Yeast Bread.
One and one-quarter cupfuls liquid, 1-2 teaspoonfuls salt, 2-3 cupful corn meal, 1-4 yeast cake, dry or compressed, in 1-4 cup lukewarm water, 2-1-2 cupfuls flour.

Pour the liquid over the corn meal and salt, and heat to the boiling point. Cook 20 minutes in the double boiler or over hot water. Cool, add yeast and flour, knead, let rise till double in bulk. Knead again shape into loaf and let rise in the pan until the bulk has again doubled. Bake 50 minutes.

Apricot Chess Pies with Oatmeal Crust.
Two cupfuls fine ground oatmeal 1 cupful boiling water, 1 teaspoonful fat.

Scald oatmeal with water. Add fat and mix thoroughly. Roll very thin and line small pie or tart tins with the mixture. Bake lightly, fill with apricot marmalade. Top with meringue if desired.

Corn a la Southern.
One cupful dried corn, 2 eggs, 1 teaspoonful salt, 1-2 cupfuls cornmeal, 1 pint scalded milk.

Soak the corn in warm water until it has absorbed all the liquid possible. Add slightly beaten eggs and other ingredients in order given and bake in slow oven until firm.

Rye Bread.
One cupful liquid, 1 teaspoonful salt, 1-4 yeast cake, dry or compressed, in 1-4 cupful lukewarm water, 2-1-2 cupfuls rye flour, 2-1-4 cupfuls white flour.

Scald the liquid, cool till lukewarm, add salt, yeast, and sifted flour. Mix thoroughly, knead, let rise till double in bulk. Knead again, shape into loaf, and let rise in the pan until the bulk has again doubled. Bake 50 minutes.

Honey Dressing for Fruit Salad.
Two egg yolks, 1-2 cupful strained honey, 1-2 cupful vinegar, pinch of salt, whites of 3 eggs from church. Perhaps she can do both at the same time. But most people cannot worship while others are knitting.

And the minister can't preach as effectively to an array of socks and knitting needles as he can to a congregation of upturned, eager faces.

After all, Sunday knitting—like most other aspects of the Sunday question—must be settled each one for himself. There are too many exceptions to lay down an arbitrary rule.

THESE ANKLETS WILL KEEP YOUR ANKLES WARM IF YOU'LL LET THEM

Gaze upon these "anklets" and see another novelty of the season's strange modes. These "anklets" are destined to keep warm that portion of the foot that hovers between covering and uncovering. They should prove of great value to the lady who in winter just "do-leave" the wearing of coats over dancing pumps.

Beat egg yolks slightly, add the honey, salt and vinegar. Cook in double boiler until it thickens. Beat with egg beater as it thickens in boiler so that it will be smooth. Cool slightly. Fold in the stiffly beaten whites. Garnish with canned red cherry when it is added to the salad.

Plum Pudding.
One cupful dried bread crumbs, 1-2 cupful vegetable oil or hardened vegetable fat, 1 cupful corn syrup, 1 cupful seeded raisins, 1 cupful currants, 1-2 cupful finely cut citron, 1-2 cupful finely cut figs, 1 tablespoonful candied lemon peel, 1 tablespoonful salt, 1-4 teaspoonful cinnamon, 1-4 teaspoonful cloves, 1-4 teaspoonful ginger, 3-4 cupful fruit juice, 1 cupful flour.

Mix in the order and add enough cold water to make a stiff mixture. Turn into a well-greased pudding mold or into two smaller molds filling the molds only two-thirds full. Cover the mold tightly and place in boiling water and boil 6 to 7 hours. Remove the pudding from the mold when cold. This may be made two weeks before Thanksgiving, but must be reheated by boiling 1 hour just before serving. Serve with pudding sauce.

Cranberry Ice.
Make the cranberry ice by using 1 cupful corn syrup, 1 cupful water, 2 cupfuls of cranberry pulp and liquid and 2 tablespoonfuls lemon juice.

Cranberry Sauce.
Sweeten the cranberry sauce with corn syrup instead of sugar.

Baked Rabbit.
Prepare and skewer rabbit for roasting. Make stuffing of bread crumbs, softened with milk, seasoned with parsley, marjoram, thyme, nutmeg, salt and pepper, and with 1-4 cupful shortening added to other ingredients. Stuff the rabbit and sew up. Precede with flour and shortening and baste frequently. Roast 1 hour. Serve with parsley sauce.

Forecasts Till 7:00 P. M. Sunday.
For Fort Wayne and vicinity (radius 20 miles): Fair tonight and Sunday; continued cold.

For Ohio: Fair, continued cold tonight and Sunday.

For Indiana: Fair tonight and Sunday; continued cold.

For Lower Michigan: Partly cloudy tonight and Sunday; not quite so cold tonight northeast portion.

Shippers' forecast (radius 200 miles): Protect shipments during the next 24 to 36 hours from temperatures as follows: North, 15 to 20 degrees; east and west, 20 degrees; south, 20 to 30 degrees.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.
The pressure is low on the north Atlantic coast and over the plateau region, with a ridge of high pressure reaching southward from Manitoba to the Gulf coast. Except that scattered precipitation occurred at widely scattered stations in the northwest and snow in the upper Ohio valley, and thence northeastward, the weather has been generally fair during the last 24 hours. Moderate temperatures obtain in western districts, but over quite an extended area from the lakes southward to the Gulf coast the weather is considerably cooler than the normal, with freezing temperatures as far south as the northern portion of the Gulf states.

HINTS OF SUMMER ON A WINTER'S DAY

One glance at this summery costume of white carries the thoughts ahead to the time of roses. The garden hat is covered with crocheted work, the blouse of filmy crepe is enriched with fillet, and the skirt of white tussah silk is stenciled in brilliant flowers which defy winter winds with summer cheer.

SUGARLESS DAYS FOR FORT WAYNE PEOPLE

Outlook for New Supply Not Very Encouraging Say Dealers.

Sugarless days will be observed by Fort Wayne people quite frequently in the future, because of the scarcity of freight cars. One pound of sugar to a customer was all that most grocery keepers were able to sell Friday, and today few of them are able even to sell that. Wholesale grocers have little hope of obtaining a supply within the next few days, and it is evident that sugarless dishes will appear upon many tables.

The outlook for the future is far from encouraging, cane sugar is a negative quantity and beet sugar will also be a thing of the past before the end of January. At present there is a considerable supply of beet sugar but it is impossible to obtain it because of the lack of cars. The Cuban crop is not only doubtful, but later than usual.

TRIES TO SUICIDE
BY HACKING WRIST

Jacob Schmidt, the drunk arrested for uttering decided pro-German statements, attempted to end his life in a novel manner Friday evening. When locked in jail Schmidt's belongings were taken from him, but he was permitted to retain his watch. His jailer arrived at Schmidt's cell Friday and found the man hacking his wrist with the lid of his watch which he had removed. Although blood had been drawn his injuries were not serious. He was removed to the hospital ward of the jail. Schmidt is in a very weakened condition owing to his long drunk.

Francis J. Wallis, of Pittsburgh, Wis., age fifty, tried to enlist in the engineers corps, but was refused because of his age. He then sold his property and bought $9,500 worth of liberty bonds.

Tells How to Stop a Bad Cough

Something results from this home-made syrup. Easily prepared and costs little.

If you have a severe cough or chest cold accompanied with soreness, throat tickle, hoarseness, or difficult breathing, or if your child wakes up during the night with croup and you want quick help, just try this pleasant tasting home-made cough remedy. Any drug-gist can supply you with 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex (60 cents worth). Pour this into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Thus prepared, you have a pint of really remarkable cough remedy—one that can be depended upon to give quick and lasting relief at all times.

You can feel this tale hold of a cough in a way that means business. It loosens and raises the phlegm, stops throat tickle and soothes and heals the throat and bronchial tubes with such promptness, ease and certainty that it is really astonishing.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and is noted for its speed in overcoming severe coughs, throat and chest colds. Its millions of enthusiastic users have made it famous the world over.

There are many worthless imitations of this noted mixture. To avoid disappointment, ask for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. This is no bluff. Preparation, The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

"Grown Up Babies" Tomorrow.

One of the successful new offerings of the season will be the attraction at the Majestic tomorrow when the Vail Amusement company will submit for approval their latest production, entitled "The Grown Up Babies." In which fifty or more experts, mostly girls, will provide two and one-half hours of unalloyed amusement of a distinctive and appetizing quality. Harry Koler heads the cast of principals, while the Six Diving Nymphs and the Hawaiian Mossy Mussy dance are conspicuous in the vaudeville portion of the program.

May Robson Coming in a New Play.

The coming of May Robson in "A Little Bit Old-Fashioned" to the Majestic Saturday night, Dec. 1, is being eagerly anticipated by those who love this charming comedienne. Her admirers will not be disappointed for "A Little Bit Old-Fashioned" is conceded to be the cleverest play this artist has ever had. It is a delightful story of birth and sentiment which is embellished with flashes of wit and wisdom. The working out of the plot is replete with humor, pathos and moments of wildest hilarity, while interest is sustained from the first moment to the last. The play is clean, clever and up-to-date and affords an evening of joyous entertainment.

The role of the old-fashioned wife, portrayed by Miss Robson, is rich in opportunities for the quick transitions from joy to sorrow so tellingly employed by this comedienne. Augustus Pitou, who is presenting Miss Robson this season, has surrounded her with a cast of well known players and mounted the play lavishly.

AMERICAN COMEDY.

Joe D'Arcy's Rough and Ready Singing Comedians at Palace.

Joe D'Arcy's American Comedy Four, a singing quartet of slam bang comedians, whose nutty fun antics never fail to tickle an audience, and whose close harmony is a treat to music lovers, will feature the bill opening Sunday afternoon for four days at the Palace. These absurd comedians have been singing together for years and their present act is the result of close observation of just the stuff that appeals most to a vaudeville audience.

Ernette Asoria and company, a trio of exquisite dancers, a man and two lovely girls, will present an arrangement of classical and novelty numbers, beautifully staged in a delightfully costumed. Richard Carroll, Joe Roddy and Emma Hayner have a bit of travesty in store for the fans in their Handkerchief No. 15, a story of a married man who impersonates the Caliph of Bagdad and fares forth in the search of nocturnal adventure. He finds it in chunks, his mother-in-law furnishing some of it. Johnny O'Connor and Frank Dixon's bit of high speed fun, Hired and Fired, is a snappy lot of comedy talk about a janitor and his inability to "janit." Eddie Noyer and Rosa Danie's "At the Wistaria Inn," is an original singing, dancing and talking skit with some exceptionally witty lines. The Aerial Mitchells in their athletic triumph, a comedy revolving break away ladder stunt and the Buch Brothers in a bang up fun festival, complete this bill.

The current program, which closes this evening, includes Hugo Jansen's Fashion Shop, with its Broadway Models; Leavitt and Lockwood, a pair of hilarious funsters in a brilliant bit of comedy talk and song; Bob Zeno and Eva Mandell in their talking and instrumental laugh skit, "At the Bee Hive"; Hugh McCormick and the lovely Grace Wallace in the ventiloquial turn, "The Theatrical Agency"; the Four Ankers in novelty gymnastics and the DeLuxe Trio in songs, dances and impersonations.

WILSON'S STOCK FOR SALE.

Columbus, O., Nov. 24.—Now that it is assured that the American association circuit will remain intact next season, Joe Tinker, president and manager of the Columbus club, will attempt to sell some of the stock held by Thomas E. Wilson, the Chicago packer, to Columbus citizens.

"I did not feel like asking any Columbus people to make an investment until I was certain no changes were to be made in the circuit," Tinker said. "Mr. Wilson, as is generally known, owns most of the stock. It will be a good thing for the game to have it owned by Columbus business men."

Tinker denied that he was considering the St. Louis Americans or any other than Columbus next season.

RIGHT OFF THE FILM

A camp is being built at Hoquiam, Wash., where George Beban and his company will spend a month taking scenes of his forthcoming production, "Judge of the Strong Heart."

Richard Ordynski, director of the Metropolitan Opera house, New York, has been engaged by Fox to play opposite Theda Bara in a new production, "The Rose of Blood." Mr. Ordynski wrote the scenario.

Maie Murray has purchased a ten-acre ranch near San Bernardino, Cal. There is a comfortable house on the place and quite a large garden. Miss Murray is having an outdoor swimming pool constructed to which water will be carried from Arrowhead Springs in the San Bernardino mountains.

Robert Louis Stevenson's dearly loved book, "Treasure Island," is to be the next screen vehicle for the Fox film kiddies. Francis Carpenter and Virginia Lee Corbin will play the leads.

Under the tutelage of Miss Kathleen Clifford, "Patty" Arbuckle has learned how to knit.

Emmy Wehlen has gone south to take a much needed rest before starting work on her next production.

Billie Rhodes heard a funny noise in a hollow tree not far from her home and undertook to find out the cause. She found a "bee tree." She tried to smoke the bees out by burning a lot of smoking tobacco in a hole at the base of the tree, and succeeded so well that for a week Miss Rhodes stayed at home while her maid applied cooling embrocations where they were most needed. Miss Rhodes insists that the joke was on the bees, for when the tree was cut down she found eighty pounds of brown honey.

Bessie Barriscale is looking for another home. She figured that living in a flat would be a change, especially as servants are hard to keep. But expectations have not been realized, and she has decided that there is no place like home.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Robert K.—There is very little opportunity for a boy of fifteen in the moving pictures. In fact, it may be stated there is none at all.

Mildred—Theda Bara played in "Under Two Flags" and is now doing "Du Barry." Creighton Hale is now appearing in "Seven Pearls."

Alice D.—Jack Holt is still with Lasky and Earle Fox with Goldwyn.

Vera L.—Francis Ford and Grace Cunard are both back at Universal City but in different companies.

Grace W.—Billie Burke was christened Ethel Burke. She is 31 and Anita Stewart is 20. Thomas Meighan is the husband of Frances Ring, the sister of Blanche Ring.

A. F.—Charles Ray is 26 years old, married, lives in Los Angeles and his auto is a Vesper, at present, or something like that. Yes, he has been seen here at the Jefferson.

Miss G. W.—Mary Pickford is an inch taller than Marguerite Clark, who is an inch under five feet.

Irene J.—The baptismal name of Mary Miles Minter is Juliet Shelby. Baby Marie Osmond works on a salary and percentage basis.

COME WEDNESDAY TO AVOID CROWDS

Outside Patrons Like the Suburban Shopping Day Plan.

The Fort Wayne merchants who have adjusted their plans to meet the demands of the people in buying conservatively, are finding that the thousands who are now coming to the city from outside towns and farming communities are delighted with the idea of having a mid-week shopping day—Wednesday—in which they have especially attractive inducements for trade, and enable them to transact their business in greater comfort than can possibly be done on Saturday when the town crowds are on the street and in the stores.

Suburban day has been welcomed gladly on this account. The people are choosing carefully everything they buy. In order to do this, shopping must be done under the best of conditions. These conditions prevail on Wednesday of each week through the combination of special prices for the day and the absence of the congestion which prevails when the city crowds are downtown. The easy means of travel make it possible for the family to make two profitable trips to town each week—on Wednesday and Saturday—the latter being devoted largely to amusements, if they wish, while the former can be set aside to the business of making money saving purchases.

HIBERNIANS HONOR DEPARTED MARTYRS

Wearers of Green Assemble to Hear Popular Countrymen Eulogized.

Division No. 1, Ancient Order of Hibernians, held memorial services for three Irish martyrs, Allen, Larkin and O'Brien, at Library hall on Friday evening. Hon. William P. Green presided as chairman and introduced the speaker of the evening, Claude G. Bowers. Mr. Bowers' address was a pleasing one and combined the patriotism of the dead Irish patriots with the names of patriotic Americans such as Anthony Wayne and Commodore Barry.

A musical program followed the address. Miss Elizabeth Summers delighted her auditors with the song, "Where the River Shannon Flows." As an encore she gave, "There Is Something in the Name of Ireland." Miss Helen Keller, pianist, and Miss Helen Brown, violinist, accompanied her. Miss Brown also gave several violin selections. The program was opened by a piano selection, "National Airs," by John Wemhoff.

BEAUTIFUL MODEL SAYS: "BEAUTY IS A CURSE—IT CAN NEVER WIN LOVE"

MRS. J. P. SIMMONS.

Special Dispatch from

FREDERIC E. HAMLIN.

New Orleans, La., Nov. 23.—It has taken the "most beautiful model" just nine months to find out again, she says, that beauty can't win love.

"It's a curse," says she.

"I'd rather be the ugliest woman in the world than have the reputation of being the most beautiful model.

"If I were ugly, I'd have nothing to worry about."

And these are just a few of the sayings of Mrs. J. P. Simmons, divorced wife of Abo Hanmerstein, son of the theatrical king of New York, and now

wife of a piano store owner of New Orleans.

Mrs. Simmons, who has just charged her husband with threatening to kill her, declares beauty is responsible for her trouble.

On the other hand, Simmons charges his wife has tired of him, has ruined his business and has driven him into bankruptcy by her desire to have her own photoplay company.

While awaiting trial of the criminal case, which will undoubtedly be followed by divorce proceedings, Simmons is continuing to act with his wife in a film he had started.

"I've appeared in all but the last few scenes and I might as well see it through," said Simmons.

MISTER TROTZKY SEES A COLLAPSE OF WAR

Wooly Speech Made by the Bolshevik Minister of Foreign Affairs.

London, Nov. 24.—The Daily Mail

in its issue this morning prints a dispatch from Petrograd which reports

the salient features of a "violent, den-azational speech" by Leon Trotzky, the Bolshevik foreign minister to the workmen's council. The speech, says

the correspondent, was made possible

only by the level of intelligence of the foreign minister's audience. Trotzky

gave indications of how the allies and the enemies had received the peace proposal. He dealt blows all around,

his only bright hope being Italy, whom he considered out of action, owing to her loss of artillery. England, who was the ringleader of the whole move-

what she could get, according to the speaker. France's reply was in the form of Clemenceau's middle class,

imperialistic cabinet but the French people were looking for only a reasonable way to end the war with some claim of victory in order to justify their entrance into the war.

The United States only entered the war because she was forced into it by her capitalists, he declared, and as she did not desire territory, she probably would regard with favor a Russian government composed of workmen and soldiers.

Germany rejoiced in the further weakening of the Russian army's strength, but Philip Scheidemann,

president of the social democratic party had resolved to declare open

opposition to the German government and to force it to declare peace, he

CAPTAIN BROWN SPEAKS ON TRENCH LIFE

Large Crowd Hear Noted Recruiting Agent at the Elks' Temple.

The United States is fighting in the present war with her allies for a common cause and not as a help to England alone, was the principal point in the address given by Captain L. B.

Brown, of the Royal Highlanders. Captain Brown is the English recruiting officer for Indiana and came to Fort Wayne to enlist any British subjects who may reside here.

Probably the part of his address of the most interest to Fort Wayne people was that concerning our boys in France. In speaking on this subject

Captain Brown said: "There is some rumor that the American troops are being used to fight while the British troops rest upon their laurels. This is not true. He vividly upon the horrors of warfare and the suffering to be undergone by our men. No sacrifice by the people who are privileged to remain at home is too great, said

Captain Brown, in comparison to the sacrifice made by the boys at the front.

Dr. O. D. O'Dell, Presbyterian pastor, of Indianapolis, and recently chosen chaplain of the new regiment of the Indiana home guard. Dr. O'Dell is an Englishman and he made a brief address preceding Captain Brown. A feature of the evening was several reels of film showing trench life.

PETITION PRESIDENT

W. C. T. U. Wants Liquor Kept from American Soldiers in France.

ALL-DAY SESSION IS HELD FRIDAY

Reports Are Heard from Each of the Unions in the County.

The Allen county W. C. T. U. institute after an all day session came to a close Friday night at the assembly room of the court house. Mrs. W. C. T. U. gave the opening prayer and Mrs. Bessie Crowe led the devotion. After the song "America" by the audience, Mrs. M. J. Ridenour, county president, appointed Mrs. O. R. Kelsey as secretary for the morning's work and organized the following committees:

Union Signal and Young Crusader—Mrs. W. C. T. U. and Mrs. Davis.
Counselor—Mrs. Price.
Press and Publicity—Mrs. J. P. Martin.
Membership—Mrs. Tillie Hostettler.
Resolutions—Mrs. Studebaker and Mrs. Parfield.
Timekeeper—Mrs. Bly.
Question Box—Mrs. Moore.

Mrs. Ridenour gave an explanation of each department and told duties of each superintendent. She said that W. C. T. U. members were found working in every good cause. Mrs. Ridenour stated that for every nickel of revenue the government received from liquor traffic they expended 37 cents, and showed how disastrous such methods would prove in the running of the country.

Mrs. Tillie Hostettler, president of the Crystal Union, then spoke. She told of a membership contest which their union is carrying on continually, and which has added greatly to their membership and enthusiasm. They are also holding Monday night prayer meetings, visiting the shut-ins of their district, and these are meeting with great favor.

Mrs. George Pixley, president of the Frances Willard union, gave a very interesting talk and dwell especially on the great perseverance of her members to accomplish things in the face of many hardships. She told about the alternate meetings of her union being given over to Red Cross sewing and how at the last meeting three dozen bed socks had been made for the soldiers.

Mrs. Daisy Waite, of the Lillian Stevens union, stated that their present aim is to establish a young people's hall and a Loyal Temperance Legion among the children of the Bloomington district. This union is reaching out in its work and doing much good.

Mrs. Christopher, of the Crescent union, told of their plan for increasing membership and that for the young people's hall and the evangelist, hold meetings very soon and give talks regarding the W. C. T. U. Community sewing is also being planned. Mrs. E. M. Price, of the South Wayne union, spoke of the work they were doing and of their great inspiration over Red Cross work.

The song, "Lament the Brothers," was then sung by the audience, and led by those delegates who attended the state convention. Mrs. Joel Welty then spoke of the great merits of the papers, "The Union Signal" and "The Young Crusader." Mrs. Davis, of New Haven, also spoke regarding these papers and displayed some blotters with mottoes bearing on temperance for the children.

After a song entitled "Noontide Hour" by Mrs. Easton, the noontide hour of prayer was held.

Afternoon Session.
In the afternoon the devotions were held by Mrs. Hawk. The superintendents of departments then gave their plans for the new year.

Mrs. Grodrian, of the Loyal Temperance Legion, spoke of their aim being to educate.

Miss Nerhood, of the Soldiers' and Sailors' department, emphasized Red Cross work, especially the making of medicated bandages. She spoke of promoting a higher standard of morals, a White Life for the soldiers, and the work of the Red Cross.

Mrs. Robert Harding then gave one of her splendid talks on Red Cross work. She spoke of the great need of knitted garments and of the large number of soldiers who had already suffered with frozen feet. Mrs. Harding said that we are to help the boys to win, and that we are rendering a noble service to God and our country by working for the soldiers. She showed a number of garments necessary for the soldiers.

At this point the county association voted to give twenty-five dollars towards the Y. W. C. A. fund, this to be used to establish rest houses for the nurses in the camps.

Mrs. Martin, of the Monroeville union, then spoke. She told of their plans to hold a sale at the home of Mrs. Youse, the receipts to be used for the soldiers.

Mrs. Ridenour then expressed her wish that each local union with their president would organize another union in the county. She spoke of the great need of more unions in the city and surrounding neighborhood.

Mrs. Joel Welty, who has done such fine work among the colored people of the city, then introduced Mrs. Jackson, president of the colored Mothers' club. She told how their club had spent over $150 of their funds last year to assist the needy of their people. Mrs. Jackson said that it behooved each and every one of us, regardless of color, to look after the welfare of the needy. She spoke of greater and better work being done among the colored mothers of Fort Wayne than ever before.

Mrs. Tillie Hostettler then spoke on educational work in the Sunday school. She aims to teach temperance to the children and to make a greater effort throughout the year to prepare for Temperance Sunday. The speaker emphasized the fact that only teachers who are strictly temperate should be allowed to teach the children of the Sunday school.

Dr. Carrie Banning, of the health department, then gave an instructive talk. She said she would like to see medical inspection brought into every school in Allen county. Dr. Banning said that we cannot expect a child to grow up to be efficient when it starts its school work with physical defects.

Of much interest to the institute at this point was the coming forward of little Edward Nix, a small boy who wanted the white ribbon tied on his wrist. Mrs. Ridenour tied the white ribbon and expressed the wish that this child would always be a white ribboner.

Mrs. J. T. Gillum, of the medical temperance department, then spoke of the great injury being done through the use of patent medicines.

Mrs. Lizzie Drake, of peace and arbitration, mentioned the fact that women have been mobilizing in different ways and that we must mobilize Christ's spirit in ourselves. "Christ within me the hope of glory," should be the thought within each one of us and we can then look for peace.

Mrs. S. W. Teeple then gave a reading which was highly appreciated. Miss Mildred Studebaker then rendered an instrumental selection on the piano which was well received by the audience.

Mrs. J. P. Martin, of the press and publicity department, spoke of the power of the press. She said that all successful merchants find it necessary to advertise extensively in the papers and by other means, and that the W. C. T. U. should also deem it essential to do a great deal of press work, also publicity work.

Mrs. Winn, of the Lucy Thurman union, then sang a solo, accompanied on the piano by Miss Goldie Hornady, which was heartily received.

Mrs. J. A. Downing, of the temperance and labor department, who is a professional nurse and visits many homes, spoke of knowing the conditions among the laboring class and how often it is said that the saloon is the workman's friend. She said that we should want to be delivered from such a friend.

Mrs. O. R. Kelsey, of the foreign speaking people department, then introduced Mrs. Grieme, president of the German W. C. T. U. of Hammond, Ind. Mrs. Grieme told of the great good the W. C. T. U. had done for some of the German families of Hammond.

Mrs. Martha Studebaker, of the flower mission, then spoke. She said that a child, a flower and a mother's heart were all three closely associated. Allen county has the state banner for this work and a great effort is being made to keep it. The sick have been remembered by W. C. T. U. flowers and a vast amount of good has been done in this way.

Mrs. J. W. Saunders, of the Lucy Thurman union, then gave a very splendid talk. She spoke of the large number of fine colored people, many of them young folks, coming to the city recently to live, and spoke of the housing problem. Mrs. Saunders told how twenty-one colored people were living in an eight room house. She said that she and those interested in her work were trying hard to save her people from questionable places, such as the open saloon, etc.

Mrs. Ridenour then spoke on parliamentary usage. Mrs. W. A. S. Parry gave a short talk on the personal good that the flower mission has done. Mrs. Parry was superintendent of the flower mission last year and through her efforts and good work helped to win the state pennant.

At the close of the day's work Mrs. Studebaker presented the following resolutions, which were accepted by the institute:

Resolutions Adopted.
The resolutions, copies of which were forwarded to President Wilson and to congress upon its convening, are in part as follows:

"Whereas, The mothers of our land who are giving their sons, and the wives, their husbands, giving their lives for the cause so dear to our hearts; and

"Whereas, We are trying to make the world safe for democracy, we must not neglect to make democracy safe for the world; therefore, be it

"Resolved, That the Woman's Christian Temperance Union in county institute assembled, prays the president of the United States to instruct the war department of France to withhold its arms and help from our American soldiers and to create a clean zone around their cantonments; and

"Whereas, The consumption of tobacco in the United States army and expeditionary forces is increasing in extent, thereby increasing the cost of maintenance of the army and encouraging the vicious habit among our enlisted men; therefore, be it

"Resolved, By the W. C. T. U. of Allen county that the war department of the United States be asked to furnish and encourage the use of curative treatment for the tobacco habit among our soldiers; and, therefore, be it

"Resolved, That the women are cheerfully responding to the requests of the government and observing wheelless and meatless days, we demand that a like request be made of the men to have a smokeless and drinkless day once each week."

The institute closed its work for the day with a play given in the evening by the John Barleycorn Troupe, entitled "The Trial of John Barleycorn." The members of this troupe are T. M. Nantz, who is general manager; Abner Elzey, of Ossian, and the Sahara quartet, which is composed of the following members: Archie Spice, E. C. Monroe, J. W. Robinson and A. M. Houk. The attendance was good and great interest manifested.

Francis J. Wallis, of Fitchburg, Wis., age fifty, tried to enlist in the engineers corps, but was refused because of his age. He then sold his property and bought $9,500 worth of liberty bonds.

MILITARY NEWS

A. W. MILLER WILL BE HOME THURSDAY

Will Arrive With Camp Taylor Team Wednesday Afternoon.

Mrs. H. W. Meyer, 1801 South Lafayette street, is in receipt of the following letter from her brother, A. W. Miller, who is stationed at Camp Zachary Taylor:

"Dear Sister: Received your letter some time ago and was glad to hear from you. I will be home for Thanksgiving. We are going to play football at League park. No doubt you have read about it. As far as I know now we will leave here at 6 o'clock Wednesday morning and arrive in Fort Wayne by way of traction about 3 o'clock and will leave there Thanksgiving day at midnight.

"We played a game this afternoon and was defeated, but that was due to the fact that there were four North-western men and two Wisconsin men playing. We didn't get beat so bad. The score was 21 to 0. We have a good team.

"Well, I have put my name in the third officers' training camp which is to take place here. I have finished my course in the trench work, but I haven't received any grades so far. Well, everything is going fine and our eats are good. For dinner today we had pork chops, mashed potatoes and gravy, hot buns, coffee, creamed peas. I think we are getting good meals. Our mess hall is considered the cleanest one in the camp and our latrine has the credit of having the cleanest barracks in camp. We have an inspection here every week and our company commander inspects our barracks every day. We haven't very many men in our company now—fourteen in all. We are expecting to get more some time around the first of the month. We have a non-commissioned officers' school every night from 6:30 to 8 o'clock and at 9:30 the lights go out.

"There has been some talk of breaking some of the battalions before long, but I don't think we will get 'busted' for we seemed to have one of the best in camp."

the boys get plenty to eat and a good bed to sleep upon. He shows it, too, having gained seventeen pounds while away. He also said false rumors are about, not getting enough to eat. "We got all we want and could get more if we wanted it," he declared. He said one of their superior officers left for France and said he did not know how soon they might be called. He was tendered a surprise Sunday by his parents. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. William Trautman and children, Della and Walter; Mr. and Mrs. George Trautman and children, Frieda and Clarence; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Crise and son, Howard; Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Bengnot and son, Jene; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bacon and children, Erwin, Harvey and Elsie; and the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Trautman, 1213 Will street.

BLUFFTON BOYS GET COMMISSIONS

Liberty Center Young Man Fails on Account of His Height.

Bluffton, Ind., Nov. 24.—Bluffton boys will fare well in the giving out of the plums at the officers' training camp at Fort Benjamin Harrison Monday. Publication of the appointments

Two General Electric Employees Who Have Gone to Country's Support.

The above picture represents two former employees of the General Electric works who are now in the quartermaster department of the government service.

Miss Mathilda Boyce, of 183 East Leith street, a clerk in the receiving department of the General Electric works, where the writer of the letter also was employed in a clerical capacity before enlisting in the army, is in receipt of a letter from Roland Leidolf, which reads in part as follows:

"Dear Till—Received your letter the other day here in France, where I am now safely located. I surely was glad to hear from you once again. This country is very beautiful and I am enjoying it very much. Have not been assigned as yet but will be soon no doubt. We are having fine meals, fine place to sleep and, of course, I am feeling fine too. Our trip over was very interesting, but we had a few stormy days. Cannot tell too much, as you know. I will visit your brother the first opportunity, but think the chance of doing it is doubtful. My address is Q. M. C. American Expeditionary Force."

was not to be made until Monday, but Bluffton men who were down at the camp yesterday brought back news of the appointments.

Fred Sale, son of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Sale, received a second lieutenantcy in the field artillery service.

Marion O. Reiff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Manson Reiff, was appointed first lieutenant in the infantry division.

John E. Swain, son of County Commissioner and Mrs. Henry Swain, was also appointed a first lieutenant in the infantry.

Hugh Thornburg, of Muncie, formerly of this city, also received a first lieutenantcy.

Justin Merriam, of Liberty Center, according to word brought back, failed on account of height.

This news speaks well for the Bluffton boys at the camp, showing 100 per cent. efficiency, as all three of them received a commission.

Emmett Stout, Field Bailey and Cassin Crim, other Bluffton boys, received commissions in the first officers' training camp.

Chas. Meredith, of Poneto, also received a commission in the first camp. Several Bluffton people visited the camp yesterday, among whom were: James W. Sale, Claude Cole and Dr. C. E. Fulton. The car on which they returned last evening was stalled about an hour at Montpelier on account of a burned out motor. They were forced to wait there until the next car came along.

THIRD TRAINING CAMP OFFERS OPPORTUNITIES

Number of Concordia Students and Graduates May Go—Opens January 5.

A number of Concordia students and graduates will go to the third officers' training camp, which opens January 5, 1918. All who go must enroll by December 1. All of those who are enrolled will take the examination given in Fort Wayne on December 3. The opportunities for commissions are excellent.

Only those who have had instruction in military science and men who have been in the regular army are eligible to make application to the third training camp. The quota of Concordia college is twenty principals and twenty alternates. Applications can be received from the examining board, officers' reserve corps, Commercial club.

English Recruits.
Sergeant Arthur Turner, of the local recruiting station, has announced that Canadian and English subjects desiring to get into the service of Great Britain may enlist at the local station. These men will be sent to the English recruiting officer stationed at Indianapolis.

Five men left for the army, Friday, two to the engineer corps, one each to the medical reserve, coast artillery and aviation service.

our patriotic and ambitious men are signing: Sir—I have the honor to apply for a commission— In the signal corps of the army. In the aviation section of the above, non-flying. In the aviation section of the above, flying. In the aviation section of the above, aerial observers.

The examining board at the Commercial club has been very busy receiving applications every evening from 7:30 to 9:30 and will continue applicants until further orders are received.

RALPH L. COREY IS GIVEN COMMISSION

Ralph L. Corey, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Corey, 137 E. DeWalt street, has been commissioned a lieutenant in the division of aeronautical engineers, signal corps, U. S. A. He has been ordered to report to Washington, D. C., and left on Friday for that point. While in Fort Wayne he has been assistant to the general sales manager of S. J. Bowser & Co. Another son, Walter C. Corey, is at Camp Funston, Fort Riley, Kan.

EX-PREMIER IS ACCUSED

Former Head of French Government Charged With Crooked Part.

M. HERVE OPENLY ACCUSES CAILLOUX

Declares He is a Craven Peace Hunter and Pal of Bolo Pasha.

Paris, Nov. 24.—Under the bold caption "J'accuse M. Caillaux," Gustav Herve, in La Victoire, charges former Premier Joseph Caillaux with being the center of the whole campaign for a dishonorable, ruinous peace.

M. Herve charges the former premier with having consorted during his stay in Italy with all the notorious "defeatists" and neutralists, his assertions to the contrary notwithstanding; with having not merely a social acquaintance with Bolo Pasha, but with having been his devoted friend and indefatigable protector; with having been the evil genius of Almerenda, the editor of the Bonnet Rouge, who died in prison while under charges, guiding and encouraging him in his "defeatist" attitude and drawing him on to his doom.

MRS. H. ZUMBROE HIT BY HURLING ROCK

Explosion Crashes Rock Through Windshield of Machine, Causing Injury

Mrs. H. Zumbroe, wife of Harry Zumbroe, embalmer for Kiehn & Melching, was seriously injured Saturday morning when a particle of building material struck her in the face, near the old Hope hospital site. Mrs. Zumbroe was seated in her car opposite the wrecked building at the time of the accident. Owing to the hardness of the ground, the Arter Construction company is using dynamite to dislodge the material sufficiently for the operation of their steam shovel. An extra heavy explosion threw a considerable quantity of the old hospital foundation in all directions, and a heavy particle was hurled through the windshield of the machine, striking Mrs. Zumbroe above the mouth. She was taken to her home a short distance away and Dr. Ditton was called. Although her injury is very painful no dire effects are expected to result.

REVIVAL SERVICES.

Next week will be revival week at the Crescent Avenue Evangelical church. The meetings each night will be conducted by Miss Daisy Barr. The regular Sunday school services will be held at 9:30; preaching at 10:30; Young People's meeting at 6:30; and the regular evening service at 7:30.

GOMPERS IS AGAIN NAMED

Is Re-Elected President of American Federation of Labor.

ONLY ONE CONTEST FOR THE OFFICES

Dan Tobin Defeats Veteran John B. Lennon for the Treasurership.

Buffalo, Nov. 24.—Samuel Gompers was re-elected president of the American Federation of Labor at the closing session of the 37th annual convention here today.

There was a contest for only one office, Daniel J. Tobin, president of the International Teamsters, being elected to succeed John B. Lennon, for twenty-five years treasurer of the federation. Lennon was renominated on the slate with Mr. Gompers, but opposition to him came from the international unions with headquarters at Indianapolis.

On the roll call the mine workers, machinists, carpenters, Hebrew garment workers, bridge and iron workers and the brewer trades threw their strength to Tobin and he was elected 13,476 to 9,102.

The officers elected by acclamation, in addition to President Gompers, were:

First vice president, James Duncan, granite cutters; second vice president, James O'Connell, machinists; third vice president, William Mahon, street railway employees; fourth vice president, Joseph F. Valentine, molders; fifth vice president, John R. Alpine, plumbers; sixth vice president, H. B. Ferham, railroad telegraphers; seventh vice president, Frank Duff, carpenters; eighth vice president, William Greene; secretary, Frank Morrison, printers.

DROPS FROM WAGON AND RUNS INTO AUTOMOBILE

Harold Ryder Suffers Injuries in Accident on Columbia Avenue.

Harold Ryder, aged 6 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Ryder, 723 Riverside avenue, is in the St. Joseph hospital from injuries received when run over by a machine driven by Archibald Shecker, 315 East Williams street. According to Shecker and witnesses the lad was hanging on the rear of a wagon going along Columbia avenue. As the wagon approached Clinton street the lad slipped and dropped from the wagon and started running diagonally across the street. He evidently became confused for facing about he ran directly into the front of the machine. Both wheels passed over the lad, although the machine was going at a low rate of speed, the driver having brought it into second gear on account of the heavy traffic.

The lad was picked up and rushed to the St. Joseph hospital where at first glance physicians stated that the injuries were fatal. An investigation, however, revealed that no bones were broken, and outside of a few cuts and bruises there were no apparent internal injuries. The lad's escape from death is nothing short of miraculous as both front and hind wheels passed over him and the car is a heavy one.

INCREASED DEMAND FOR KNITTED GOODS

Shortage of Sweaters and Helmets—Local Warehouse Prepares to Ship.

Following the urgent demand for surgical garments and dresses comes an appeal to the Red Cross chapters for more knitted sweaters and helmets, the latter for the aviators. After using all of the sweaters made in the various workshops the Red Cross had to buy 550,000 which they were still short. The demand for 800 helmets and the local warehouse is the only storage place of the state which has any on hand. Indianapolis and Evansville warehouses both being out, and they will ship at once their entire supply.

The workers at the warehouse made their record, from the point of number of boxes of supplies examined and packed in a day. While the workers there prepared twenty-four boxes in the one day whereas the previous limit had been ten. A large corps of workers made this record possible.

The Parent-Teacher club of the Jefferson street school held a meeting Friday afternoon and spent the time sewing for the Red Cross. A number of surgical garments were completed during the afternoon. The Fletcher school of St. Joe township, did their bit when the teacher, Miss Kell, turned over $5 for the Red Cross, and an additional sum of $5 for the care of nurses at the army cantonments.

Clarence Bannet, head of the marketing department of the shipping room at the General Electric works, has gone to Paulding, O. His old home is near the west end.

FRIARS READY FOR ANCIENT RIVALS

Friar-Wabash Game Will Be Most Bitterly Fought Battle of Season.

When the members of the Wabash team lines up on the field of battle Sunday they will find the Friars stronger than they have been this season. The gap in the line at center, caused by Peeney's accident, will be ably filled by the presence of Frank Rydzewski, the star Notre Dame pivot man, who plays his final college game Saturday at Pittsburgh. Rocke, a Notre Dame coach, who has been playing at end for the Friars, together with Rydzewski, will leave Pittsburgh immediately after the game and will arrive in Fort Wayne early Sunday morning.

The game with Wabash will end the Friar schedule as the game at Hammond on Dec. 2 is more in the nature of a post-season contest. The Hammond manager made the local team a tattering offer to appear in that city which the Friars felt compelled to accept. The Clabys would not consent to come to Fort Wayne for a game.

The team which will take the field for Wabash Sunday will present a number of new faces. That they have "loaded" for the game is clearly shown from the fact that a number of bets have already been made on the outcome of the contest. Several $100 wagers have been made and accepted. Rex Miller and Cheesey will appear in the Wabash squad and they are said to be playing a strong game. The identity of several players is still unknown but strong rumors are afloat that they are members of the Hammond Clabys.

As in all previous Friar-Wabash games, the "howling bunch" will be on hand to lead the cheering. Wabash will send a special train of coaches besides the large number who will drive through in automobiles. A number of local routes raised enough money to hire the Elks' band, which will be present to inspire the local warriors.

The advance seat sale shows that the largest crowd of the season will be present. Wabash reserved a block of 500 seats and Huntington, Bluffton and other towns are expected to send cars of followers of the game to witness the contest.

The preliminary will attract a great deal of attention. The game will be between the Tigers and Bachelors. The Tigers have been defeated twice by their opponents earlier in the season, but expect to make a better showing than on the other occasions. The Bachelors are somewhat "peevish" at the fact that many consider the Tigers city champions in spite of their two previous defeats, and will try and run up a big score. The lineup for the Friar-Wabash game follows:

to make a better showing than on the other occasions. The Bachelors are somewhat "peevish" at the fact that many consider the Tigers city champions in spite of their two previous defeats, and will try and run up a big score. The lineup for the Friar-Wabash game follows:

West End Juniors Win. The light artillery of the West End Juniors smashed the lines of the heavy artillery of the key machine All-Stars of the General Electric works. The combined efforts of Trautman and Kramer won the game for the Juniors. The lineup-up was as follows:

West End Juniors: Trautman, fullback; Paulson, fullback; Landenberg, center; Kramer, guard; Roembeck, guard. All-Stars: Wickliffe, fullback; Rockhill, fullback; Georger, center; Bowler, guard; Weckliffe, guard.

INDIANA AND PURDUE MEET AT BLOOMINGTON

Through Loss of Howard and Ewert I. U. Has Been Greatly Crippled.

Bloomington, Ind., Nov. 24.—Indiana and Purdue university eleven will meet on Jordan field here today in their annual gridiron battle with the odds greatly in favor of Purdue. Indiana's team has been badly crippled through the loss of Howard and Ewert, who have been declared ineligible. A strike of the Indiana varsity men because of this loss was narrowly averted Thursday. Special trains from Lafayette and Indianapolis brought the Purdue supporters and the alumni of the two schools to Bloomington this morning.

Before the game an unique ceremony—the hanging of the pictures of all former captains of Indiana athletic teams in the trophy room of the new gymnasium—was conducted with many of the former captains present. One of the speakers was Judge A. P. Twineham, of Princeton, Ind., who played on the first baseball team at Indiana back in the sixties.

ishes the opposition today and the entire seating capacity of the Purple field, 18,000, has been sold out. The probable lineup: Northwestern. L. E. ... Wisconsin. ...

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 24.—Although the western conference championship is settled the football game here today between the University of Chicago and the University of Wisconsin lacked nothing but the assurance of a day field to make it one of the stellar events of the present season. There was some doubt as to the condition of the field, however, and lineups are made contingent upon the weather.

duty, will have only five men in the event. As it is necessary for five to finish to keep the team in the race, Chicago's chances will be lost if one of the runners drops out or even drifts far back in the field.

Prudue, which won the event last season, will be represented by ten experienced distance men. Ames holds the Missouri valley conference championship.

The reservation of tickets for the high school senior play to be given on the evenings of November 28 and 29, at the Majestic theater will be started Monday. Practically all of the seats have been sold, but a few good ones remain.

The cast is holding daily practice and under the able instruction of Charles Franklin has developed into a fine class theatrical company. The heroine, Jean Doeber, is especially suited for the leading role and will assuredly carry her part in the most favorable manner.

COMPARATIVE SCORES CAN PROVE ANYTHING; HERE'S DARTMOUTH VS. PITTSBURG

Every football season the question of comparative scores is exhausted and brought forward and made to prove almost anything. Under the system adopted college may have a better team than the recognized champions when the season is over, regardless of the fact that which has only played one team of any strength and that early in the season.

There is a striking example this year. No critic would claim that Dartmouth could win from Pittsburgh, yet comparative scores would have it that the green is fully as strong as Glenn Warner's Panthers.

Yet, according to comparative scores, the dope would be something like this: W. and J. gave Pittsburgh the hardest game of the season, holding them to a 13 to 10 score and almost tying the score by a field goal which failed by inches. The week before W. and J. was defeated by West Virginia 7 to 0, and a week or so before that Dartmouth defeated West Virginia 6 to 2. Another way of looking at the same situation is that while Dartmouth did not permit West Virginia a touchdown, Pittsburgh had nine points scored against her by the mountain boys.

There are two main reasons why comparative scores are worthless. In the first place some football teams improve faster than others. Some gain their full strength early in the season while others do not.

The other reason, which is most important, is that most coaches begin the season by pointing their team toward one or two important games, usually late in the season. In their efforts to reach the maximum power at that time they often play early games with substitutes and do not receive plays and formation with which they might win or pile up big scores.

W. and J. gave Pittsburgh the hardest game of the season, holding them to a 13 to 10 score and almost tying the score by a field goal which failed by inches. The week before W. and J. was defeated by West Virginia 7 to 0, and a week or so before that Dartmouth defeated West Virginia 6 to 2. Another way of looking at the same situation is that while Dartmouth did not permit West Virginia a touchdown, Pittsburgh had nine points scored against her by the mountain boys.

There will be no winter race meeting in Juarez because Pancho Villa is operating on the border. We thought Pancho had enough enemies without adding the race track touts to the list.

Fred Fulton postponed his bout with Gumbert Smith right after Smith had knocked down his manager, Jim Buckley. Fred probably got heart trouble when he found out a man he was going to box could knock down anyone.

Just when we were about to celebrate over the report that Jess Willard had retired, Jess spoils it all by announcing that he will not retire. He is a safe bet to Willard would retire if the purse was big enough.

"DISGRACEFUL STS" EDDY-TORICUL

The terrible condition of the sts in our midst as we go to press with this issue of the Bugle is a disgrace & a shame & a blot & a sneer on the fair esktuchon of Bingville which it will take us a long time to live down and will cause other surrounding towns whose sts is in better condishun to pint the finger of scorn at us.

The awful condishun of the sts in our midst has been caused largely by the heavy rainfall (mixt with snow on one or two occasions) and as a result the mud in Main st rite thru the town is up to the hub in some places and higher than on you in others.

Miss Polly Ann Whittleby who wassent aware how terrible awful the sts was tript outen her house tother evg jest afore dark to run acrost to Hen Weathersbys store, to purchase some lamp ile and afore she had pergersd haff way acrost the st Polly found herself knee deep in mud and thort she was sinkin to her doom, so to speak.

Polly Ann hollerd "Help!" & "Murder!" & "Fire!" as loud as she could holler afore shed got down for the last time. Well, Lem Brown our expert carpenter who lives next door to Hens store and his wife heard her cries and Lem he rushd outen the house folder by his wife and when he seen Miss Polly strugglin in the mud Lem he throwd all percoshions to the winds being as Polly is turrible plump and buxum & purty for her age and rushd out into the mud and lifted Polly into his manly arms and carried her not only outen the mud but clean up onto the front piazzer of Hens store and tuk his time about settin her down and all the time Lem was carryin Polly Ann he was a whisperin into her ear to keep up and be brave becuz he would save her and to lay her head on his manly buzzum if she so desired.

Of course Lems wife witnessed the hull performants and when Lem went back home she give him a turrible dresdin down so loud everybuddy around heerd whot she said. Lems wife told him he could jest as well of led her out instid of carryin her in his arms in sitch a lovin manner. Missus Brown cald Polly Ann a cat and a minx and a hussy and then busted out cryin and went into the house slammn the door behint her.

Whose falt is it that our sts is in sitch a condishun? Its the falt of our goodd for nollink road sooperviser Arioch Skinner we anser. Sinst Arioch was delected to this important position of trust moren two yrs ago he aint did a lick of work on our sts butt on the contrary has permitted same to go to rack & ruin. It is Ariochs bizness to see to it that our sts is in good condishun instid of being in a impossible condishun and sinst he aint did this in our judgment he ort to be impeachd & kickd outen offis to sombuddy who will do his swore dooty of bust.

These may be harsh words butt we mean evry word of em.

Lokal Jottings

Verily we be standin on the threshold of winter as we go to press. Be you prepared for it?

Mr. Synners dog "Tige" who is subjeck to its had another one of same in front of the P. O. tother evg, and cut up like everthink while it lasted, skeering innocent bystanders from the sidewalk into the P. O. Ab perdicts that ole "Tige" will pass on in one of them fits sooner or later. In our opinion it would be a good thing if "Tige" would pass on afore he bites sombuddy in a fit.

Now that all the corn is husked and the crops harvested some of our farmers is repairing their fences hereabouts.

As for the fences, most of em need it. If you are a gentleman you will pay up your back subscription to the Bugle. If you are a lady you will also. No matter what your sex is we need the money and we dont make no exceptions of either sex.

Lige Henderson made a trip on his bisickel to Hardscrabble last wk and Lige says he walkd most of the way there and back pushing the blamed bisickel the hole way out to the condishun of the roads. Lige ort to of left the bisickel to home in the 1st place.

Eggs is gittin skeecer and skeecer in Bingville and goin up in price all the time. Hen Weathersbys prop of our general store is paying 30 cts per doz for strictly fresh eggs and selling same for 45 cts per doz which is ridiculus in the extreme. Ole Hankins who has more hens and eggs than emnybuddy else in Bingville says he cant afford to ete eggs when he can git so much f r em to the store and that he aint tasted a egg for so long that he wouldnt skeerely know whot one tasted like.

Mrs. Anne Hillier recd a postage card from her sister Clarissa who lives over to the co seat that Clarissa is on the sicklist but not stating the complaint. This was quite a surprise to Missus Hillier who never dreamt but whot Clarissa was in good helth until she recd the postal stating otherwise.

Hez Underwood is a going around with a big red bile on his nose which is sweld up most as big as a goose egg and as red as the back lile on a otty-moebel. Hank Dewberry told Hez he diddnt calclate he needed any lantern after dark being as that bile would shed enuff lite for him to go by. Hez told Hank to go to thunder and that he hoped hed git bites all over hiss-ile for makin fun like that.

Bill Hepburn our artistick blacksmith had a awful sad experients last Satterday when he went to the co seat to licker up as usual. When Bill started home in his spring wagon he put a gal of rum in a jug into the wagon bed behint him and on the way to Bingville when the wagon went over a bounce what did the jug haft to do but bounce out and lite on a stone and broke into smithereens wastin a full gal of good licker. We persoom Bill must of almost set down beside the road and wep.

Mrs. Martha Tucker had the misfortune to burn her cheek with a hot iron while ironing last wk. Martha tuk the iron offen the stove and held it to her cheek to see if it was hot. It was—and Martha was so surprised s e dropd the iron which jest misd her toes by a intell.

Bill Smuggins and Ransie Hillier swoot watches sight unseen last wk butt neither of em got much the worst of it being as Bill got a ole brass case with no works while Ransie got the works of a watch without no case. Ransie threatens to go to law about it being as he says the jest simply the works of a watch dont constytout no watch.

Pull Down the Blinds, Sadie

It has been roomerd that the engagement is broke off betwixt Miss Sadie Perkins one of Bingvilles most estimable yung ladies and Sim Wilkins from down Snake Bend way.

From whot we seen thru the window as we was passing the Perkins residents last Satterday nite about 9 p. M. when Sim was saying goodnite to Sadie we persoom there aint no truth in the report that their engagement is broke off. You ort to pull down the blinds Sadie when you kiss Sim goodnite.

Do It Now

Subscribe for the Bugle at ouct and keep posted up on what is a going on around you and in the rest of the co to say nothink of the times that its to print and some that aint. In fact we dont miss nothink. If we dont git a certain item into the Bugle one wk its becuz we dont hear of it, but we allus do sooner or later and then we print it.

Why do you hesitate to subscribe for the Bugle and pay cash in advance for same? Its jest sitch hesitashun as this which keeps down our circulation.

Come and Get Your Cat

Will the owner of the yaller cat which come to our offis last wk and made itself to home and pesters us whilst we are trying to write news for the Bugle and sets in our paste pot and squalls and yells becuz we dont feed her as often as she thinks we ort to kindly call and take your property back home where she belongs?

This cat is a turrible poor mouser. Tother day as she was layin on the floor a nice run over her twict onct goin and onct comin and all she done was to lay there and look at it in disgust. Besides we already got one cat and two is sooperfuous.

Country Correspondence

HAPPY VALLEY

The corn crop hereabouts this fall aint up to the mark by a good cal being as its mostly runny ears and nubbins. The reason is the frost ketchd it afore it had time to matoor.

There aint as much sickness in our midst as common at this time of yr. Why is this we ask. Usually about this time when winter begins to set in most of us has colds or grips or newmonya or somethink similar butt this yr were all disappinted.

Hen Altman took his wife Sary Jane last Sunday in the spring wagon 9 miles to visit with her sister over Pea Ridge way. It aint offen that Hen gives his wife sitch a splurge as this becuz it wears out his horse harness he says to travel when it aint absolutely necessary. Rufe Peterson while out huntin one day last wk had a deey to jump out rite in front of him. Rufe said he might of shot the critter if it haddent of surprised him so that it never ockurd to him he had a gun in his hands until the deer was outen sight.

Your correspondents Bugle diddnt arrive last wk as usual. As a result several families who allus reads it after we git thru was turrible disappinted. Please dont let this ockur agin.

Jim Synners horse shied last wk and went thru a barbed wire fence. The horse wassent hurt a tall, but Jim was scratched up a good cal. Jim was on the horse.

Molly West persented your correspondent with a mess of sweet pickel recently. Molly makes turrible good sweet pickel if we do say it ourself. Thanks Molly. Ezra Sparrow has been off his feed for a wk or two. Ez thinks he has probly et too much salt pork. Probly, being as this is about all Ez etes.

These are all the items we can recall at this time so we will bring this commoonicashun to a abrupt close. EXCELSIOR.

Births

We take great pleasure in reporting that births has been more numerous in our midst during the past wk than for several yrs according to our calkashions. We mite almost say there has been a epydemick of births in Bingville sinst the last issue of the Bugle come out.

On last Tuesday for instants Mrs. Bale Hawkins persented Bale with a bouncing baby girl. The roomer spread like wild fire all over Bingville that the new arrival to Bales house weighd 16 lbs and consternashun rained soopreme being as the wimmen fokes hereabouts diddnt believe sitch a thing as a new born baby weighink that much could be possibill. Finally Mrs. Cy Hoskins volunteered to investigate the roomer and she cald at Bales and found out that the scales which Bale had used to weigh the baby on was the same which he weighs his butter on for costumners. When the child was weighd on a correct pr of scales it weighd only 9 lbs. Mother and child are doing well but Bale still is a good cal exsited.

On Thursday Doc Livermore our veterinary & lunumg speeshialst was cald in grate haste to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Silas Hoskins on strictly private bizness. Does horse cast a shoe jest as he was startin and by the time Bill Hepburn had shoed his horse and Doc arrived the child was born—a 10 lb baby of the male persuasion we believe altho we aint sure butt will let you know next wk.

On Friday sometime during the night Cy Hoskins old cow "Spot" persented him with a fine speckeld calf which is the living image of its mother exsept smaller. Sex of calf male. Cy says he is turrible glad to see ole Spot come in fresh being as now he can enjoy the luxxury of cream in his coffee mornings and all the milk and butter he wants to drink.

This makes three births in our midst which is all we have heard of as yet. Be that as it may this breaks all records for the past several yrs as far as berths is concernd and we in Bingville may well be proud of sitch a handsome increase in her populashun.

Roomer Aginst Hod Denide

There has been a persistent roomer circled around thru Bingville during the past wk to the effect that Hod Quigly who owes nearly everybuddy in town and whose credit aint worth a toothpick has paid up all his detts in clouding seven yrs. back subscription to the Boogle and that now he kin hold up his head in this commoonity being as he dont owe a ct in the world.

We tuk the trouble to investigate this roomer and find that Hod aint paid a dogladred red cent of whot he owes to a livin sole in Bingville—that hes jest as deep in debt as he ever was and is lookin for a chaunst to git in deeper. As fur as we be personally concernd he aint paid us ennything on his back subscription sinst he subscribed and we calkulates he never will, the disreppyt-able dead beet!

Who starts roomers about Hod emnyhow?

This is to notify whoever it concernd that one day last wk (I dont remember which) I went and lost my ole corncob pipe somewheres butt where is a mystery being as I aint saw hide nor hair of that pipe sinst.

I have smoked that pipe now goin on three yrs and I miss it moren I can tell. I prize that pipe not so much for its intrinsick value as for the historick and meller assoshashions which clusters about it, so to speak and while I cant afford to give a reward for its return whoever does so will be liberally thanked by me and remembered with grattitood as long as I live. If you happen to smell ennythink like my ole corncob pipe please investigate. Bingville. DEACON ANDREWS.

FIRE! FIRE!! FIRE!!!

Being as there is a fire in my store every night so that my customers can sit around the stove and smoke and chat and warm their shins while the wind howls without and the mercury drops in the thermometer, I now offer for sale everything in the line of plain & fancy groceries, drygoods, noshions, hardware, butter, eggs and everything else too numerous to mention which is usually kept in a big merkantel emporium sitch as I run.

How about them mitts to keep your hands warm this winter, or a over coat or a sweater that is garmyted to keep you so warmd hot youll sweat all the time? I also handel ready made clothing, hats, caps, gloves, mittin yarn and nails. Prunes, crackers, cheese and dride herrings. As for my mittin yarn there aint no better to be had any-where. Are you niting anything for the soljers? If not why not?

Only yesterday I got in a fresh barl of molasses which I opend rite off. Hank Dewberry who was present when I opend same said they was the best molasses which ever trickled down his throte, butt Hank led nearly a pint trickel down his throte afore he could tell. Try a qt or a qt or a gal of these molasses before theyre all gone. I persoom they will sell like hot cakes.

Fire! Fire!! Fire!!! Come in and git warm. It wont cost you a cent, butt of course a exp. you to buy somethink if its only some Crackers and cheese or a dride salt herring or two. Drinkin water with the herring FREE.

Yours for bizness,

"Being Penny Wise" Does Not Necessitate Being "Pound Foolish"

To be just a little "close fisted" these days is a sterling virtue—days when we must get the fullest efficiency out of everything, our spendings included.

We have all been a little extravagant—large corporations have sprung up all over the country waxing fat on this one characteristic of the American people.

Now the pendulum must swing back—necessity demands it, not part way but all the way. We know of no better way to start than by opening and maintaining a live bank account.

AMERICAN TANKS TO EQUAL THE BRITISH

Construction of New War Engine Going Forward in This Country.

Washington, Nov. 24.—Tanks for the American army are expected to be as effective in every way as those used by the British in their great drive, it is learned, although no details of construction or as to the number of machines being built were available.

Secretary Baker refused to discuss the subject either in general or specific terms. There is every reason to believe, however, that substantial progress has been made in producing fighting machines that embody all that the British and French authorities have learned of this type of war engine.

It is an open secret that some American officers have not up to this time at least, regarded the tanks as highly desirable for the American forces in view of the difficulties of transportation and the ponderous character of the tank equipment. There also has been some question heretofore as to their actual military value. British experience, past and present, is believed to have made it certain, however, that tanks will do their share on the American lines when a sector in France is taken over by General Pershing.

The tanks developed numerous weaknesses when first tried out by the

NOW SCARLET FEVER AND NOT SMALLPOX

Whitley County Health Officer Makes a Careful Inspection.

(Special to The Sentinel.)

Columbia City, Ind., Nov. 24.—County Health Officer E. V. Nolt and City Health Officer Dr. Ben P. Linvill made a trip to Washington township Thursday afternoon and after a careful inspection of conditions there decided that the contagious disease which has been raging in that locality for several weeks is not smallpox, but scarlet fever. The disease had traveled through the Washington Center school enrollment, and it was deemed unnecessary at this late time to place quarantines. The quarantine at the home of George Alexander has been lifted. It was at first thought the family was afflicted with smallpox, instead of scarlet fever. There are several suspicious cases of smallpox in Columbia City, although no new cases have been reported.

Columbia City Short Items.

Ralph E. Gates, son of Attorney and Mrs. R. E. Gates, of this city, has been sent back to New York city as United States naval paymaster. He will visit the American ports, inspect the pay rolls and recommend and explain the new government insurance.

The funeral of the late Miss Rena Gruesbeck was held Friday forenoon at 10 o'clock at the home of the parents and sole surviving kin, Mr. and Mrs. P. V. Gruesbeck, Rev. J. T. Bean, of the M. E. church, officiating; interment took place in the Masonic cemetery, the pall-bearers being S. E. Kessler, Leonard R. Schrader, Esta Goodrich, Carl Waterfall, W. F. Feaster and Austin E. Overdeer.

Russell B. Clapham was given the work in the Masonic council Thursday evening.

Mrs. T. O. Miller gave a farewell surprise Thursday evening in honor of Mrs. Ernest E. Briegle, who leaves soon to make her future home in Bluffton.

County Agent B. L. Hummel is urging the farmers to take the same care in early buying of seed potatoes as they have done in obtaining seed corn. Several thousand bushels of potatoes are stored or hoarded in Whitley county by farmers who are misled to believe that the price will advance in the spring. Such is diametrically opposite from what will be the case. If the potato price advances beyond what the government will put a curb on it, same as it has done on other edibles. Farmers who have stored potatoes at home can realize best by selling them now to farmers who are in need of seed potatoes, says County Agent Hummel, who will take steps necessary to see that the demand for seed potatoes is met.

Mrs. Charles H. Jones has received a message announcing the death of her uncle, Jack Hite, of Bristol, near Elkhart. Mr. Hite, who was a civil war veteran, and his wife were residents of this city several years ago.

Mrs. Eniel Meyer entertained the members of the Hebrew Ladies' Benevolent society Thursday afternoon. The members of the Six O'Clock Dinner club were entertained Friday evening by Mrs. Sam Trembley.

Earl Oberkiser, so not Mr. and Mrs. Philip Oberkiser, of this city, and a sergeant in Battery B of Fort Wayne, now in France, wrote his parents he had a fine trip across the water, although there were some unavoidable hardships with which to contend. Sergeant Oberkiser has taken out a $10,000 government life policy, but says he does not fear the possibility of actual fighting for some time.

Mrs. Fred Monahan, chairman of the municipal Christmas tree committee, has named the following assistants for this year: Miss Margaret Coyle, Mrs. S. F. Trembley, Mrs. Julius Morsches, Miss Leona Leech, Mrs. Joe Champion, Mrs. Mary Berry, Mrs. W. W. Williamson, Miss Margaret Baker, Mrs. W. H. Waterfall, Mrs. Earl Clark, Miss Thelma Strouse, and Messrs. Archie Smith, C. E. Litch and Alton Beeson. The municipal Christmas tree, with its "Star of the East" and attending program, will be conducted Monday evening, December 24.

W. H. Kissinger has sold his 28-acre farm in Richmond township to Edward Heard and wife for $2,800. From three acres on this land Mr. Kissinger realized 64 tons of cabbage and enough tomatoes on another small strip to net him a check for $528 at a local market.

The chicken supper served at the Grace Lutheran church Thursday evening netted $60 to the Lutheran Mite society.

Over 100 people ate fish Friday in this city—some meatless day!

The funeral of the late Mrs. Isaac Campbell, of Bucyrus, O., occurred Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the M. E. church, Revs. J. T. Bean and L. A. Luckenbill officiating; interment was made in the Lincolnton cemetery.

Edward Auer and wife, west of Peabody, and William I. Mowrey and wife and son, Sidney, leave December 3 to spend the winter at Los Angeles, Cal.

J. Benn Herr, 40, residing five miles northwest of Columbia City, had his left arm torn off a gas engine while he was at work on the same. He sustained several bad bruises sustained to his hands and arms Friday afternoon, when he was jerked from his wagon and landed on the ground after trying to stop a runaway team. The horses started to run when one of them, recently purchased, and an habitual runaway, took fright. Dr. Ben P. Linvill was called from this city.

Mrs. Charles Pelter, of South Whitley, is recovering nicely from an abdominal operation performed at Hope hospital, Fort Wayne. Last Monday evening a supposed invalid woman was placed on a cot in the sub-ward occupied by Mrs. Pelter. The strange woman suddenly became insane, after the attendants had left, and she locked the door and ran around in crazed fashion until the attendants, returning, broke open the door and took her to another ward.

KEEPING TAB ON FOOD.

Indianapolis, Nov. 24.—A plan by which the food administrator of Marion county will know just when every car of food arrives, where it is and how long it has been here, will be put into effect Monday. The railroad

INDIANA PROHIBITION STATUTE IS ATTACKED

Evansville Breweries File Suits to Set Aside the Bone-Dry Law.

Evansville, Ind., Nov. 24.—Three suits were filed in superior court here yesterday afternoon by the F. W. Cook Brewing company, the Evansville Brewing association and Henry Gergenth, a saloon keeper, to test the constitutionality of the prohibition law, which goes into effect April 2, 1918.

In each of the three suits the law is alleged unconstitutional because it abridges the use of property, because the title does not express all matters and subjects in the act or set forth. The act also provides penalties for violation and the power of the general assembly to pass such an act is questioned.

In the brewing company complaint it is set forth the law allows druggists, chemists and hospitals the right to use alcohol and questions the legality of such legislation.

Another paragraph claims the law specifies arbitrarily what a nuisance is, and such specification is unconstitutional.

Both brewing companies assert they have more than $1,000,000 invested in property which would be rendered worthless under the law. A perpetual injunction against Lane B. Osborne, county prosecutor; Sheriff William Habbe and Chief of Police Edgar Schmitt is asked in each suit.

SECRETARY OF STATE TO GET COMMISSION

Indianapolis, Nov. 24.—Edward Jackson, secretary of state, a member of the officers' reserve corps training camp, now coming to a close at Fort Benjamin Harrison, is said to have been informed officially that he will receive a commission as a captain in the infantry. Before entering the army Mr. Jackson held the post of assistant secretary of state to Governor Goodrich his resignation as secretary of state conditioned on his receiving a commission as an officer of the army.

A number of candidates have been active in trying to arrange to be appointed secretary of state when the office becomes vacant. Governor Goodrich, however, never has intimated who will be appointed.

SUGAR SHORTAGE MAY CONTINUE SOME TIME

The shortage of sugar, which is being keenly felt in Fort Wayne at the present time, may continue indefinitely, in the opinion of A. H. Perfect, of the A. H. Perfect & Co., wholesale grocers. There is no relief in sight, he says. The shortage of sugar is general throughout the country.

WAR MOTHER TO BE NAMED

Appointment Will Be Made by the Council of Patriotic Service.

CONSIDERABLE WORK ATTACHED TO JOB

Indiana Ice Dealers' Association Makes Offer to Co-Operate.

The council of patriotic service has received a request from the state council to nominate some mother of a soldier who will have the title of War Mother and who will compile a list of the names of every mother of a soldier living in this county. The council is itself open to nominations. The work will require time and labor for which the reward is the consciousness of doing something to make the lot of the soldier easier.

The Indiana Ice Dealers' association has appointed Bernard Moran delegate from Allen county with instructions to get in touch with the county council of defense and offer to co-operate in regard to measures of economy as they relate to ice and storage plants. The council is reported to be glad to accept this patriotic effort at co-operation for the public good.

In the absence of a law creating a moratorium for soldiers with mortgages on their homes the local chapter of the Red Cross has been requested to extend assistance to debtors when pressed for payment. The matter has been referred by President Mossman to the committee on civilian relief. Any soldier in trouble by reason of his army enlistment over the delay in meeting obligations is requested to report the case to this committee—phone 1944.

PLANS DISCUSSED TO POOL THE RAILROADS

Washington, Nov. 24.—A plan for pooling the entire railway equipment and traffic of the United States was taken up at a conference today between government officials and railroad heads. Congestion has reached a stage, it is realized, where radical measures must be put into force if the country's traffic is to be moved.

Even pooling the tracks and equipment will not be enough, some railroad heads believe, and they have presented to the government a list of more than 500 commodities for which they ask that transportation be denied on the grounds that their movement is not essential to the conduct of the war.

VIENNA SEES BREADLESS TIME.

London, Nov. 24.—Vienna is threatened with a shortage of grain, bread and other foods, owing to transport difficulties, according to reports made at a conference of local food organizations and reported by the Neue Freie-Press and forwarded from Copenhagen by the Exchange Telegraph company. The population, the newspaper said, was startled by the statement that Vienna only had sufficient bread for the next ten days. It was said that sufficient potatoes were available however, to allow each person one and one-half kilograms weekly.

LOSES LOVE; WANTS $100,000.

New York, Nov. 24.—Mrs. Katherine Lloyd Livingston Mollen, wife of Charles S. Mollen, former president of the Northern Pacific and New York, New Haven & Hartford railroads, is named as defendant in the complaint in a suit filed today by Mrs. Margaret E. Brown, for alienation of her husband's affections. Damages of $100,000 are sought.

DEATH FOR A DESERTER

Man in American Army Gets Sentence by Court Martial.

HAD PLANNED TO JOIN THE ENEMY

War Department is Not Yet Satisfied and is Making an Inquiry.

Washington, Nov. 24.—Sentence of death before a rifle squad has been imposed by a court-martial upon an enlisted man of the American army in the United States on his conviction of desertion with intent to join the enemy forces. It was learned today at the war department, however, that officials here are not satisfied from the evidence adduced before the court that intent to join the enemy was established and the trial court has been asked for additional information to clear up this point. The soldier in question is of either German birth or descent, it is understood, although the details of the case, including the name of the prisoner, are withheld.

The sentence of the court-martial will not be executed until approval from Washington has been received because the desertion was not in the face of the enemy.

MILITANTS ARE RETURNED FROM WORKS TO JAIL

Alexandria, Va., Nov. 24.—Twenty-five militants of the woman's party were returned to the District of Columbia jail today, under an order of Federal Judge Waddill, who held that they had been illegally transferred to the work house at Occoquan, Va., on a verbal order of the district commissioners.

FRESH GAINS BY BRITISH SHOWN BY MEAGER WORD

British Army Headquarters in France, Nov. 24.—Meager reports indicate that the offensive may have fallen. According to the latest information Fontaine is ablaze, Bourlon wood, which dominates Cambrai from the west, probably is in the hands of the British this morning.

MICHIGAN COAL OPERATORS GET SOLEMN NOTICE

Washington, Nov. 24.—Michigan coal operators were warned by Fuel Administrator Garfield today that the government will take over and operate their mines if they carry out their threat of refusing to sell coal at the government-fixed prices.

HAVE SMALLPOX NOW UNDER FULL CONTROL

But One New Case of the Disease Reported to Health Board.

That the worst of the smallpox spread is over is firmly believed by the health board. But one new case was reported Saturday and it is but a mild one. Dr. L. P. Drayer stated Saturday morning that he believed that the disease was now under control and that unless the quarantines placed by the health board were broken the chance for spreading the disease was eliminated.

Many people have scoffed at the idea of smallpox, saying that the present cases were nothing more or less than chickenpox. If anyone doesn't believe that it is smallpox that is prevalent let him talk to someone who has been afflicted with the disease, said the health officer Saturday morning. Although it is mild sort of smallpox it is nevertheless smallpox.

The Births.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 24.—Taxpayers and business interests in Gary filed a petition before the Indiana public service commission today against Henry J. Alkers, agent and trustee, and Charles D. Davidson, receiver of the interurban electric line, between Gary and Valparaiso, asking that Alkers and Davidson be prevented from discontinuing traction service between Gary and Wood Junction. No date for hearing has been set. Gary citizens say they fear the traction line is to be abandoned.

SCIENTIFIC JOB IS DONE

Safe Artists Burn Holes in Strong Box of Bank at Dana, Ind.

GET AWAY WITH A NICE FAT SWAG

Acetylene Gas Used to Cut Holes in Safe to the Cash Depository.

Dana, Ind., Nov. 24.—Cracksmen, apparently working with an expert hand, looted the First National bank, of this place, some time during the night and escaped with between $5,000 and $10,000 in currency.

The robbery was discovered when officials opened the bank for business this morning.

President S. E. Scott, of the bank, said he could not say positively how much money had been taken until the funds had been checked up, but estimated it at the above amount.

The robbers gained entrance to the bank by burning off the lock with acetylene gas and to the safe by burning a hole through heavy doors. Reaching through the hole they took the money in gold, silver and bills that was within reach and fled. Four acetylene tanks were left in the bank, but the numbers had been scraped off, leaving no clew as to where they had been obtained.

The robbers left no clew as to their identity. Residents of the town reported hearing an automobile at about 2 o'clock this morning. The bank was well protected, Mr. Scott said, and was doing business as usual this morning.

AIMS OF WAR ARE BARRED

No Place in Conferences of the Allies Now Proceeding in Europe.

HOW TO WIN THE WAR IS ENTIRE PURPOSE

So Declares Colonel House at a Banquet Given by French Officials.

Paris, Nov. 24.—The first public appearance of a member of the American mission to the inter-allied conference was made last night at the annual banquet of the Anglo-American press association which was attended by Oscar Crosby, assistant United States treasurer. The banquet derived additional importance from the fact that Foreign Minister Pichon and Marine Minister Leygues made their first public appearance since taking office. Mr. Pichon said he congratulated himself on being present at a reunion which coincides with the great British victory and the arrival of the American mission.

"The war will perhaps last a long time yet," he added, "but we shall win it and we shall owe the victory in large part to Great Britain and America."

Mr. Crosby, speaking alternately in French and English, aroused the enthusiasm of the French guests by saying: "Everything we have that you need shall be placed at your disposal. You must not forget, however, that 3,000 miles of ocean separate us. That is the only thing which prevents us from assuming our share of the burden as rapidly as we would like."

Col. E. M. House, the head of the mission, was entertained at luncheon, together with the other members of the mission, William Graves Sharp, the American ambassador, and the embassy staff, by President Poincare at the Elysee palace.

War aims, Col. House said definitely, would not be discussed at either the inter-allied conference or the war council. He added that the American mission was here solely for the purpose of furthering the prosecution of the war and the coordination of resources.

MERIWETHERS SELL HOAGLAND APARTMENTS

C. Paul Milliken and Oscar Brokaw Buy Them at Cost of $35,000.

In a deal just closed through Kilbourne & Perry James R. Meriwether and Martha Jane Meriwether sold the Hoagland apartments located on lots 9 and 10, east 30 feet of Ewing's addition, situated on northeast corner Berry and Ewing streets, to C. Paul Milliken and Oscar Brokaw, of the Capital Co-operative company, for a consideration of $35,000.

The new owners will improve the property and make it one of the city's most modern apartments.

G. E. TO INCREASE STOCK.

New York, Nov. 24.—Announcement was made here today that the General Electric company's directors had voted to offer stockholders at par an issue of $2,000,000 stock and also to pay a special semi-annual dividend in stock of $2 a share payable January 15, next. The directors called a special meeting of the stockholders at Schenectady on January 3, to vote on a proposition to increase the capital stock of $2,000,000 to enable the offer to be made.

SION S. BASS POST TO CELEBRATE BIRTHDAY

National Chief O. A. Somers to Attend Thirty-Sixth Anniversary.

The thirty-sixth birthday anniversary of the Sion S. Bass post No. 40, G. A. R., will be celebrated with fitting honors on Nov. 26 in Vordermark hall. The post was organized in 1881 and was named after Sion S. Bass, colonel of the Thirtieth Indiana volunteer regiment, who was mortally wounded at the battle of Shiloh in 1863. The post included three hundred members at one time, but the membership has now dwindled down to less than a hundred.

Commander-in-Chief Orlando A. Somers, head of the Grand Army of the Republic, will be present, as will Judge S. M. Hench, department commander of the Indiana G. A. R. Chairman William Engle, Jasper Edsall and Joseph Corlett, the committee of arrangements, have arranged a patriotic program and will furnish suitable speakers. An invitation has been extended to the Lawton-Wayne post, G. A. R., Union Veteran Legion No. 51 and the W. R. C. The W. R. C. will serve refreshments immediately after the program has been completed.

The program as tentatively arranged for Monday evening is as follows: Song, "America," audience; address of welcome, Commander William Kennerk; music; historical review of Sion S. Bass post No. 40, G. A. R., by Past Commander James E. Graham; music; address, Department Commander Samuel M. Hench; music; address, Commander-in-Chief Orlando A. Somers, of Kokomo; song, "Star-Spangled Banner," quartet and audience.

MODEL OF AT LEAST ONE GERMAN NEMESIS ON EXHIBITION AT WOLF & DESSAUER'S

What the American navy means to the American people is being shown in the basement of the Wolf & Dessauer store and is attracting considerable attention. A perfect model of the great superdreadnaught Pennsylvania is on exhibition and all who wish to see it can do so without charge.

Model Fully Equipped.
The miniature is not a lifeless model, but a real fighting model, manned by sailors, armed with cannon and torpedoes, equipped with electric lights, wireless apparatus and all the engineering of war.

The Stars and Stripes are raised, glorious battle flags are unfurled, whose luster has never been dimmed. Lights glimmer in the portholes.

The signal to up anchor is heard. Officers and crew take stations. Guns are manned and volleys fired.

The wireless crackles; searchlights flash code signals. The ship lives. Sailors pass in and out the doors, which close carefully behind them.

Amidships the conductor steps out and a marine band plays.

Bells number and the anchors cling to place. A siren howls and little sea-men run here and there in orderly disorder. Smoke pour from the stacks and the propellers begin to whirl.

Lights are dimmed. The moment is at hand.

Turrets revolve momentarily and the battery of fourteen-inch guns is trained on the enemy. One blast of a trumpet and the broadside roars. Sailors scamper on the upper deck. Aero-plane guns are trained and fired.

The antnae of the wireless crack out signals to a sister ship. With a hiss a torpedo rushes forth to the work of destruction.

STIRK CIRCLE HOLDS IMPORTANT MEETING

Plans Made for Parcel Post Sale and Social Time for November 29.

At an important meeting of the Stirk circle, Ladies of the G. A. R., Friday night two candidates were mustered into the roll of the order. Further plans were formed for the parcel post sale and social time to be held next Friday evening, Nov. 29, in Vordermark hall. It was announced that S. J. Hartshorn, universally known as "Daddy," the oldest civil war veteran of the city, was ill at his home on Columbus avenue. The circle members were asked to call on the veteran. Word was received that Capt. W. A. Kelsey, another veteran, who has been ill for some time at his home in Lawton place, was greatly improved. The annual meeting and election of officers for the ensuing year will be held Dec. 14.

Plans were formed for the flag service that the circle will hold over the grave of Private Fred M. Cook, the Fort Wayne soldier who was accidentally shot in New York.

Memorial Service.

The Woman's Relief corps of the Sion S. Bass post, G. A. R., held memorial services Friday afternoon in Vordermark hall in honor of the members who have died during the past year. COMMUNITY SINGING AT BUTLER SUCCESS

Judge Bowersox and His Class of Fifty Years Ago Take Part.

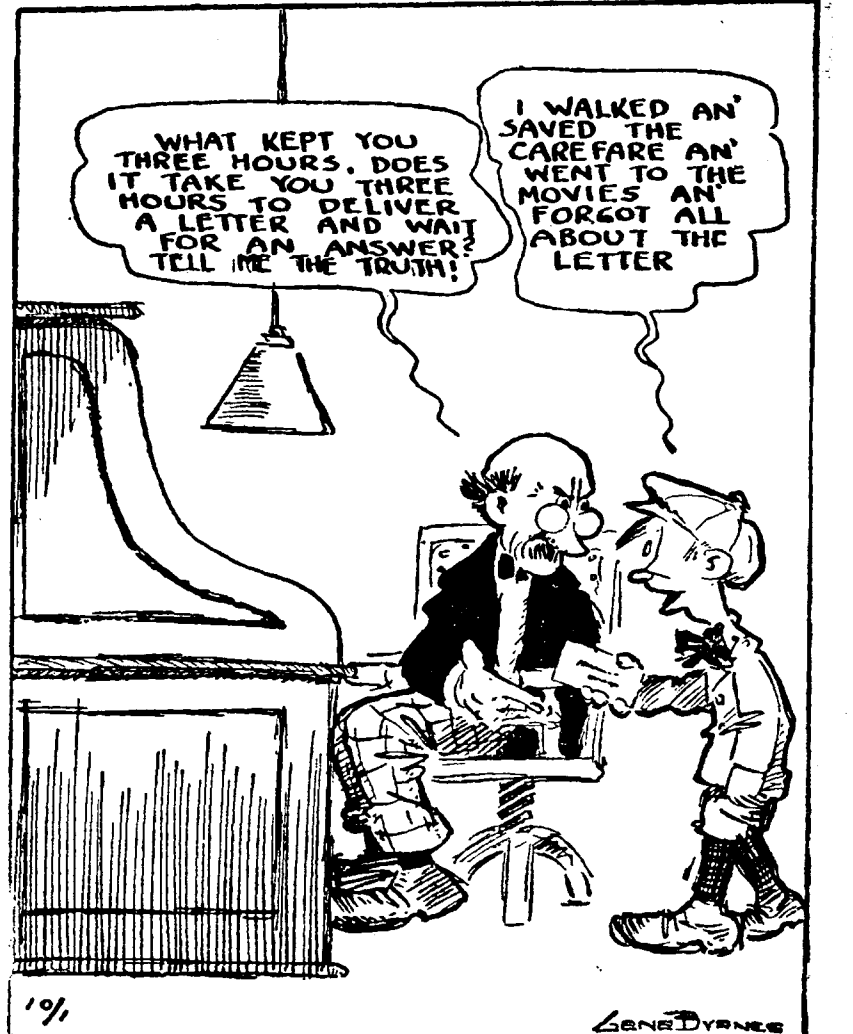

(Special to The Sentinel.)
Butler, Ind., Nov. 24.—Thursday evening the Butler high school put on a community singing at the Butler opera house which was a decided success. The house was littered with singers and their friends and Prof. E. E. Day, of the city schools, and his able corps of teachers and their pupils deserve great credit for the enjoyable evening they gave the Butler citizens. The entertainment was opened with remarks by Prof. E. E. Day and the first number was group singing "Battle Hymns of the Republic." "Onward Christian Soldiers" and "Dixie." Judge Bowersox, of Bryan, Ohio, and his singing class of 50 years ago were present and gave two numbers, "Over Jordan" and "Watchman Tell Us of the Night." Luther Knisely, a member of this class, gave a reading, "The Old Singing School," which was written by Wm. Barber, of this city. The children of the first and second grades gave a drill and song which was well given and heartily applauded. Group singing of "Columbia the Gem of the Ocean" was followed by a French round by the third and fourth grades. Group singing of "My Bonnie Lies Over the Ocean." At this time Rev. F. A. Shape, of the Christian church, gave an interesting report of the work done by the local Red Cross. Troy township sang "Little Brown Church in the Dell," followed by high school chorus, "Soldiers' Chorus" and "Yankee Doodle." Group singing "When Sammie Comes Marching Home Again." The members of the G. A. B. and W. R. C. sang "The Army Bean." Recitation, "Hoover Will Get You if You Don't Watch Out," by Olivia Clay. RELIGION, TEMPERANCE AND HEALTH

THIS THANKSGIVING DINNER, AFTER THE PROGRAM OF JESUS, FILLED HEARTS FULL OF JOY

(Christian Evangelist.)
"I want to make a big Thanksgiving dinner this year," said Mrs. Hamlin, "one that we will long remember, and one that our friends will keep as a bright spot in their memories."
"But, wife, we are invited to the Creightrons."

"Yes, I know that, but while I appreciate the opportunity, I would prefer to send our regrets and issue some invitations myself."

"All right," said the doctor, "I am willing."

Doctor and Mrs. Hamlin were comparative newcomers in the little city of Ogden.

In their early married life they had started at the foot of the ladder and had worked their way upward a step at a time, by strict economy and modest living, instead of beginning where their parents left off, or living beyond their means. They had bought the oldest house in Ogden, a building surrounded by a nice plot of ground, and were occupying it until such time as they were able to build a new home. It was a roomy old brick structure, with open grates and deep windows.

Mrs. Hamlin was a teacher in the Sabbath school, and in studying the lesson, had her thoughts turned to the direction of Jesus in Luke 14:12. As she told her husband about it she gazed into the glowing coals before her with a far-away look in her eyes, which suddenly grew soft and luminous as she murmured softly, "It shall be in His name."

So society, which is ever ready to worship success, sent the regrets of Dr. and Mrs. Hamlin.

Dr. Hamlin thought he knew his wife, but like many another man, he found himself often mistaken. However, to please her fancy, everything good, wholesome and luxurious was provided for the Thanksgiving feast. The rooms of the old house were made to look like a chrysanthemum show. The table was resplendent in its best china and snowy cloth. Mrs. Hamlin was charmingly dressed in a new bright, but inexpensive gown, which she thought befitting the occasion.

The hour had arrived for the coming of the guests. The coachman had received his orders, on the fly, from Mrs. Hamlin, and had started forth, with the family carriage, to bring the guests to the feast. First came a woman accompanied by a young, timid girl, who were ushered in by the door maid.

"Mrs. Sheldon, how good of you to come early. I know of no one who could assist me today so well as you. I certainly thank you."

"No thanks are necessary. I am only too glad to lend myself to such work."

Mrs. Sheldon was a preacher's widow, one of God's noblemen—a woman whose life had been lived for the Master, and whose lot had been cast among the poor and lowly as well as with the rich and arrogant. Her heart's training had been along sympathetic lines, and her mind's training qualified her to grasp the mental heights of the most learned. Her daughter was one of God's earthly creatures that, like a tender plant blighted by frost, had been impaired by the blight of disease, until the mind that remained was that of a child in a woman's body. She was bright and cheery in her way, with a trustful love which only angels know, and was the one great comfort of her mother's lonely life.

The carriage drove up and two people were assisted to the door, for the door maid, driver and cook almost carried one of them. She was an old woman with white hair and a face which had a look of bitterness in it—a face that had not grown old gracefully, which was not softened by suffering, and which aroused pity. She was richly dressed, as was also her daughter, who was an imbecile. They were rich in this world's goods, but poor in their stock of love and friendship and kindness. Dr. Hamlin had once said to his wife, "My dear, go visit them, for while they are wealthy, they are poor in all that goes to make life bright and sunny," and she often went.

The next arrival was an old lady, who had a face as bright as the noon-day sun. Her step was quick and firm, for one so old as she, and her hair was black at sixty-five. Her face had a sweet expression, as though something within was at work manufacturing sunshine. Her eyes—sad as it is to say it—were sightless. She had wisdom, but the shutters were drawn. It was a light that came from above that made this aged face so bright and attractive. For years this Christian woman had lived in darkness; but the light of the sun of righteousness yet illuminated her life.

Mrs. Hamlin led the blind woman to a place by Mrs. Sheldon and said, "Mrs. Winston, here is one who will anticipate your every wish, and you will find in her kindred thoughts and feelings, Mrs. Sheldon, I place this guest in your care."

Many others came, some rich, and some poor, but all were of the "alone" class. There was a music teacher who kept bachelor's hall, and a young carpenter who was far away from home and friends. The last arrival was an old soldier, who came in an invalid's chair, attended by his daughter, a sweet and faithful slave for her adoring father.

Then the doctor came in, his face aglow in anticipation of coming festivities. As he looked, he thought some mistake had been made—then he knew all. A hearty welcome was given to each by a warm handshake. They knew that this man was their best friend and wise counselor. The gladness looks and bright faces and the loving exclamation of blind Mrs. Tilson made the doctor's eyes moist with suppressed feeling. He looked for his wife, and when their eyes met, she made the happiest woman in the world.

Dr. Hamlin, half carrying the cripple, led the way to the dining room, followed by Mrs. Sheldon with the blind woman, the others following. Mrs. Hamlin herself wheeled the soldier's chair. Such a dinner was never served before. When all were filled and merriment reigned supreme, the doctor proposed a toast to "The chief of entertainers—my wife." All agreed to this and the doctor himself responded in a manner becoming the time and place.

When they returned to the parlor to hear the musician play the sweet songs of old. The tongue of the old soldier was loosened and tales of war and heroism delighted the listeners. The time of parting came, and one by one the guests were helped into the carriage by loving hands. The joy of the occasion was reflected in the face of the young hostess, who realized she had not only given pleasure to a few of the unfortunate of earth, but she knew she had the approval of her heavenly Father, who says something in His book about the "cup of cold water" given in His name.

WHAT AMERICANS RESENT.

(Philadelphia Ledger.)
It can be said without denial that the American people, in this war to win, are too patriotic to resent the high prices made imperative by extraordinary conditions. What they do resent are the inequalities, so manifest and unfair, in prices, weights, quantities of their food. They object to wartime impositions, not wartime prices. They will pay the prices willingly enough if they are assured that others are doing it and that the average is unfavored, buying "plain folks" are not augmenting swollen profits of manufacturers, who are sellers and dealers whose patriotism vanishes before the prospect of commercial gain.

UNSELFISH THANKSGIVING.

How many on Thanksgiving day have a time of merriment at home with their friends and loved ones and make a feast for them? How little they think of those who are in poverty and in suffering, of those shivering from the cold, and weak with hunger! Jesus said, "When thou makest a feast, call the poor, the maimed, the lame, the blind; and thou shalt be blessed; for they cannot recompense thee; for thou shalt be recompensed at the resurrection of the just."—God's Revivalist.

THE HEROIC AGE

(By RICHARD WATSON GILDER.)

He speaks not well who doth his time deplore,
Naming it new and little and obscure,
Ignoble and unfit for lofty deeds.
All times were modern in the times of them,
And this no more than others. Do thy part
Here the living day, as did the great
Who made old days immortal! So shall men,
Gazing long back to this far-looking hour,
Say: "Then the time when men were truly men;"
Tho' wars grew less, their spirits met the test
Of new conditions; conquering civic wrong,
Saving the state anew by virtuous lives;
Guarding their country's honor as their own,
And their own as their country's and their sons';
Proclaiming service as the one test of worth;
Defying leagued fraud with single truth;
Knights of the spirit; warriors in the cause
Of justice absolute 'twixt man and man;
Not fearing loss; and daring to be pure.
When error through the land raged like a pest
They calmed the madness caught from mind to mind
By wisdom drawn from old, and counsel sane;
And as the martyrs of the ancient world
Gave death for man, so nobly gave they life;
Those the great days, and that the heroic age.

There's No Power in the World So Strong as the Power of Love

(Apples of Gold.)
A good Christian lady, we are told, once opened a home for crippled children. Among those who were received was a little boy three years old, who was a most frightful and disagreeable looking child.

The good lady did her best for him, but the child was so unpleasant in his ways that she could not bring herself to like him.

One day she was sitting on the veranda steps with the child in her arms. The sun was shining warm; the scent of the flowers, the chirping of the birds and the buzzing of the insects lulled her into drowsiness.

So in a half-waking, half-dreaming state, the lady dreamed of herself as having changed places with the child, only she was, if possible, more foul and more disagreeable than he was. Over her she saw the Lord bending, looking intently and lovingly into her face, and yet with a sort of rebuke in it, as if he meant to say, "If I can love you, who are so full of sin, surely you ought, for my sake, to love that suffering child."

Just then the lady awoke with a start and looked in the face of the little boy who lay on her lap. He had waked up, too, and she expected to hear him begin to cry; but he looked at her—poor little mite—very quietly and earnestly for a long time, and then she bent her face to his and kissed his forehead more tenderly than she had ever done.

With a startled look in his eyes and a flush on his cheeks, the little boy, instead of crying, gave her back a sweeter smile than she had ever seen before.

From that day forth a perfect change came over the child. Young as he was, he had hitherto read the feeling of dislike and disgust in the faces of all who had approached him, but the touch of human love which now came into his life swept all the peevishness and ill-nature away, and woke him up to a happier life.

Do you know the power in this world so strong as the power of love? As someone has truly said, love is the greatest thing in the world.

Face Your Troubles; They May Be Lighter Than You Think Them

(Advance.)
"I had piled around a rock in one of my fields for five years," said a farmer, "and I had broken a mowing machine knife against it, besides losing all of the ground in which it lay, all because I supposed it was such a large rock that it would take too much time and labor to remove it. But today, when I began to plow for corn, I thought that by-and-by I might break my cultivated against that rock; so I took a crowbar, intending to poke around it and find out its size once for all. And if it was one of the surprises of my life to find that it was little more than two feet long. It was so small that I could lift it into the wagon without help."

"The first time you really faced your trouble you conquered it," I replied aloud, but continued to enlarge upon the subject all to myself, for I do believe that before we pray, or better, while we pray, we should look our trouble squarely in the face.

Imagine the farmer plowing around that rock for five years, praying all the while, "O Lord, remove that rock," when he did not know whether it was a big rock, or a little flat stone!

We shiver and shake and shrink, and sometimes we pray, we should look our trouble squarely in the face. The trouble that lies down with us at night, and confers with us in the morning, is not the trouble that we are faced, but the trouble whose proportions we do not know.—Advance.

MADE OVER.

I am not thinking of garments, but of souls. There are, I suppose, people whose pride would not permit them to wear a made-over suit; but if we should refuse to wear our souls re-made most of us would go without. Growth implies outgrowing earlier measurements. A dress of thought and conviction that we mature. "The old order changeth, giving place to new." We also must change. We must have the old garments of thought recut. Some one says that the best violin is an old Cremona, and that the best of the old Cremonas is the one which has been smashed and put together again. If this be true of violins, shall it not be still more true of souls? God's speciality, if I may say so, is to remake the soul.—George Clarke Peck.

NOT SO WONDERFUL.

The merchant turned to the boy with the weak intellect and said: "What a wonderful thing! When these wires are completed, you will be able to send a message through to Aberdeen, many miles away, and get an answer back in twenty minutes!" The happy-witted Christian lad, on hearing that, exclaimed: "I do not see anything wonderful in that at all." And on being asked by the merchant whether he knew of anything more wonderful, he remarked: "I should think I do." He then said to the merchant: "Did you ever hear of people getting an answer before they sent their message?" And on the merchant asking what he meant, he replied: "I only mean what Isaiah says: 'It shall come to pass that before they call I will answer, and while they yet speak I will hear.'—The Gentleman."

FEELING AND DUTY.

We are responsible not only for the intensity of our feeling but for its quality. We are to see to it that our patriotic fervor contains no elements of vindictiveness, hatred or of lust for territory or domination over others.—Congregationalist.

EVANGELIST BILLY SUNDAY HAS HIT THE TRAIL WAY DOWN SOUTH

And now Billy Sunday himself has "hit the trail." So did his wife, "Ma" Sunday, and their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George Sunday. It happened down south—on one of the evangelist's "off days." Now for the "ketch"—it was the trail of the "possums." They all hit the sawdust trail long ago. As we saw the evangelist, he was wearing a white shirt, and a white shirt, is George; next to George his wife, Billy; next, in the white shirt, is George; next to George his wife.

YOUR HEALTH AND HOW YOU CAN KEEP IT

Ventilate Night and Day if you Would Avoid Disease.

Proper ventilation includes not only a constant current of air to replace used up, but that air must be pure air, free from smoke, gases, dirt or germs.

Proper ventilation, however, does not mean that the doors and windows should be thrown open and that which has been the winter months kept so during the winter months without heating the rooms. Proper ventilation may be maintained in heated living rooms and the temperature kept at a comfortable degree.

It is best, however, to sleep in an unheated room and with the windows open. The burning of candles, lamps or gas is not conducive to good health, especially in places where proper ventilation cannot be maintained.

Drafts should be avoided and a constant supply of fresh air provided to take the place of that which has already been used. The size and shape of a room may be a factor in proper ventilation. No matter how large a room be, if the supply of fresh air is not steady the air will become impure. On the other hand, no matter how small the room if sufficient ventilation is carried on the air continues pure.

A lofty, unventilated room will in a short time, if occupied, become filled with impure air. Floor space is more important to ventilation than height. With a modern system of ventilation you will breathe better air in many basement establishments than in stores and offices containing enormous floor space with high ceilings, but lacking in proper ventilation.

What One Man Did to Benefit the Public Health.

"Hygiene is the art of preserving health; that is, of obtaining the most perfect action of the body and mind during as long a period as is consistent with the laws of life."

So wrote a man who devoted all his adult life to the promotion of the public health and who died at the age of 56 of pulmonary tuberculosis. Edmund Alexander Parkes, born March 29, 1819, physician, surgeon, sanitarian and author, left perhaps a greater impress on sanitary science than any Englishman of the nineteenth century.

His work ranges from the theoretical consideration of the minutest details of chemical and physiological research to the practical consideration of the cleansing of a sewer or the lightening of the soldier's knapsack.

India, the Crimea and London saw his labors and benefited thereby. War brings some good things in its train. Just as the Napoleonic campaigns perfected the art of transporting the sick and the loss of life from preventable disease in the Spanish war quickened the sanitary conscience of the American people, so the horrors of the Crimean campaign made Parkes a professor of military hygiene.

He organized a complete course of instruction based on the principle that the student must be able to practically apply the lessons which he learned. Many of the sanitary reforms which he inaugurated are now bearing fruit in the improvement of the well-being of the community at large.

"YE HAVE DONE IT UNTO ME" A TALE OF THE WEST WHERE A GOOD DEED WORKS MIRACLE

It was an August afternoon. The hot winds were sweeping over the western prairies. Not a green thing was to be seen. The earth was parched and dried up, and the heavens were brass. Everything seemed to be crying, "Water, water!"

Rachel stood in the door of the rude cabin on the plain, and shading her eyes with her hand, looked far out over the prairies. "Why don't father and mother come?" she said. "There, I guess they are coming now."

No, it was only an immigrant wagon, but it was following the trail that would bring it right by her door. Two half-starved horses drawing a dilapidated wagon, a drunken driver, a sick woman, and four children—these were what Rachel saw when they drew near. "Any water," asked the driver. "Whiskey ain't as cooling as some other things on a day like this."

For an instant Rachel hesitated; a pail of water stood on the bench behind the door, but it was the very last they would be able to draw from their well, and when that was gone, where was more to come from? A thin white hand lifted the cover, and a pale face looked out.

Rachel hesitated no longer. She quickly took the dipper from the nail on which it hung, and carried the pail to the wagon. The half-famished creatures soon emptied it, and the dog came and licked it dry.

"Remember, child," said the woman, as they drove away, "who it was that said, 'Inasmuch as ye have done it unto the least of these, my brethren, ye have done it unto me.'"

Rachel watched them out of sight, and when she turned and entered her humble home, she felt happy, despite the fact that she knew not whence the next drop of water was to come. All the afternoon a still, small voice kept saying, "Ye have done it unto me; ye have done it unto me." It was dark before her father and mother returned. They had gone several miles beyond the village to a well where they heard water was to be had, and brought back two barrels full. The little family on the plain suffered many privations during that year of drought, but the needy were never turned from their door.

The years passed by, and the desert began to "blossom as the rose." Fertile fields, thriving villages, and popular cities were to be seen on all sides.

It was then that the brave-hearted people began "a peaceful war for God, and home and native land." Rachel was no longer a barefooted girl, but had developed into a comely matron, and was one of the most valiant soldiers in the great struggle. She had been the means of securing a well known speaker to deliver a lecture in her town.

"I love this country," said the speaker, as he looked over the large audience. I shall always love it; for it was on these plains that I took my first temperance pledge. When I was a lad my father settled in the western part of the state, but during the summer of the great drought we were literally starved out. Packing our few effects into a wagon, we started back east.

For days we traveled over the parched desert, through winds and drifting sand, with scarcely water enough to moisten our burning lips. Finally we came to a house. It was only a shanty standing alone out on the wild prairies, but it was the home of the angle of our deliverance. A sweet girl brought out a pail of water, and gave us all we could drink. I have since been afraid that it was all she had, and have often wished she could know just how much her cup of cold water did in our family. We held a praise meeting right there in the old wagon. My father threw away his whiskey bottle. 'This is my thank-offering,' he said. 'Mine,' said my mother, 'shall be my boy.' I promised her then for the rest of my life to be a soldier in the cold-water army."

Rachel bowed her head to hide the tears that were coursing down her cheeks, and she heard the still small voice say, "Ye have done it unto me! Ye have done it unto me!"

An African Teacher and His Eloquence Describing a Bible

Najola, Agbebi, Ph. D., a native of Lagos, and the head of the native Baptist church of West Africa, thus defines the Bible:

"This Book contains the mind of God, reveals the state of man, the way of salvation, the doom of sinners, and the happiness of believers. Its doctrines are holy, its precepts are binding, its histories are true, and its decisions are immutable. Read it and be wise, believe it and be safe, and practice it and be holy. It contains light to direct you, food to support you, and comfort to cheer you. It is the traveler's map, the pilgrim's staff, the pilot's pass, the soldier's sword, and the Christian's banner. Here Paradise is restored, heaven opened, and the gates of hell closed. Christ is its grand subject, our good its design, and the glory of God its end. Read it slowly, frequently, prayerfully. It is a mine of wealth, a paradise of glory, and a river of pleasure. It is given you in life, will be opened at the judgment, and remembered forever. It involves the highest responsibility, rewards the greatest labor, and condemns all who trifle with its precepts."

"The sense of duty is the largest asset in humanity."—Dargan.

JUST PIECE OF PAPER.

(The Outlook.)
Appropos of a recent financial magazine's downfall, a depositor remarked to a bank official that he thought that the man in a subordinate position who handles large amounts of cash is subjected to a greater temptation than the "high financier." "Not so," was the answer. "I was a paying teller for 10 years and I can assure you that handling cash in large amounts is absolutely like handling simple pieces of paper with numbers on them. It is the mathematics of accounting that interests a cashier—the keeping of these bits of paper in perfect order. The question of what he might do with the bills never enters a busy paying teller's mind."

HELPING THE MINISTER.

"One thing helped me very much when I was preaching today," said a clergyman.
"What was that?" inquired a friend.

"It was the attention of a little girl, who kept her eyes fixed on me and seemed to hear and understand every word I said. She was a great help to me."

Think of that, little ones, and when you go to church, fix your eyes on the minister and try to understand what he says, for he is speaking to you as well as to grown-up people. He is telling about the Lord Jesus, who said, "Suffer little children to come unto me."—Selected.

A 1901 car, plus $15 freight, plus $100 for electric starter, plus $100 for changing from 4-inch to 3 1/2 inch tires, and, if you want demountable rims add about $20 more. Shock absorbers would cost another $10 to $20; a mobile top costs $25 to $30. Oh, yes, a ventilating windshield is $5. Change your lamps for lamps with dimmers is another outlay of $5 or more. Now you have parted with about $550 and still have a 1901 car, without a speck of rust. Buy, not buy?

ITALY'S LIVING WALL HOLDS BACK FOE

MIGHTY BATTLE OF THE MOUNTAINS IS STILL IN PROGRESS

Struggle for Pass to Venetian Plains Is Raging With Unexampled Fury and Foe Is Held Back.

AUSTRO-GERMAN LOSSES ARE HEAVIEST

Italian Headquarters in Northern Italy, Friday, Nov. 23.—(By The Associated Press.)—The battle of the mountains is raging with unexampled violence. The Italians again hold the Monte Tomba and Monte Persica positions which they lost last night. The losses have been very heavy, but the enemy's far exceed those of the Italians.

STORY OF DESPERATE COMBAT.

Italian Headquarters in Northern Italy, Friday, Nov. 23.—(By The Associated Press.)—A succession of attacks and counter-attacks followed rapidly throughout yesterday on the hills between the Piave and Brenta valleys, where the Italians and Austro-Germans are engaged in furious combat.

Brigades and regiments, their numbers diminished in the struggle, were reformed and returned to the fight. In one section where there were thirty officers, twenty-seven were killed or wounded, but the remaining three fought the battle of the thirty.

Mountain batteries had been secured in mountain emplacements and as the fight ebbed and flowed over these positions the Italians not only brought back the guns even the wheels and the limbers, their pride not permitting a vestige to fall into the hands of the enemy.

The Final Furious Charge.

The final charge of the day came at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. The enemy had struck his greatest blow earlier in the day and the fierce attack lasted three-quarters of an hour.

The whole field was swept by artillery fire and the ground was strewn with dead.

It was amid this welter of bodies and debris that the Italian lines were reformed and from it they moved forward steadily and irresistibly until the disputed ground was retaken except at one point, where the struggle still goes on.

Summary of the Day's War News

General Byng has settled down to a steady push against the German lines west of Cambrai, after his recent rapid forward dash, and has made substantial progress along a front of nearly six miles. Incidentally it is now announced that more than 100 guns were captured by the British during this offensive, including numerous heavy pieces. The British pressure is now being mainly directed northward on the east and west line running between Fontaine and Queant. The apparent objective is only to carry the enclosing movement about Cambrai further to the north and east but to drive in behind both the former Hindenburg line as it bears off to the northwest, and the Queant-Drocourt switch, thus

BLAME I. W. W. CREW FOR FIRE IN RAIL YARDS

Muskogee, Okla., Nov. 24.—The Missouri, Oklahoma and Gulf depot at Henryetta, burned to the ground late last night and railroad men saved a large number of freight cars standing on tracks only after a hard fight. Eighteen alleged members of the I. W. W. have been arrested in Henryetta during the past three days and officers declare they had been warned of threats to destroy railroad property. The railroad runs through the district which was the scene of the anti-draft uprisings of last summer and during the riots numerous attempts were made to blow up bridges.

W. R. RAY, CIRCULATION MANAGER

Dear Sir:—

Being a carrier of the Sentinel, you are aware of the fact that the News are the owners of both papers. I consider that the Journal-Gazette has as much right to your subscribers as anyone, therefore, before doing anything with your route, call at the Journal-Gazette office and talk with Mr. Ray. Just a talk with this man will convince you as to what you will want to do with your route.

Thanking you for any past favors, we are,

Very truly yours,

THE JOURNAL-GAZETTE COMPANY,

BY— W. R. RAY

Cir. Mgr.

The above reproduction is of a letter, a copy of which was posted by the Journal-Gazette to each of the boys delivering a Sentinel route in Fort Wayne. Despite the letter's illiteracy and general untruthfulness, it is self-explanatory, meaning simply that the Journal-Gazette, through its circulation manager, endeavored to bribe the Sentinel carrier boys into delivering to the Journal-Gazette office the lists of their customers even before these lists were given to the Fort Wayne News, which publication recently purchased the entire property of the Fort Wayne Sentinel. It is only fair to state that Mr. L. G. Ellingham, president of the Journal-Gazette, denies all knowledge of the posting of this letter. But the man whose name appears as its author is still in the employ of the Journal-Gazette.

Of course, when the Fort Wayne News purchased the Sentinel property, one of the chief considerations involved was "good will," which in the newspaper business means subscription lists. Now, there is no intention on the part of the News to attempt to buy and sell public favor. It concedes the Journal-Gazette every right to canvass Fort Wayne with an army of solicitors singing the merits of the Journal-Gazette as opposed to those of the News. In fact it invites such competition, abiding most

DIPLOMATIC SECRETS OUT

Trotsky Publishes Correspondence of Russian Foreign Office. WILL SHOW WORLD A THING OR TWO Letters to and from the Diplomats Are Given to Newspapers.

Petrograd, Nov. 23.—(Friday)—The text of certain confidential communications between the Russian foreign office and foreign governments were revolutionized by Trotsky, the Bolshevik foreign minister. Trotsky says that the documents are those of the "czaristic, Bourgeois and coalition governments," and from them "the Russian nation and all nations in the world must learn the truth of the plans secretly made by financiers and traders through their parliamentary and diplomatic agents."

German and Austrian politicians, Trotsky declares, may try to make capital out of these documents, but he warns them that when the German proletariat by means of a revolution secures access to these documents which they will find there documents which will show up in no better light than those now published.

Y. W. C. A. Workers Anxiously Await Tonight's Report of Campaign. FINAL APPEAL IS BEING MADE TODAY Believed Allen County Will Surely Reach Its $15,000 Quota.

THIS IS THE LAST DAY.

This is the last day of the campaign for the Y. W. C. A. war fund. The solicitors will probably make no active effort, after tonight, to secure subscriptions, though individuals may keep at work for several days to complete "unfinished business," which may include waiting upon citizens who have not been available earlier in the week. All who wish to help the great cause of the Y. W. C. A. and who have not yet subscribed may do so by calling the association building, phone 1200, or any of the workers or team captains.

This evening's roundup meeting of the workers in the Y. W. C. A. war fund campaign to be held at 7 o'clock at the association building will be attended by an enthusiastic group of patriots as ever completed a week of effective work for Uncle Sam in his time of need.

LAUNCH FIRST OF THE SHIPS

Liberty Vessel That is to Beat U-Boats and Win War in Water. IS BEGINNING OF MIGHTY PROGRAM Many Vessels Will Be Sent Down the Ways During Coming Month.

Washington, Nov. 24.—With the sliding of an 8,000-ton steel ship down the ways of a Pacific coast ship yard today the shipping board recorded the launching of the first of the merchant fleet it is building. Other accessions to the fleet will be launched in a steady program from now on, including three 26,000-ton steel ships and three 10,500-ton wooden ships during December. The shipping board is clearing a right of way for its building program by requisitioning 1,500 railroad cars to move fire-ship timbers from the west to eastern yards, where the scarcity of that material is holding back activity of the building of the wooden craft.

WANT MAN TO SUCCEED CAPPS.

Washington, Nov. 24.—The government today is confronted with the task of finding a competent successor to Rear Admiral Washington L. Capps, general manager of the shipping board's emergency fleet corporation, whose resignation because of ill health has been accepted by President Wilson. Forced to yield his post be-

TEUTONS TRY TO STRENGTHEN FOR FRESH ASSAULT

Byng Is Holding His Ground and Getting New Gains While Consolidating What He Has Taken.

BRITISH BOOTY IN GUNS IS HEAVY

Reinforced by divisions from other sectors of the western front the Germans are resisting desperately the British advance on Cambrai. Around Fontaine Notre Dame, less than three miles west of Cambrai, and the Bourlon wood, close by the most strenuous fighting has occurred with the British making progress.

General Byng is combining his attacks with consolidation work and the British are firmly established in their new positions, which give opportunities to destroy the usefulness of Cambrai as a supply center as well as a starting place for a drive either north behind the Drocourt-Queant line or west against Cambrai. Heavy fighting is taking place at Merveux, three miles south of Cambrai, at the other end of the wedge driven across the Hindenburg line Tuesday and Wednesday.

The Bourlon wood is the dominating hill to the west of Cambrai and the Germans have put up a strong resistance here as well as at Fontaine Notre Dame which flanks the wood to the west.

The British have made advances at the southern and southwestern edges of the wood. Near Merveux General Byng's men have taken Tadpole copse, which dominates the village, part of which the Germans still hold. In addition to nearly 5,000 prisoners the British have captured large quantities.

BOND PAYMENTS INUNDATE THE U. S. TREASURY

Washington, Nov. 24.—A heavy flood of overpayments on liberty loan installments has swept into the treasury surplus money holdings of nearly two billion dollars. These funds again will be thrown on the money market, chiefly by premature redemption of treasury certificates of indebtedness.

Loan payment installments of 18 per cent due the 15th of the month from subscribers were overpaid 350 per cent, it was estimated.

WALSH BUYS THE FIRST 100

Christmas Seals Are Sent to All Former Subscribers Today. 500 ARE SOLD TO LENNART & ORTLIEB All Citizens Asked to Aid in Fight Against Tuberculosis.

The Anti-Tuberculosis society Saturday mailed to former subscribers and many others envelopes containing Christmas anti-tuberculosis seals. The receiver is expected to return all that he does not want to keep.

The first one hundred went to Mr. V. Walsh as usual.

The first five hundred went to Lennart and Ortlieb, as usual.

The fight therefore against the bug is everybody's fight and seals cost so little that nobody can find excuse for not buying some quantity of them. Their presence on the package is the visible evidence of that goodwill for which the season and the era calls. It is the Christmas season but it is the immediate occasion but it is the work of the league of the twentieth century, the era of the Armageddon battle against the expansion of the havoc of the bug. Every seal helps to kill a million bugs and the killing protect the well and the victim alike. Tuberculosis is a contagious disease—the enemy of all—and the funds derived from the sale of the seals prevent the contagion spreading.

ANOTHER U-BOAT IS SENT TO BOTTOM BY U. S. DESTROYERS

Washington, Nov. 24.—Definite news of the destruction of another German submarine by American destroyers reached the navy department today in a cable report from Vice Admiral Sims. The submarine damaged by a depth bomb went down with all on board after a destroyer had attached a line and was attempting to take her in tow.

Two destroyers took part in the action. One sighting a periscope at four hundred yards headed for it and dropped a deadly depth bomb. Soon afterward the submarine came to the surface with no sign of life aboard. The second destroyer steamed up and attached a line, but the U-boat apparently shattered by the bomb, went to the bottom.

Both army and navy officers were elated over the report. It is one of the few cases in which there can be no doubt that American patrol boats destroyed an enemy. Since the two destroyers circled about the U-boat pouring shell fire into her as she lay on the surface, after having been bombed, officers pointed out that the gums had probably peppered the hull with holes before the attempt to tow was made. It is thought likely the bomb penetrated the submarine's hull so that she was forced to the surface in an effort to keep from sinking. Many members of the crew may have been killed or rendered senseless by the bomb's concussion.

Meter Department Force of the General Electric Eighteen Years Ago.

The above picture, which is supposed to represent the entire force in the laboratory of the General Electric company eighteen years ago, will be of interest to the readers. It will also help the reader to a realization of the wonderful expansion of the meter department of the big plant. When the above picture was taken, the entire force in the department did not exceed fifty; today it exceeds 100. Of the seventeen men represented in the picture, nine are still employed at the works, though some are not now connected with the meter department. The personnel of the group is as follows: Reading from left to right, those standing are J. A. Sover, F. Crighton, W. S. May, C. Stevens, F. Wellman, P. Murphy, J. Smith, D. McNutt, C. Kern, N. G. Bucher and W. F. Lageman. Those seated are F. McCurdy, J. Haberly, J. B. Mills, E. J. King, A. Trentman and J. L. Bireley. Those still on the pay rolls are Messrs. Stover, Crighton, May, Wellman, Smith, Bucher, Lageman, Mills and J. L. Bireley. The picture was taken eighteen years ago, in 1899. The department today is under the supervision of P. C. Morgenthaler, under the title of managing engineer of the meter department. Mr. Morgenthaler commenced work at the plant in 1897, in the meter department, but a short time previous to the taking of the photograph from which the picture was made, he was temporarily transferred to another department, which accounts for the absence of his portrait in the group. James H. Haberly, whose portrait is in the group, is now the secretary and treasurer of the Fort Wayne Engineering and Manufacturing company. J. B. Mills is a member of the city council, representing the Sixth ward, and an appointee on the board of public safety by Mayor-Elect W. Sherman Cutshall. The meter department of the General Electric works is most progressive and recently organized for mutual advancement and social purposes the "Meter and Instrument society," which meets twice a month to listen to lectures on subjects of especial interest to the attaches of the department. At a meeting of the society Thursday night there were over 100 members present. J. L. Bireley was the speaker.

RICHARD RINGBERG
FATALLY INJURED

G. R. & I. Section Men Find Him Unconscious Near Shelbyville.

On the early morning patrol of the G. R. & I. tracks near Shelbyville, Mich., yesterday, section men discovered a man lying at the side of the tracks in an unconscious condition. Papers in his pockets indicated that the name was Richard Ringberg, of Grand Rapids, and the circumstances indicated that he received his injuries by either falling from a freight train while stealing a ride or by being struck by some train while trespassing on the company's property. Ringberg was taken to the hospital at Allegan, Mich., where he died at 12:45 o'clock Saturday morning without regaining consciousness. Ringberg was a Swedish and about sixty years old. So far as known he has no relatives in America. For some months he had lived at 308 Briggs street, Grand Rapids, and worked in a furniture factory in that city. The remains were turned over to the authorities at Allegan and will probably be buried by the county.

CAPTAIN STOLL AS HOST.

Entertains Men Who Were With Him in Detective Work Once.

Yesterday Captain Henry Stoll had the pleasure of entertaining for a short time two men who were associated with him in railway detective work years ago. They were J. F. Ward and W. G. Bates. Mr. Ward is now chief special agent of the Wabash, with headquarters in St. Louis, and Mr. Bates is captain of police of the Peru division. Twenty-four years ago Mr. Ward spent some months on the Pennsylvania, assisting Captain Stoll in installing the police system, serving in the capacity of lieutenant. After several years' service, he resigned and went to the Wabash in a similar capacity. It was while Mr. Ward was connected with the Pennsylvania police department that W. G. Bates commenced his service there, remaining five or six years and being advanced

G. E. COMPANY GRATEFUL.

Manager Hunting Expresses Thanks to Employees.

In a communication printed in the Fort Wayne Works' News of the General Electric company, which was issued this morning, General Manager F. S. Hunting expresses the thanks of the company officials, including himself, for the magnificent manner in which the employees responded to the second liberty bond sale. Mr. Hunting's card is as follows:

"We wish to express our appreciation of the noble response of the employees of this works to the nation's appeal for subscriptions to the second liberty loan. The total subscriptions of this works to this second liberty loan amounted to $196,000, an average of $67 per subscriber. The lists of subscribers are found to contain the names of over 65 per cent of our employees, a percentage that we feel is exceptionally high. The results of this liberty loan campaign here at our works are certainly conclusive evidence of a wonderful patriotism on the parts of our employees."

BURNED BY ELECTRIC FLASH.

Earl Whitacre Painfully Hurt at the Lights.

While operating an electric switch in the operating department of the General Electric works, in building No. 26, yesterday afternoon, Earl Whitacre, an inside wireman, was painfully hurt by an electric flash. His left arm and wrist were badly burned and his face and both eyes suffered to a less degree. The injured man was attended by Nurse Frances Steele and Dr. Fred J. Schultz immediately following the accident and then sent to his home. His eyes are not permanently injured and the burns on his face and neck are not deep and will not leave scars.

FORT WAYNE B. R. T. PUTS W. G. FERGUSON AT HEAD OF ROSTER.

JAMES E. KARNS.

Fort Wayne lodge, No. 136, Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, held its annual election last night and placed the stamp of approval upon the service of men who have served in official capacities during the past year. The new roster is as follows: President, W. G. Ferguson; vice president, C. R. Delah; treasurer, A. J. Matott; secretary, James E. Karns; journal agent, P. S. Patton; examining physicians, Dr. William Neameyer, 1824 South Calhoun street, and Dr. George B. Stemen, 1162 West Main street. President Ferguson served the brotherhood in that capacity from January 1, 1909, to December 31, 1914, when he was succeeded by James E. Karns, whom he succeeds now. Mr. Karns was elected secretary to succeed N. S. Patton, who takes another position. Fort Wayne lodge, No. 126, is third in point of members in the United States, having 765 names on the roll. It is also in the front ranks with a record for good work generally.

RIFLE MEMBERS MUST HAVE LICENSES

Cannot Handle Cartridges Without Permission from Their Uncle Sam.

The following circular issued for distribution of the Fort Wayne Rifle and Revolver club by George H. Gwathorn, the secretary, gives some very important and valuable information to members. It reads as follows:

"Following the passage a few weeks ago of the Explosive law which was put into effect on November 15th, it will be necessary for all persons to secure a license in order to have in their possession any explosive or explosives for re-loading ammunition of any sort. This refers to powder and primers in bulk but does not refer to cartridges of any sort already assembled. The above license can be secured at the office of the county clerk.

"The in-door range is now open to club members who will be admitted to the grounds of the General Electric company on Broadway where the range is located, upon presentation of their membership card. Members who do not have their membership cards with them will not be allowed to enter the grounds. The following evenings have been selected for shooting: Tuesday evening rifle practice; Wednesday evening, pistol practice; Thursday and Saturday evenings, rifle practice.

"There are quite a few members of the rifle club who have not as yet paid their dues for 1917. It would be appreciated if all such members would see in their remittance as soon as possible as we need the money."

of the teams. They are J. C. Brak and J. W. Lauer, of the road foreman of engines office; W. J. Kalbfleisch and A. J. Goltz, of the superintendent's office; W. J. Ackerman and S. G. Klotz, of the timekeeper's office; Dr. P. M. Towles, medical examiner, and R. G. Martz, of the trainmaster's office.

BECOMES CANADIAN MANAGER.

The Bowser Boomer announces the appointment of L. P. Murray to the position of Canadian manager. Mr. Murray was formerly mid-western manager of the Bowser sales force and is a very valuable man, the promotion coming in recognition of the faithful service he has rendered in the past. The new position which Mr. Murray has received is a very important one as he will have charge of the Canadian factory as well as the office and sales force.

LEG INJURED BY ARMATURE.

John Weaver, employed in the armature winding department of the General Electric works, sustained painful injuries early this morning, when an armature fell as he was handling it at the elevator, striking one of his legs. The limb was cut and bruised, but fortunately the bones were not broken. Mr. Weaver was sent to his home, where he was attended by Dr. Van Buskirk.

MANY GO HUNTING.

Thomas Gordon, J. E. Williams, E. Foster and H. E. Rehling, all employed at the Pennsylvania blacksmith shop, have gone hunting. The former two are at Zanesville and the latter at Grovetown, each party claiming that it will come back with the most bunnies.

ELEVEN ENGINES REPAIRED.

The Pennsylvania erecting shop force repaired eleven engines the past week. Following is a list of engines having undergone general repairs: Nos. 7082, 7203, 7435, 7513, 7519, 7722, 9022, 9038, 9248, 9383, 9568.

ZAHRT EAST ON BUSINESS.

W. G. Zahrt, assistant general manager of the Bowser firm, has left on an extended trip throughout the eastern states on company business.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

Charles Roe, armature winder for the Traction company, is in Chicago attending the funeral of a relative. J. C. Traxler, machine operator at the Pennsylvania blacksmith shop, is spending several days at Detroit, Mich. Master Mechanic G. W. Smith, of the Wabash, left this morning for Decatur on business for the company. J. H. Lauer, time clerk in the office of the G. R. & I., and his wife have gone to Elkhart to spend Sunday with relatives and friends. L. W. Winters, blacksmith helper at the Pennsylvania, was off duty by permission and left for Chicago to spend the week-end with relatives. F. C. Weberus, C. W. McCoy and C. E. Ryan, blacksmiths at the Pennsylvania, failed to appear for work this morning and gave sickness as their reason. H. A. Brinsley, Pennsylvania motive power inspector, is here for an over Sunday visit with his folks. His business keeps him from his home much of the time. C. R. Branson, Pennsylvania motive power inspector, left for Pittsburg and other points on the Pennsylvania lines last night on business that will keep him busy several days. Chief Clerk A. C. Twining, of Trainmaster C. L. Hamilton's office, is at the desk again, after being at Pittsburg and other points on the lines east on business for the company. U. E. Geese, M. Feuchter, William Diehl, A. J. Johnson and W. E. Warten, all blacksmiths at the Pennsylvania, were off duty today on account of sickness. C. D. Fricke, carpenter at the Pennsylvania shops, is unable to work on account of being sick and E. Bultemeyer, cab builder of the same shop, is also on the sick list. Fred Boyer, chief accountant of the motive power department of the Wabash, headquarters at St. Louis, is here today, looking after business connected with his office. Clyde Brentlinger, general foreman of the C. & A. C. paint shop at Mt. Vernon, Ohio, left for that city this morning, after a visit with his brother, C. N. Brentlinger, chief clerk of the motive power department of the Pennsylvania Northwest system.

RIGHT TO KEEP BACK
PART OF WAGES RAISED

Question Will Be Determined in Suit Against the Nickel Plate.

Whether or not a railroad company has the right to withhold a portion of an employee's wages to be applied to insurance is to be determined in a suit filed Saturday by Arthur V. Fry, a hoover against the Nickel Plate, Chicago and St. Louis Railroad company. Fryhoover is suing for $350 which he claims was wrongfully and unlawfully kept out of his monthly wages, earned by him as a brakeman. He alleges that each and every pay-day the company would pay his earnings and wages then due him, less $1.13, which it kept out and retained over his objection and protest in payment of dues or premiums for policy of insurance which it issued and carried on him to cover damages, payable to him in case he should meet death, receive injury or become sick while in its employment. He also claims that it is compulsory that all of the company's employees running upon the road take out such insurance and their premium payable once every two weeks.

THIRTY JURORS DRAWN

For Service in the Federal Court Next Month.

A venire of thirty jurors has been drawn for the term of federal court, which starts December 11. Eleven cases will be heard. They are as follows:

Standard Asphalt Rubber company against C. H. DeFrees.

George B. Updegrave against Harry O. Grothe.

Pamie E. Armstrong et al. against the Fort Wayne and Springfield Railway company.

Frank H. Cutshall, trustee, against Maurice Goldberger et al.

Imperishable Sill company against National Fire Proofing company.

William W. Canada against Pennsylvania company.

Laura E. Kresse against Grand Rapids & Indiana Railway company.

Herman M. Pence against Wabash Railway company.

Fairbanks Steam Shovel company against Wabash-Portland Cement company.

Martha S. Wells against Metropolitan Life Insurance company.

William W. Parker against Pennsylvania company.

Hearing Is Held.

A hearing was held Saturday afternoon on the report of the Lomont ditch first to be filed under the 1917 ditch law. The report shows that a total of $14,959.55 is due for cleaning and other work one on the ditch. The ditch is in Jefferson, Jackson and Milan townships. There is much objection to the amount charged and the farmers affected expect to fight the payment of it.

Called Her Names.

Because her husband persisted in calling her naughty names, Lena Hawkins has filed suit in the superior court asking for a divorce from Charles Hawkins. She also alleges that he repeatedly struck her and has made her life most miserable. Mr. and Mrs. Hawkins were united in wedlock in April of last year. Mrs. Hawkins is represented by H. Waveland Kerr.

Grosvenors Go East.

A. W. Grosvenor, county surveyor, accompanied by Mrs. Grosvenor and two daughters, Juliet and Florence, left Friday night for Amherst, Mass., where they will visit over Thanksgiving day with his parents, Prof. and Mrs. E. A. Grosvenor. The elder Mr. Grosvenor was on the faculty of Amherst college for forty years, retiring but a short time ago.

Notes of the Courts.

A suit was filed Friday by Prosecuting Attorney Frank A. Emrick against Clyde Rush, asking forfeiture of a $25 bond.

The El River Cemetery association filed suit Saturday against Orris Mohart for $114 alleged to be due on a note.

The deer thought to have been stolen from David C. Stout's automobile has been found. Arrangements are now under way for a big "feed" at the Bates hotel.

The assessment roll for the Strauss Bros. and Branch ditch in Pleasant township was filed in the county recorder's office Saturday.

Judge, Carl Yapple in the superior court Saturday granted a decree for divorce to Bertha Crawl from Delphos. Mrs. Crawl is given the custody of their child and Crawl is ordered to pay $3 a week for his support.

The case of Albert Freilshoffer and Frank Johnson against Henry W. Troutman in the superior court has been dismissed. The same action was taken in the suit brought by Jeanette Kliner against Hattie Metesker.

W. S. O'Rourke has been appointed commissioner by Judge Carl Yapple in the partition suit of William Traut against Magdalena Rondot. The property involved was ordered sold.

Sentence Suspended.

Judge J. W. Eggeman in the circuit court Saturday morning sentenced Carl Axt, 16, to thirty days in the county jail and fined him $1 and costs for stealing an automobile tire. The sentence was suspended pending Axt's good behavior. Judge Eggeman gave Axt a severe lecture, warning him to stay away from poolrooms and dance halls. The case against Thaddeus Skeer, who was also involved in the theft of an automobile tire, will be tried later.

Food Director Hoover Finds Great Improvement in the Situation.

WHEAT DELIVERY IS VASTLY BETTER

Mills Get Grain and Flour Prices Correspond With Prices of Wheat.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 24.—Marked increase in flour production and normal deliveries of wheat by farmers were noted today by Food Administrator Hoover in his October report to congress.

He reported that wholesale and retail flour prices were rapidly adjusting themselves to the fixed wheat price.

"Country deliveries of wheat," the report said, "show a large increase over those of last month and analysis based on previous years' percentages, indicates that the normal percentage of this year's crops has left the farm. A large part of the movement of what is being directed from the point of origin to the mill eliminating the transportation burden caused by shipment to the terminals and reshipment from there to the mills.

"With very few exceptions mills are being supplied to the extent of their need and an even distribution of wheat among them is being maintained. Mills are also running at a higher percentage of operation than is usual at this time of year and the production of flour as compared with that of a year ago shows a marked increase.

"The price of flour is generally at the mills fairly reflecting the wheat price and the wholesale and retail flour prices are rapidly adjusting themselves to the established wheat price."

ADVANCE OF BREAD PRICES.

Washington, Nov. 24.—Bread prices advanced 55 per cent during the sixteen months ending Oct. 1, while prices of flour advanced 249 per cent in the same period, but on Oct. 1 had declined to 128 per cent above the July, 1916, price, according to a chart presented by the baking industry today to the food administration. The analysis shows the average cost of other bread ingredients advanced 194 per cent during that time but on Oct. 1 had declined until they were but 119 per cent. Baking regulations promulgated by the food administration are considered reasonable and fair by the bakers, according to information from members and officials of the Associated Master Bakers.

SPECIALTIES STRONG
FEATURES OF MARKET

Rails Lead in Moderate Reaction, After an Uncertain Start.

New York, Nov. 24.—Specialties were the only strong features of today's brief stock market session. Rails led the moderate reaction as the result of existing transportation problems and numerous industrial shipments back 1 to 3 points in sympathy. The few notable exceptions included Canadian Pacific, General Electric and American Can.

The closing was heavy. Sales approximated 350,000 shares. Liberty fours sold at 97.62 to 98 and the 3 1/2's at 99.06 to 99.06.

Latest completion in the railroad situation arising from war conditions contributed to the uncertain tendencies manifested at the opening of today's stock market. Reading broke 1 1/2 and Southern Pacific a point, recessions in other rails being limited to fractions. Industrials and shipments were highly irregular at noon and losses, which ranged from 1 to 3 points. United States Steel reacted a point and crucible steel 2 points. Liberty fours sold at 97.62 to 97.90 and the 3 1/2's at 98.96 to 99.

PURDUE STUDENT IS KILLED BY TRAIN

Paul Kemp Believed to Have Been Trying to Steal Ride to Bloomington.

Lafayette, Ind., Nov. 24.—Paul A. Kamp, aged 19, a student at Purdue, was found dead beside the Monon railroad tracks south of here this morning. Evidently he had fallen from a train. Both legs were cut off and the trunk of his body was also mangled. It is thought he was beating his way to Bloomington on a night passenger train when he met death.

Raymond Carpenter, whose home is at Bloomington and who has been working here, was seriously injured and unconscious a few yards from Kamp's body. It is thought Carpenter, who was beating his way to Bloomington, fell from a train here and is still unconscious, having a fractured skull.

AT THE TRANSFER

WAR FILMS AT TRANSFER.

Sensational Pictures Show Crushing German Defeat in Arras. Sector.

"Nothing just like 'The Battle of Arras,' as shown at the Transfer Theater, has been seen here in the way of battle pictures. This film record of the British drive was so realistic that it seemed to bring the war overseas. There were glimpses of actual fighting. The huge tanks lumbered by, crossing ground that looked to be impassable. These tanks, more than anything else perhaps, conveyed an idea of the scale on which a modern engagement is conducted. Cans of all sizes were seen hurling their death stream upon the Germans. But best of all were the 'Tommys,' who went into the battle laughing and singing.

"The whole grim panorama of war passed in review, giving the audience a vivid picture of the task that lies ahead of us.

"The spectacle aroused such enthusiasm as has greeted few films of the from.

AMES COLLEGE WINS MEET.

Chicago, Nov. 24.—With a score of 62 points the Ames, Iowa, college team of runners won the annual cross country run of the western conference here today. Chicago was second with 59 points; Wisconsin third with 61; Ohio State fourth with 80, and Minnesota fifth with 87 points. The winning team's time was 26:48. The race was decided over a five mile course in Washington park. Purdue, winner of the event a year ago, did not enter a team.

FOOD SUBSTITUTES HAVE HIGHER COSTS

Cornmeal, Fish and Other Things Boosted as Demand Grows.

Indianapolis, Nov. 24.—Food authorities are having their attention called to the higher cost of "substitute foods." The essence of the war time food campaign is the argument in favor of substituting, on the American table, cornmeal for wheat, nuts and fish and poultry for meats and the saving of fats in all directions.

BLUFFTON LAWYERS NAMED.

Bluffton, Ind., Nov. 24.—William H. Eichhorn, Edwin C. Vaughn and Frank W. Gordon have been selected by the Indiana State War association and Jesse Eschbach, state conscription agent, to become a Wells county board to help the conscription board in the classifying of drafted men. This board with Mr. Eichhorn as chairman, will select other attorneys to help the drafted men in filling out the questionnaires, and will then help the conscription board in classifying such drafted men.

CORN THEFTS.

Hartford City, Ind., Nov. 24.—Many reports of corn thefts have been made by farmers living near this city. The farmers say people drive along in autos and stop long enough to get a small load of corn. They report that most of the thefts are at night. The funeral of Gola Patton, who was killed at Muncie Monday, when he was hit by an auto truck driven by Gola Smith, was held here. Coroner Downing, of Muncie, has not returned his verdict in the case. Smith is being held under $3,000 bond.

EIGHT NEW CLUBS.

Huntington, Ind., Nov. 24.—F. A. Loew, county agent, has organized eight farmers' clubs, the object being to bring about the raising of more hogs, and the conservation of pork by discouraging the selling of immature hogs. C. B. Benjamin, of Crown Point, Ind., accompanied Loew, and arrangements were made in each neighborhood visited to bring about co-operation that will provide every hog raiser with an adequate supply of corn.

ELEVEN CARS OF COAL.

Bluffton, Ind., Nov. 24.—Coal Administrator John Miller states that eleven cars of coal had been received in Bluffton so far this week. Two cars arrived this morning. The coal situation in Bluffton remains serious, however, as each car that comes in is almost unloaded from the car and delivered to persons who have had their order in previously. Persons who have not already placed an order for the coal cannot get it, it seems.

REMAINS OF DEAD SOLDIER SHIPPED

Concordia College Will Furnish Firing Squad and Bugler for Funeral.

The remains of Private Fred M. Cook, the Fort Wayne soldier who was accidentally killed by the discharge of firearms, have been shipped and will arrive in this city some time Sunday. The body will be taken to the Getz & Cahill undertaking parlors and later removed to the home of the mother, Mrs. Burman, on East Main street. A military funeral for Sunday will not be possible as the body will not arrive as soon as was expected. The funeral will probably be held on Monday or Tuesday. Concordia college will furnish a firing squad and a bugler to assist the Henry W. Lawton post of G. A. R. in the services at the grave. Flag service will be held by the S. W. Stick circle, Ladies of the G. A. R.

WILLING WORKERS' SOCIETY.

Clothing for the worthy poor of the city to be distributed by society. All clothing leave at 1102 W. Berry street, 2nd floor.

Request for Such Aid Must Be Approved by Council of Defense Committee.

Indianapolis, Nov. 24.—Requests for the co-operation of school children of the state in war work hereafter must be authorized by a committee of approval, a part of the state council of defense. The committee is to act as a clearing house to which requests for the co-operation of the children must be submitted. This committee has been created as a result of the unprecedented demands that are being made upon the time and energies of children. Superintendents all over the state are writing to the council objecting to the never-ending requests. The State Teachers' association, at its recent meeting in Indianapolis, recognized the educational section of the council as the official committee for the guidance of all war service required of the schools of Indiana. Accordingly, the committee on approval after studying the situation, has decided to send out a letter to all superintendents asking them not to permit any person or organization to ask school children to sign a war pledge without first securing the approval of the committee. The committee also advises school officials not to permit any person or organization to ask children to sign a war pledge, either for financial contribution or for service, without first giving them an opportunity to talk the matter over in their homes. This request is based on the theory that all propositions securing the support of boys and girls should be approved by their parents.

The committee on approval consists of J. J. Collicott, state vocational director; City Superintendent T. F. Fitzgibbon, of Columbus; County Superintendent T. T. H. Williams, state high school inspector, and J. J. Pettit, director of the extension division of Indiana university.

INCOME FROM MOVIE WAR TAX IS CONSIDERABLE

Movie fans of Fort Wayne are paying $1,500 weekly in war taxes. When it is estimated what a small proportion this sum is in comparison with the multitude of picture houses in the United States the income of this tax can be realized. Moving picture show patrons seem to be contented with the extra pennies levied upon them and little or no complaint has been heard up to this time.

In the 6c Coony's Broad-leaf and Little Havana Cigars quality will be remembered after the price is forgotten.

THE TANKS.

Again the tanks have become an almost romantic feature of the great war. General Haig's extensive employment of these engines to clear the way for General Byng's stunning drive into the Hindenburg line was attended with much success, though it is not yet entirely clear that the British victory was made possible by the initial performances of the tanks.

More than a year ago, when Haig launched his great smash on the Somme, this new phenomenon of the war was first uncovered. Volumes were written of them by the correspondents. They were treated with a good variety of opinions and sentiments and a great deal of enthusiasm was stirred by their performances. Some of the comments of the war writers were of a sort to lead the world to believe that a supernatural monster had been harnessed by the British and driven against the Germans. Others wrote of them in serious vein and there was as much concerning the ludicrous appearance of these great lumbering engines and the laughable terror they were said to have inspired in the breast of the foe as there was relating to the actual military accomplishments of the device. Something of a mystery was made to surround the tanks. Their nature, origin, place of construction and manner of operation were speculated upon at vast length and not much that was enlightening came out. Even so eminent a literary man as Hall Caine applied himself with mighty diligence to give the tank what was coming to it and with enthusiasm he proclaimed that the means of promptly beating the kaiser and ending the war had been found.

Then it was learned that the British tank was an adaptation of the American caterpillar farm tractor—a common enough engine in this country. And that was about all there was to it, save that a British officer had discerned the possibilities of taking the most powerful type of these tractors, giving it heavy armor and filling it with machine guns. It was simple enough, after it had been done, but there undeniably was some genius in conceiving the expedient. The tanks have been useful and if details of the late big drive of the British serve to confirm all that has been said in the first blush of enthusiasm of their performances in opening the way for the infantry and cavalry to advance against the powerfully constructed and strongly defended lines of the Germans the tanks will merit all that has been said of them.

There does not appear any reason to question that the use of the tanks in ripping away the maze of barbed wire entanglements which lay across the path of the British advance, thus making artillery preparation unnecessary and so permitting the general assault on a wide front to be launched at the surprise that most surely it was, did contribute vastly to the British success.

It is made known that the American armies in Europe will be provided with these armored tractors. It is conceivable that they will be an improvement on the British design, both in mobility and strength, for American engineers excel in that kind of construction, and with plenty of them they may cut a big figure in the war. Nevertheless, it has been made clear on many occasions that the high command of the American army means to place great reliance in its men and their superior practice with the rifle—which, as General Pershing stated not long since, is distinctly an American weapon and one with which Americans have made history. There will be no discounting of heavy artillery, machine guns or even tanks, but Americans can shoot and they can use cold steel with the best of them.

ATTACKING PROHIBITION LAW.

Only the more fatuous have supposed that the prohibition law passed by the legislature last winter would not be forced to a test in the courts. That the liquor traffic in Indiana would let the whole business go by the board without a fight was not to be thought. And the fight is on.

Two brewing concerns and a saloonist in Evansville have launched the attack upon the Indiana dry law and the enactment will have to be defended by the state in all the courts, no doubt, from the tribunal of first instance to the supreme court of the United States. A deal is at stake and the brewery, distillery and saloon interests of Indiana are not likely to let their case go by default.

No one can do much guessing worth while as to what will come out of these suits. The supreme court of the state in rather rapid succession nullified an unconstitutional enactment providing for a constitutional convention and the law granting partial suffrage to women. The friends of both of those measures all along expressed and no doubt felt the greatest assurance that the laws they had labored so diligently to procure would stand the test of the higher courts. Today the advocates and other friends of the prohibition law express an equal degree of confidence that the Indiana enactment to destroy the liquor traffic in the state will be completely upheld. Whether or not they truly feel the confidence they profess we cannot say.

If the prohibition law should be overthrown it will merely delay, not avert, destruction of the traffic. There can be no rational denial that the sentiment of the people of Indiana is for prohibition. So long as the people feel that way about it they will continue their assaults on the traffic. If they have placed dependence on a means that at length must be found to lack constitutional warrant, they will go about the matter in a way whereof there can be no question. It also may be consoling to them to reflect that before this great war has gone much farther the federal government may abolish booze and do it purely as a measure of war. Steps in that direction, if not to that end, already have been taken.

There is nothing discouraging in the filing of these suits. The launching of the attack was to be expected. Hope must be pinned to a belief that the legal advisors of the prohibition element knew what they were about when they drafted the law and that the supreme court of the state will so find. The friends of the law will reinforce the state's legal department with all aid and every proper resource that it can be thought will avail in defending the law.

It will soon begin to gravel Lenin, Trotzky and the rest of that red-shirt bunch in Petrograd to find that the allies have counted them and their country out of the game, are preparing to get on with the war no thanks to them and will be ready in due time to do some reckoning up if it becomes necessary. Meanwhile, it opens a new field for the sporty fellows to figure out the natural odds that the Bolshevik outfit will not last long enough to get salaries fixed. That will not much matter, if it is true that the red government has begun to take possession of the banks.

Of course Admiral Capps is sick—at heart, in his nerves and of his job as head of the shipping board. Building the world's ships is a hefty task even for America's finest naval constructor. And that, by the way, doubtless is the secret of the failure of Admiral Capps to completely deliver the goods. He knows how to build the finest warships afloat, but building tubs job-lots is what Mr. Perlmutter would call "something else again."

The assault on the Indiana dry law may be merely that booze wants to have it recorded in history there was no throwing up the sponge, but that John Barleycorn wasn't out till he was counted out. And then again booze, which always has made a specialty of having the best going in the way of legal talent, may have a clear notion of just what it is about.

What the Russ radicals need to sober them and make them appreciate the golden opportunities they are dissipating is about a year of some one of the czars who made Russian history and gave definition to the word despotism.

And it now is about four days—perhaps five—since the Honorable Mr. Alex Kerensky was last heard from. Which is a good while for Mr. Kerensky to be saying nothing whatever.

The Germans are finding that the Italians are about as choice a mess of fighting men as they have been up against in this war. The Austrians learned that long ago.

With Haig's bully drive and Italy's stiff defense there are some compensations for the loss of Russia's doubtful aid.

What a miserable din some people make with their thoughts.

There are only two kinds of people—those who know, and those who do not know. And it keeps us busy all the time scrambling from one class into the other.

There is one thing people never can borrow—the hammer is always at home ready for instant use. People do not tell as much of these days as of other things—which only goes to prove that the center of interest moves almost as rapidly as the center of population.

"If," remarks an author, "I could take the veil I'd do it." And we would do it, too, if we could make a clean get-away and pawn it afterward. We understand that the new Edison engine does not vibrate a single particle—and that is certainly a victory over the U-boats. They'll all stop to see why the engine doesn't jiggle, and some U. S. Geostroyer will sneak up on said U-boats and do the rest.

BYNG!

Interest of America in the Great War

By FRANK J. GOODNOW,
President Johns Hopkins University.

Paris in three weeks, London in three months, New York in three years, was the accepted German program.

The Pan-German propaganda which had been going on for the last twenty-five years proved beyond the peradventure of a doubt that the only reason why the attempt had not been made before to realize the grandiose conception of German world domination is to be found in the fact that those responsible for it were not ready. The day had not yet come. But in August, 1914, it was believed that the hour had struck. A short aggressive and successful war and the dream of centuries would be a reality. Paris in three weeks, London in three months, New York in three years was the accepted German program.

That the Germans might thus dream of world domination we may possibly comprehend. But that the German people should be willing to resort to the practices of which they have been shown to be guilty in order to realize their dream was hardly to be believed. They have, however, under Prussian influence, adopted a philosophy of life which makes it impossible for other nations and people to coexist on terms of equality. The pride indicated in the classic boast of Roman citizenship is almost abject humility when compared with the belief of modern Germans in their superiority to other peoples. For the Roman was willing so long as his political power was recognized to permit conquered races to live in a condition of at least an approximation to social and economic equality. The modern German, however, declares with a contemptuous frankness all non-Germanic civilization to be unworthy of perpetuation and announces his intention to disperse its degenerate followers to those parts of the earth where they will least interfere with the spread of Deutsche Kultur. To him the Teutons are the people chosen of God to redeem the world. Those who resist the will of God are guilty of impiety and for them no fate is too hard. With them no engagement however sacred need be kept. No means is too vile to resort to if it is thought to aid in the accomplishment of the divine purpose. Never since the times of the Old Testament has a nation so despised its neighbors as do the Germans of this day and hour. We must go back to the days of Assyria and Rome to find examples of such treatment of conquered peoples as modern Germany policy presents. Either Germany must be taught to see the error of her ways or we non-Germans must reconcile ourselves to become the submissive slaves of German masters. The fate of Belgium and northern France may well be ours.

But detestable as the German philosophy of life is, no one can doubt the triumphs of Teutonic efficiency. Probably never in the history of the human race has so large a body of men become capable of such efficient action as has the German nation in recent years. From a scientific point of view, from a military point of view, from an economic point of view, Germany has shown great strength. Opposed by almost the entire world she is still unconquered. To teach her the lesson she must be taught will require the devotion of all the power of those allied against her.

The non-German world is, then, at the present time confronted by an adversary who combines unbounding ambition and insufferable arrogance with unexampled efficiency and unscrupulousness without limit. We Americans, far removed as we are from the scene of Germany's first efforts to realize her ambitions, form an important part of the non-Teutonic world. We must not fall ourselves into security because of the remoteness of our geographical situation or the pacific character of our purposes. The Germans of the present day despite our capacity, envy our prosperity, and are not inclined to comply with our desire to pursue the even tenor of our ways in the continents which we have colonized and developed.

We have further in German pretensions a direct attack upon the kind of life which we have chosen to live. Two characteristics have distinguished the modern European life in which we have a share. The first is internationalism, the second is democracy.

Internationalism is the solution which we have been endeavoring and successfully endeavoring to reach, of the problems incident to the national state. The most noticeable phenomenon of modern European political life has been the development of the national state. While the ideal of the national state has been only approximated, while all races have not been politically organized, and while some races have found a home in more than one state, at the same time the coexistence of a number of politically sovereign organizations has of itself been a denial of the idea of world domination.

Internationalism is the method which has been adopted for regulating the relations of these separate political organizations. Rules of conduct have been generally adopted to which all members of the family of nations have in the past rendered obedience. The ideal of internationalism has of course not been completely realized, but enough progress had been made prior to the outbreak of the present war to justify the belief that a reasonable approximation to that ideal would ultimately be reached. No country perhaps has in the past century contributed more to the realization of the ideals of internationalism than the United States. This country has always stood for those principles the application of which would, on the one hand, lessen the probability of the development of hostile relations between states and, on the other, would offer a means for the peaceful settlement of such disputes as might arise. America's past history thus causes her to have a peculiar interest in the further development of the principles of internationalism.

The maintenance even of the accepted principles of internationalism is, however, inconsistent with the conception of world control which is at present the mainspring of German policy. That policy cannot recognize any such thing as equality among political groups. All must be subordinated to the one great power. If, therefore, we are to hope for the further development of an international life we must fight to the death German pretensions.

The second characteristic of modern European life has been the development of democracy. Democratic ideas originated in England. They were brought to this country when it was colonized and received a development which was hardly dreamed of in the land of their birth. Thence they spread to France and through France to most of western Europe. The seeds of democratic ideas fell, however, in Germany among the thorns of autocratic government and the thorns sprang up and choked them. Just as the French revolution and the Napoleonic wars brought democracy to most of western Europe, so the present war has given it to Russia, where autocracy in its extreme form had been able to maintain itself.

We have therefore allied against German autocracy practically all of western Europe, together with Japan, Russia, and the United States. If the autocratic governments of the central powers are successful; in this war, democracy will be judged a failure and the struggle and agony of centuries will have gone almost for naught.

In other words, most of the things for the realization of which the founders of this country struggled and for which Americans have stood during our century or more of independent political existence are at issue in this war. The national state with its incidents, internationalism, self-government, and democracy, all are imperiled. The war is thus an American war even if no single battle is fought on our own soil. If, which God forbid, through the victory of the central powers over our European allies, the conflict were brought to our shores, our efforts would in all probability be but the desperate struggles of the victim whose fate was due to the fact that beguiled by the fair speech of the oppressor he began too late to fight.

CRUSH THE SPY SYSTEM.

(Toledo Blade.)
Last Sunday night, a Great North-east passenger train carrying five hundred soldiers was wrecked. By one of those miracles which are sometimes associated with railway wrecks the casualties were confined to the serious injury of two trainmen and the slight injury of perhaps a score of soldiers. Railroad officers at St. Paul believe that the mechanism of the last car, occupied by the commissioned men, had been tampered with.

Whether this suspicion is warranted or not, it is inevitable that the Prussian spies and plotters in this country, having been given so much rope, should turn their attention to troop trains. They have burned elevators at Brooklyn and stockyards at Kansas City, and escaped scot-free. They have caused a $5,000,000 fire in Baltimore, and not one of them is under arrest. In one month, there have been nineteen fires which destroyed either large stocks of foodstuffs or warehouses filled with munitions. There have been too many such conflagrations, they have been too closely confined to materials affecting the war, to be set down as part of the chronic hazards of fire. No one except a fool would say there was no relationship between this destruction and the spy system.

Lucky with the torch and with dynamite, the spy naturally goes the step further and tampers with railroad equipment. Lucky in that, he will most certainly see what he can do with bridges and tunnels, with rails and ties. The country must awaken to this menace. It has been far too careless, too easy going. It is bad enough that we should have to carry on a terrible war in Europe without having to carry on a war against German agents and German sympathizers at home. The spy system must be crushed.

FROM THE SENTINEL PAGES 25 YEARS AGO

John First, of 209 West Washington street, fell and broke his right clavicle the other day. Dr. Havice is attending the lad, who is recovering.

George Neidhamer, a well known and highly respected citizen, died at his home at No. 53 Melita street, yesterday, of pneumonia.

A Larry Randall celebrated his birthday anniversary Friday and in the evening he was surprised by a number of his south side friends.

Mrs. D. L. Harding entertained Mesdames James Wilding, J. M. Miller, M. A. Eakin and L. Snyder at luncheon in honor of Mrs. E. S. Underhill, who leaves shortly for Toledo to spend the winter with her daughter, Mrs. John Stophlet.

This morning about 8 o'clock Mrs. Dr. Young telephoned the police station that a mad dog had possession of the Young household, on the corner of Faber and Webster streets. Lieutenant Lapp responded and found the dog frothing at the mouth and otherwise acting in a suspicious manner, but the animal quieted down and in a short time was about as well as usual.

A hold and partially successful attempt was made early yesterday morning to burglarize the clothing establishment of J. G. Thiemie & Son, on the corner of Columbia and Clinton streets. About the hour of 3 o'clock Night Watchman Madden was making his customary rounds, when he discovered burglars at work in the store. Entrance had been effected at a window in the rear. The shutters had been forced open and the window pried up. The burglars, two in number, had then climbed into the store room and partially closed the shutters and put up boards on the inside to prevent their light from being seen from the outside. A third man kept watch a short distance from the window upon the outside. Watchman Madden saw the light upon the inside and thinking something was wrong, hurried off to the Nickel Plate depot where he would be at the depot at that hour. Tarkenton and Madden then went back to the scene of burglary, but the birds had flown.

EVANGELISTIC CAMPAIGN OPENS AT EVANGELICAL CHURCH SUNDAY

MRS. DAISY DOUGLAS BARR

Mrs. Daisy Douglas Barr, who opens an evangelistic campaign in the Crescent Avenue Evangelical church Sunday, Nov. 25th, needs no introduction to the people of Fort Wayne. Mr. Barr's name became a household word during the campaign conducted by Dr. Lyon. Sixteen years' experience in the leading pastorates in her denomination prepared Mrs. Barr for the great work she is now doing. In the past two years Mr. Barr has given her entire time to Union Tabernacle meetings conducted in some of our larger cities, but this year, owing to coal and lumber conditions, it seemed best to give up the tabernacle campaigns and continue the work through single churches.
Mrs. Barr and her party have just closed a most successful revival in the First Methodist church of South Bend. More than 500 decisions were made in this meeting. Dr. Henry L. Davis, pastor of the South Bend church, states that Mr. Barr and her party are the most efficient workers he has been privileged to work with. Mr. Barr reaches the hearts of both men and women. Her meetings for men only have been the most popular of the campaigns. In Lebanon, Ind., the attendance was so large at the second meeting for men only that the overflow filled a second church and a third church was being utilized when it was announced that she could give the address to but two churches. Her meetings really demand a tabernacle, and it is only because of the conditions mentioned that she is now carrying her campaigns into single churches.
Miss Mason, who is Mrs. Barr's assistant, is a woman of wide experience, having been connected with the Night Church of Chicago for a number of years. Miss Mason will conduct the Sunday meetings for women only and will give the morning and evening addresses the first Sunday. She is also the pianist of the party, being a graduate of the New England Conservatory of Music.

SOCIETY

Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Reul, of West Jefferson street, announced the engagement of their daughter, Thelma, to Mr. Fred D. Miller, son of Mrs. John W. Miller, of Kendallville. The time of the wedding is not decided upon but will probably take place in the spring. Miss Reul has a wide circle of friends and is known as a charming and cordial hostess as well as a young woman exceedingly fond of her home and of housekeeping accomplishments. Miss Reul went to Washington and spent a few months at Fairmount seminary, specializing in domestic science following her studies in the Fort Wayne high school. Mr. Miller holds a responsible position with the S. F. Bowers company and is prominent in the Friar's organization of which he is secretary.

Miss Anna Koehlinger, whose approaching marriage is causing a circle of her young women friends to entertain in her honor frequently, was the center of a theater party at the Orpheum last evening. Afterwards the company of fourteen girls went to Anna's where a dainty decorated table with a beautiful basket filled with pom-pom chrysanthemums and white roses with pretty nut baskets of yellow and white and corsage bouquets for everyone as well as another gift for the bride-elect. There are to be several parties during the coming week for Miss Koehlinger.

Is It Hard to Understand?

When a man works every day to support his family and doesn't drink or otherwise waste his earnings, but is still unable to furnish enough for all of them to be comfortable, then winter becomes one long and worried "how." Because it costs a lot to feed a family of several children just potatoes, bread and milk, only, and much more to get fuel for just one fire. Then there's rent to pay, because houses can't be had for nothing, and it takes some sort of light in short hour days, and always there's clothing. Even if a man can manage to make his dollars elastic enough to cover the absolute necessities, can he be blamed if he wants a bit of meat or a pound of butter or oleomargarine or a can of molasses? As for shoes—think of paying the cost of three pairs of shoes out of a week of wages at fifteen dollars a week. Not five-dollar shoes either. It is of such families and of such individual cases that the Willing Workers know and sometimes take under their sheltering wing and help tide them over the "how" of winter days. Just now the society finds need of clothing, especially for children from one to twelve years of age. Several families are in need of a stove. Mercury dropped to ten degrees last night. Imagine a house with one small cook-stove in it to warm even a five-room cottage. To be sure fresh air is fine for sleeping, but it gets monotonous when one has to eat it for breakfast. Think of mother getting breakfast of mush and milk, potatoes and cheap coffee with from three to six children trying to get warm, washed and dressed in the kitchen at the same time. Then it will be easy to understand the appeal of the Willing Workers, who have looked up every case they try to help and now implore their fortunate brothers and sisters to give stoves, out-grown clothing and cast-off bedding.

Mrs. C. J. Schoo has gone to New Albany to visit relatives for a few days. Mrs. John Feltz, of Chilton avenue, will entertain the Athena club on Tuesday afternoon.

Miss Lucille Franke, of Forest Park boulevard, entertains the Qui Vive club at supper this evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank DeWald and Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Lauer are going to Elkhart for a week-end visit.

Mrs. Fred H. McCulloch delivered an address before the Woman's Suffrage organization in Delphi yesterday.

Mrs. Lyman T. Rawles has returned from Fort Riley, Kan., where she visited her husband, Dr. Rawley, at Camp Funston.

Mrs. Tillie Burnell, who has been visiting her nephews, F. B. and C. E. Bowser, of Detroit, Mich., for a month, has returned home.

Mrs. Nancy Van Swearingen and little daughter, Nancy, left yesterday for Philadelphia after a visit here with Dr. and Mrs. Van Swearingen.

Mrs. C. W. Lang, accompanied by her children and her mother, Mrs. Anna R. Jackson, are going to Pasadena, Cal., to remain all winter.

There will be a meeting of the Council of Jewish Women on Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the new synagogue, corner of Fairfield avenue and Wayne street.

The members of the Big Four club gave a dancing party on Thursday evening in Tanner's hall. This is a newly organized club and the party was a great success. Franklin's jazz orchestra supplied the music.

Mr. and Mrs. O. N. Hart, of Fairfield avenue, have received word from their son, Orville Raymond Hart, who has been with the aviation corps at San Antonio, Texas, for some time, that he has been sent to the United States Military Air school, at Berkeley, Cal., for eight months' training.

Mrs. Maude Pressler and Miss Ivy Schild are to give a dinner party on Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Pressler in Northwest boulevard, in honor of Miss Anna Koehlinger, a bride-to-be, of December. On Wednesday evening Misses Josie Lynch and Elsie Jacobs are to be hosts for the same bride-elect. Three beautifully appointed parties have been given in honor of Miss Koehlinger this week.

A surprise party was given on Wednesday evening by Miss Anna Schamerlohn in honor of Carl Floor, who is going to Louisville, Ky., on business. The guests were Misses Mathilda Dudenhofer, Lucie Keanke, Lavine Buhr, Alma Rubtz, Selma Clauss, Rose Schodenkey, Louise Schamerlohn, Martha Kunberger, Mrs. W. E. Erisig, and Messrs. William Erisig, Davis, Carl and Peter Floor, George Schamerlohn. Prizes in games were won by Messrs. Dudenhofer and Davis. A lunch was served and enjoyed.

The Philanthropic department of the College club, of which Miss Minette Baum is chairman, is highly pleased with the success of the sale of hand-work of the blind of the state. That has been conducted at the Wolf & Dessauer store. The largest number of goods as well as the largest amount of money for the benefit of these afflicted inmates of the state institution for the blind people, has been handled and secured through the efforts of the College club. Prof. J. E. Lumley, of Indianapolis, who lectured before the club yesterday afternoon, was enjoyed by a large membership who profited by the stimulating and educational lecture on "Some Steps Toward the Millennium."

The Social Hour club met on Thursday and enjoyed their anniversary dinner at the home of its president, Mrs. Harry Rodgers, 2336 Bowser avenue. This club is composed of mothers who have household cares and duties and meet at the home of one of the members for a good social time. The members were all present at this fifth anniversary chicken dinner and included the following ladies: Mrs. Pearl Call, Mrs. Jessie Porter, Mrs. Myrtle McNamee, Mrs. Braun, Mrs. Clara Guenther, Mrs. Dorothy Lynn, Mrs. Thelma Lynn, Mrs. Bessie Rodgers, Mrs. Norma Miller, Mrs. Grace Miller, Mrs. Emma Vincent, Mrs. Mary Rodgers, Clara Porter, Harold Braun, Ralph Call, Kathleen Lynn, Elsie, June and Nell Rodgers. Mrs. Edna Burke and Mrs. Lee Wilson were guests. Election of officers resulted in Mrs. Mary Rodgers being re-elected president and Mrs. Bessie Rodgers, secretary-treasurer.

Richmiller-Brandige.

The marriage of Miss Sidney C. Brandige, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Brandige, of North Wells street, and Mr. William G. Richmiller, an accountant, took place at the parsonage of St. John's Reformed church Saturday morning at 9:30 o'clock. Rev. H. P. Dannecker performed the ceremony and immediate relatives were witnesses. The bride and groom left at once for their own residence in Michigan avenue.

Gave Tea for Miss Faulkner.

Miss Georgene Faulkner, of Chicago, the "story teller lady," who gave two beautiful teas this week, was the honor guest at an informal tea at the T. W. C. A., following the afternoon talk today in Plymouth church. The hostesses were Chicago National Kindergarten college graduates, who are teaching in this city, Misses Georgia Leary, Irma Crouse, Margaret Colney, Marian McAuliffe, Dorothy Saviers. Miss Faulkner is as charming to meet as she is in her story telling and the tea party was a thoroughly delightful affair.

WITH THE STUDY CLUB

The Saturday club will meet on Monday afternoon with Mrs. J. C. Thieme. The Round Table club will meet on Monday evening with Miss Loretta Hayes to discuss the history and making of the constitution of the United States.

There will be a meeting of the Travel club with Mrs. M. J. Clear on Monday afternoon.

The Day View Study club will meet on Tuesday with Mrs. Hugh Olds, 1815 Bayview avenue. Loyal and its monuments, the African chief Bryant and the reading of a "Woman's Part in Government," together with quotations concerning Thanksgiving, will be the program.

The Woman's Reading club will meet on Tuesday for its fortnightly Red Cross work.

Dr. George S. Bliss will read a paper before the Fortnightly club on Monday evening on the subject of "Feeble-mindedness as a Social Problem."

Women Must Decide About Sunday Working

By REV. CHARLES STELZIE. Let's put it down at the outset that knitting sweaters and socks for soldiers is a "labor of love" as well as of necessity. And the need is so great we can't regard ordinary "Sabbath observance" rules as final.

The women who knit have always cooked our meals on Sunday. They have been busy about a lot of things justified by "the law of necessity"—although much of their Sunday work has been due either to mismanagement or their families' selfishness.

The soldiers need sweaters much more than most of us need special meals and personal service on Sunday. Therefore, if it's right that women should do Sunday work for us under normal conditions, they should knit for the soldiers on Sunday—if they wish.

But there are other considerations, and we may as well be honest with ourselves regarding them.

Much as our boys need sweaters, they need bullets more. And England has discovered a seven-day week is bad for munition workers, and our government is insisting upon an eight-hour day, even on war jobs.

It's not most women who knit sweaters don't work as hard or as steadily as munition workers.

If they do work as hard, they have no more right to knit sweaters on Sunday than the munition workers have to work seven days per week; and if they don't why can't they put in more time work days so they won't be compelled to knit on Sunday?

Knitting, isn't it true many women knit on Sunday because it's a pretty good way to pass the time? Couldn't they turn out as much if they knitted more systematically during the week? This doesn't apply to women whose work occupies every week-day moment (Officially Prepared for the Sentinel by the U. S. Food Administration.) These menus do not aim to make Thanksgiving a "fix" day, because that is hardly the idea of the food administration, in asking the people of the United States to eat "wisely and without waste."

It is not necessary that anyone should be deprived of the needful amount of food. As a matter of fact it is very like the situation in the old fairy story, when the old peddler called to Aladdin's wife, "New Lamps for Old." We are calling to the citizens of the United States, "New Food for Old," but in this case they will find that to which they have become accustomed.

Briefly, we should try in all our recipes to use other cereals in place of a part of the wheat flour; syrups, molasses, and honey, as well as dried fruits should furnish sweetening wherever possible, thus sparing the sugar; butter should be replaced in all desserts with other fats; whipped cream disperses so common in the past must be given up for the present for there is a scarcity of cream and it should be used to produce butter whenever possible. Local products should be given the preference over food that must be brought from a distance.

The following recipes of foods in the above menus:

Scotch Bread.
One cupful liquid, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 cupful rolled oats, 1-4 yeast cake, dry or compressed, in 1-4 cupful lukewarm water, 2-3 cupfuls white flour. Scald the liquid, add salt, and pour over the rolled oats. Cool slowly, letting it stand 1-2 hour. Add yeast and sifted flour, knead, and let rise until doubled in bulk. Knead again, let rise in pan till light. Bake in a moderate oven from 50 to 60 minutes.

Corn Meal Crust for Pumpkin Pies.
Grease a pie tin. Cover it with corn meal by shaking with a rotary motion. Have corn meal covering pan to a depth of 1-16 to 1-8 inch. Fill with honey, salt and vinegar. Add the Corn Meal Yeast Bread.

One and one-quarter cupful liquid, 1-2 teaspoonfuls salt, 2-3 cupful corn meal, 1-4 yeast cake, dry or compressed, in 1-4 cup lukewarm water, 2-3 cupfuls flour.

Pour the liquid over the corn meal and salt, and heat to the boiling point. Cook 20 minutes in the double boiler or over hot water. Cool, add yeast and flour, knead, let rise till double in bulk. Knead again shape into loaf and let rise in the pan until the bulk has again doubled. Bake 50 minutes.

Apricot Chess Pies with Oatmeal Crust.
Two cupfuls fine ground oatmeal 1 cupful boiling water, 1 teaspoonful fat.

Scald oatmeal with water. Add fat and mix thoroughly. Roll very thin and line small pie or tart tins with the mixture. Bake lightly, fill with apricot marmalade. Top with meringue if desired.

Corn a la Southern.
One cupful dried corn, 2 eggs, 1 teaspoonful salt, 1-2 teaspoonful pepper, 1-2 tablespoonful oleomargarine, 1 pint scalded milk.

Soak the corn in warm water until it has absorbed all the liquid possible. Add slightly beaten eggs and other ingredients in order given and bake in slow oven until firm.

Rye Bread.
One cupful liquid, 1 teaspoonful salt, 1-4 yeast cake, dry or compressed, in 1-4 cupful lukewarm water, 2-3 cupfuls rye flour, 2-3 cupfuls white flour.

Scald the liquid, cool till lukewarm, add salt, yeast, and sifted flour. Mix thoroughly, knead, let rise till double in bulk. Knead again, shape into loaf, and let rise in the pan until the bulk has again doubled. Bake 50 minutes.

Honey Dressing for Fruit Salad.
Two egg yolks, 1-3 cupful strained honey, 1-3 cupful vinegar, pinch of salt, whites of 3 eggs

Beat egg yolks slightly, add the honey, salt and vinegar. Cook in double boiler until it thickens. Beat with egg beater as it thickens in boiler so that it will be smooth. Cool slightly. Fold in the stiffly beaten whites. Garnish with canned red cherry when it is added to the salad.

Plum Pudding.
One cupful dried bread crumbs, 1-2 cupful vegetable oil or hardened vegetable fat, 1 cupful corn syrup, 1 cupful seeded raisins, 1 cupful currants, 1-2 cupful finely cut citron, 1-2 cupful finely cut figs, 1 tablespoonful candied lemon peel, 1 tablespoonful 1-4 teaspoonful cinnamon, 1-4 teaspoonful cloves, 1-4 teaspoonful ginger, 3-4 cupful fruit juice, 1 cupful flour.

Mix in the order and add enough cold water to make a stiff mixture. Turn into a well-greased pudding mold or into two smaller molds filling the molds only two-thirds full. Cover the mold tightly and place in boiling water and boil 6 to 7 hours. Remove the pudding from the mold when cold. This may be made two weeks before Thanksgiving, but must be reheated by boiling 1 hour just before serving. Serve with pudding sauce.

Cranberry Ice.
Make the cranberry ice by using 1 cupful corn syrup, 1 cupful water, 2 cupfuls of cranberry pulp and liquid and 2 tablespoonfuls lemon juice.

Cranberry Sauce.
Sweeten the cranberry sauce with corn syrup instead of sugar.

Baked Rabbit.
Prepare and skewer rabbit for roasting. Make stuffing of bread crumbs, softened with milk, seasoned with parsley, marjoram, thyme, nutmeg, salt and pepper, and with 1-4 cupful shortening added to other ingredients. Stuff the rabbit and sew up. Dredge with flour and shortening and bake frequently. Roast 1 hour. Serve with parsley sauce.

For Indiana: Fair tonight and Sunday; continued cold.

For Lower Michigan: Partly cloudy tonight and Sunday; not quite so cold tonight and Sunday.

Shippers' forecast (radius 300 miles): Protect shipments during the next 24 to 36 hours from temperatures as follows: North, 15 to 20 degrees; east and west, 20 degrees; south, 20 to 30 degrees.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

The pressure is low on the north Atlantic coast and over the plateau region, with a ridge of high pressure reaching southward from Manitoba to the Gulf coast. Except that scattered precipitation occurred at widely separated stations in the northwest and snow in the upper Ohio valley, and thence northeastward, the weather has been generally fair during the last 24 hours. Moderate temperatures obtain in western districts, but over quite an extended area from the lakes southward to the Gulf coast the weather is considerably cooler than the normal, with freezing temperatures as far south as the northern portion of the Gulf states.

SUGARLESS DAYS FOR FORT WAYNE PEOPLE

Outlook for New Supply Not Very Encouraging Say Dealers.

Sugarless days will be observed by Fort Wayne people quite frequently in the future, because of the scarcity of freight cars. One pound of sugar to a customer was all that most grocery keepers were able to sell Friday, and today few of them are able even to sell that. Wholesale grocers have little hope of obtaining a supply within the next few days, and it is evident that sugarless dishes will appear upon many tables.
The outlook for the future is far from encouraging, cane sugar is a negative quantity and beet sugar will also be a thing of the past before the end of January. At present there is a considerable supply of beet sugar but it is impossible to obtain it because of the lack of cars. The Cuban crop is not only doubtful, but later than usual.

TRIES TO SUICIDE BY HACKING WRIST

Jacob Schmidt, the drunk arrested for uttering decided pro-German statements, attempted to end his life in a novel manner Friday evening. When locked in jail Schmidt's belongings were taken from him, but he was permitted to retain his watch. His father arrived at Schmidt's cell Friday and found the man hacking his wrist with the lid of his watch which he had removed. Although blood had been drawn his injuries were not serious. He was removed to the hospital ward of the jail. Schmidt is in a very weakened condition owing to his long drunk.

Francis J. Wallis, of Pittsburgh, Wis., age fifty, tried to enlist in the engineers corps, but was refused because of his age. He then sold his property and bought $9,500 worth of liberty bonds.

Tells How to Stop a Bad Cough

Surviving results from this home-made syrup. Easily prepared and costs little.

If you have a severe cough or chest cold accompanied with soreness, throat tickle, hoarseness, or difficult breathing, or if your child wakes up during the night with croup and you want quick help, just try this pleasant tasting home-made cough remedy. Any drug-gist can supply you with 24 ounces of Pinex (60 cents worth). Pour this into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Thus prepared, you have a pint of really remarkable cough remedy—one that can be depended upon to give quick and lasting relief at all times.

You can feel this take hold of a cough in a way that means business. It loosens and raises the phlegm, stops throat tickle and soothes and heals the irritated membrane that lines the throat and bronchial tubes with such promptness, ease and certainty that it is really astonishing.
Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and is noted for its speed in overcoming severe coughs, throat and chest colds. Its millions of enthusiastic users have made it famous the world over.

AT THE PALACE

AMERICAN COMEDY.

Joe D'Arcy's Rough and Ready Singing Comedians at Palace.

Joe D'Arcy's American Comedy Four, a singing quartet of slam bang comedians, whose nutty fun antics never fail to tickle an audience, and whose close harmony is a treat to music lovers, will feature the bill opening Sunday afternoon for four days at the Palace. These absurd comedians have been singing together for years and their present act is the result of close observation of just the stuff that appeals most to a vaudeville audience.

Ernetta Asoria and company, a trio of exquisite dancers, a man and two lovely girls, will present an arrangement of classical and novelty numbers, beautifully staged and delightfully costumed. Richard Carroll, Joe Roddy and Emma Mayner have a bit of travesty in store for the fans in their Handkerchief No. 15, a story of a married man who impersonates the Caliph of Bagdad and fares forth in the search of nocturnal adventure. He finds it in chunks, his mother-in-law furnishing some of it. Johnny O'Connor and Frank Dixon's bit of high speed fun, Hired and Fired, is a snappy lot of comedy talk about a janitor and his inability to "janit." Eddie Noyer and Rosa Danto's "At the Wistaria Inn," is an original singing, dancing and talking skit with some exceptionally witty lines. The Aerial Mitchells in their athletic triumph, a comedy revolving break away ladder stunt and the Buch Brothers in a bang up fun festival, complete this bill.

The current program, which closes this evening, includes Hugo Jansen's Fashion Shop, with its Broadway Models; Leavitt and Lockwood, a pair of hilarious funsters in a brilliant bit of comedy talk and song; Bob Zeno and Eva Mandell in their talking and instrumental laugh skit, "At the Beehive"; Hugh McCormick and the lovely Grace Wallace in the ventriloquial turn, "The Theatrical Agency"; the Four Ankers in novelty gymnastics and the DeLuxe Trio in songs, dances and impersonations.

LAST TIME AT THE PALACE THIS EVENING

A camp is being built at Hoquiam, Wash., where George Behan and his company will spend a month taking scenes of his forthcoming production, "Judge of the Strong Heart."

Richard Ordynski, director of the Metropolitan Opera house, New York, has been engaged by Fox to play opposite Theda Bara in a new production, "The Rose of Blood." Mr. Ordynski wrote the scenario.

Mae Murray has purchased a ten-acre ranch near San Bernardino, Cal. There is a comfortable house on the place and quite a large garden. Miss Murray is having an outdoor swimming pool constructed to which water will be carried from Arrowhead Springs in the San Bernardino mountains.

Robert Louis Stevenson's dearly loved book, "Treasure Island," is to be the next screen vehicle for the Fox film kiddies. Francis Carpenter and Virginia Lee Corbin will play the leads.

Under the tutelage of Miss Kathleen Clifford, "Fatty" Arbuckle has learned how to knit.

Emmy Wehlen has gone south to take a much needed rest before starting work on her next production.

Billie Rhodes heard a funny noise in a hollow tree not far from her home and undertook to find out the cause. She found a "bee tree." She tried to smoke the bees out by burning a lot of smoking tobacco in a hole at the base of the tree, and succeeded so well, that for a week Miss Rhodes stayed at home while her maid applied cooling embrocations where they were most needed. Miss Rhodes insists that the joke was on the bees, for when the tree was cut down she found eighty pounds of brown honey.

Bessie Barriscale is looking for another home. She figured that living in a flat would be a change, especially as servants are hard to keep. But expectations have not been realized, and she has decided that there is no place like home.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Robert K.—There is very little opportunity for a boy of fifteen in the moving pictures. In fact, it may be stated there is none at all.

Mildred—Theda Bara played in "Under Two Flags" and is now doing "Du Barry." Creighton Hale is now appearing in "Seven Pearls."

Alice D.—Jack Holt is still with Lasky and Earle Fox with Goldwyn.

Vera L.—Francis Ford and Grace Cunard are both back at Universal City but in different companies.

Grace W.—Billie Burke was christened Ethel Burke. She is 31 and Anita Stewart is 20. Thomas Meighan is the husband of Frances Ring, the sister of Blanche Ring.

A. F.—Charles Ray is 26 years old, married, lives in Los Angeles and his auto is a Worsler, at present, or something like that. Yes, he has been seen here at the Jefferson.

Miss G. W.—Mary Pickford is an inch taller than Marguerite Clark, who is an inch under five feet.

Irene J.—The baptismal name of Mary Miles Minter is Juliet Shelby. Baby Marie Osborne works on a salary and percentage basis.

COME WEDNESDAY

TO AVOID CROWDS

Outside Patrons Like the Suburban Shopping Day Plan.

The Fort Wayne merchants who have adjusted their plans to meet the demands of the people in buying conservatively, are finding that the thousands who are now coming to the city from outside towns and farming communities are delighted with the idea of having a mid-week shopping day—Wednesday—in which they have especially attractive inducements for trade, and enable them to transact their business in greater comfort than can possibly be done on Saturday when the town crowds are on the street and in the stores.

Saturday day has been welcomed gladly on this account. The people are choosing carefully everything they buy. In order to do this, shopping must be done under the best of conditions. These conditions prevail on Wednesday of each week through the combination of special prices for the day and the absence of the congestion which prevails when the city crowds are downtown. The easy

WILSON'S STOCK FOR SALE.

Columbus, O., Nov. 24.—Now that it is assured that the American association circuit will remain intact next season, Joe Tinker, president and manager of the Columbus club, will attempt to sell some of the stock held by Thomas E. Wilson, the Chicago packer, to Columbus citizens. "I did not feel like asking any Columbus people to make an investment until I was certain no changes were to be made in the circuit," Tinker said. "Mr. Wilson, as is generally known, owns most of the stock. It will be a good thing for the game to have it owned by Columbus business men." Tinker denied that he was considering the St. Louis Americans or any other than Columbus next season.

DEPARTED MARTYRS

Wearers of Green Assemble to Hear Popular Countrymen Eulogized.

Division No. 1, Ancient Order of Hibernians, held memorial services for three Irish martyrs, Allen, Larkins and O'Brien, at Library hall on Friday evening. Hon. William P. Breen presided as chairman and introduced the speaker of the evening, Claude G. Bowers. Mr. Bowers' address was a pleasing one and combined the patriotism of the dead Irish patriots with the names of patriotic Americans such as Anthony Wayne and Commodore Barry.

A musical program followed the address. Miss Elizabeth Summers delighted her auditors with the song "Where the River Shannon Flows." As an encore she gave "There is Something in the Name of Ireland." Miss Helen Keller, pianist, and Miss Helen Brown, violinist, accompanied her. Miss Brown also gave several violin selections. The program was opened by a piano selection, "National Airs," by John Vennhoff.

BEAUTIFUL MODEL SAYS: "BEAUTY IS A CURSE—IT CAN NEVER WIN LOVE"

MRS. J. P. SIMMONS.

Special Dispatch from
FREDERIC E. HANLIN,
Our New Orleans Correspondent.
New Orleans, La., Nov. 23.—It has taken the "most beautiful model" just nine months to find out again, she says,
that beauty can't win love.
"It's a curse!" she says.
"I'd rather be the ugliest woman in the world than have the reputation of being the most beautiful model."
"If I were ugly, I'd have nothing to worry about."
And these are just a few of the sayings of Mrs. J. P. Simmons, divorced wife of Abe Hammerstein, son of the theatrical king of New York, and now wife of a piano store owner of New Orleans.

MISTER TROTZKY SEES A COLLAPSE OF WAR

Woozy Speech Made by the Bolshevik Minister of Foreign Affairs.

London, Nov. 24.—The Daily Mail
in its issue this morning prints a dispatch from Petrograd which reports the salient features of a "violent, demonstrative speech" by Leon Trotzky, the Bolshevik foreign minister to the workmen's council. The speech, says
the correspondent, was made possible only by the level of intelligence of the foreign minister's audience. Trotzky gave indications of how the allies and the enemies had received the peace proposal. He dealt blows all around,
his only bright hope being Italy, whom he considered out of action, owing to her loss of artillery. England, who was the ringleader of the whole movement merely continued the war for what she could get, according to the speaker. France's reply was in the form of Clemenceau's middle class,
imperialistic cabinet but the French people were looking for only a reasonable excuse to emerge from the war with some claim of victory in order to justify their entrance into the war.
The United States only entered the war because she was forced into it by her capitalists, he declared, and as she did not desire territory, she probably would regard with favor a Russian government composed of workmen and soldiers.

Germany rejoiced in the further weakening of the Russian army's strength, but Philip Scheidemann, president of the social democratic party had resolved to declare open opposition to the German government and to force it to declare peace, he said.
After telling his audience that all secret treaties would be published, Trotzky said that anyhow they were not binding on Russia and he would fling them into the rubbish pile.
The Daily Mail's correspondent refers to the possibility of an attempt to establish a rival government in Russia but he is convinced that it is almost impossible for any government to hold the country together.

ALBION IS TO HAVE BIG COMMUNITY-TREE

Preparations Are Being Made for Celebration of Christmas Eve.

(Special to The Sentinel.)
Albion, Ind., Nov. 24.—The community Christmas tree will again be seen on Court square at Albion this year, with the old features repeated and many new ones to please the young and old. It is expected a cantata will be given by the various Sunday schools of the city, an attraction well worth the effort. Put your shoulder to the wheel and push for the success of the community Christmas tree.

Making Canvass.
A canvass of the available seed corn for next year's planting is being made by government agents, from which list those who were not fortunate enough to have the required test may obtain the same, thus saving the importation of seed. A survey of the situation in Lagrange county shows but little perfect corn, much of it having to be dried by artificial and natural heat and in most cases the result is very unsatisfactory.

Safeguard Your Food Supplies

Many families now buy food in larger quantities than usual, either to save on the cost or to be sure of what they want.
These people should guard carefully against rats which in one night may destroy a whole ham, several dozen eggs, or damage several dollars worth of other foods. The only way to prevent this is by exterminating the rats or mice and this is most easily accomplished by using Stearns' Paste. A small box of this paste which can be bought for 35 cents, often exterminates a whole family of rodents in a single night; it is also effective with roaches and waterbugs.—Advertisement.

PETITION PRESIDENT

W. C. T. U. Wants Liquor Kept from American Soldiers in France.

ALL-DAY SESSION IS HELD FRIDAY Reports Are Heard from Each of the Unions in the County.

The Allen county W. C. T. U. institute after an all day session came to a close Friday night at the assembly room of the court house. Mrs. Welby gave the opening prayer and Mrs. Bessie Crowe led the devotion. After the song "America" by the audience, Mrs. M. J. Ridenour, county president, appointed Mrs. O. R. Kelsey as secretary for the morning's work and organized the following committees:

Union Signal and Young Crusader—Mrs. Welby and Mrs. Davis.
Courtiers—Mrs. Price.
Press and Publicity—Mrs. J. P. Martin.
Membership—Mrs. Tillie Hostettler.
Resolutions—Mrs. Studebaker and Mrs. Purfield.
Timekeeper—Mrs. Bly.
Question Box—Mrs. Moore.

Mrs. Ridenour gave an explanation of each department and told duties of each superintendent. She said that W. C. T. U. members were found working in every good cause. Mrs. Ridenour stated that for every nickel of revenue the government received from the liquor traffic they expended 37 cents, and showed how disastrous such methods would prove in the running of our households.

Mrs. Tillie Hostettler, president of the Crystal union, then spoke. She told of a membership contest which their union is carrying on continually, and which has added greatly to their membership and enthusiasm. They are also holding Monday night prayer meetings, visiting the shut-ins of their district, and these are meeting with great favor.

Mrs. George Pickley, president of the Frances Willard union, gave a very interesting talk and dwelt especially on the great perseverance of her members to accomplish things in the face of many obstacles. She told about the alternate meetings of her union being given over to Red Cross sewing and how at the last meeting three dozen bed socks had been made for the soldiers.

Mrs. Daisy Waite, of the Lillian Stevens union, stated that their present aim is to establish a young people's branch and a Loyal Temperance legion among the children of the Bloomington district. This union is reaching out in its work and doing much good.

Mrs. Christopher, of the Crescent union, told of their plan for increasing membership and that is to have Mrs. Daisy Barr, the evangelist, hold meetings very soon and give talks regarding the W. C. T. U. Community sewing is also being planned.

Mrs. F. M. Price, of the South Wayne union, spoke of the work they were doing and of their great inspiration over Red Cross work.

The song, "Canning the Brewers," was then sung by the audience, and led by those delegates who attended the state convention.

Mrs. Joel Welby then spoke of the great merits of the papers, "The Union Signal" and "The Young Crusader." Mrs. Davis, of New Haven, also spoke regarding these papers and displayed some blotters with mottoes bearing on temperance for the children.

After a song entitled "Noontide Hour" by Mrs. Easley, the noontide hour of prayer was held.

Afternoon Session.
In the afternoon the devotion was held by Mrs. Hauk. The superintendents of departments then gave their plans for the new year.

Mrs. Grodian, of the Loyal Temperance Legion, spoke of their aim being to educate.
Miss Kerphord, of the Soldiers' and Sailors' department, emphasized Red Cross work, especially the making of medicated bandages. She spoke of promoting a higher standard of morals. A White Life for Two being the motto.

Mrs. Robert Harding then gave one of her splendid talks on Red Cross work. She spoke of the great need of knitted garments and of the large number of soldiers who had already suffered with frozen feet. Mrs. Harding said that we are the home soldiers and must make it possible for our boys to win, and that we are rendering a noble service to God and our country by working for the soldiers. She showed a number of garments necessary for the soldiers.

At this point the county association voted to give twenty-five dollars towards the Y. W. C. A. fund, this to be used to establish rest houses for the nurses in the camps.

Mrs. Martin, of the Monroeville union, then spoke. She told of their plans to hold a sale at the home of Mrs. Yousse, the receipts to be used for the soldiers.

Mrs. Ridenour then expressed her wish that each local union with their president would organize another union in the county. She spoke of the great need of more unions in the city and surrounding neighborhoods.

Mrs. Joel Welby, who has done such fine work among the colored people of the city, then introduced Mrs. Jackson, president of the colored Mothers' club. She told how their club had spent over $150 of their funds last year to assist the needy of their people. Mrs. Jackson said that it behooved each and every one of us, regardless of color, to look after the welfare of the needy. She spoke of greater and better work being done among the colored mothers of Fort Wayne than ever before.

Mrs. Tillie Hostettler then spoke on educational work in the Sunday school. She aims to teach temperance to the children and to make a greater effort throughout the year to prepare for Temperance Sunday. The speaker emphasized the fact that only teachers who are strictly temperate should be allowed to teach the children of the Sunday school.

Dr. Carrie Banning, of the health department, then gave an instructive talk. She said she would like to see medical inspection brought into every school in Allen county. Dr. Banning said that we cannot expect a child to grow up to be efficient when it starts its school work with physical defects.

Of much interest to the institute at this point was the coming forward of little Edward Nix, a small boy who wanted the white ribbon tied on his wrist. Mrs. Ridenour tied the white ribbon and expressed the wish that this child would always be a white ribboner.

Mrs. J. T. Gillum, of the medical temperance department, then spoke of the great injury being done through the use of patent medicines.

Mrs. Lizzie Drake, of peace and arbitration, mentioned the fact that women have been mobilizing in different ways and that we must mobilize Christ's spirit in ourselves. "Christ within me the hope of glory," should be the thought within each one of us and we can then look for peace.

Mrs. S. W. Teeple then gave a reading which was highly appreciated.

Miss Mildred Studebaker then rendered an instrumental selection on the piano which was well received by the audience.

Mrs. J. P. Martin, of the press and publicity department, spoke of the power of the press. She said that all successful merchants find it necessary to advertise extensively in the papers and by other means, and that the W. C. T. U. should also deem it essential to do a great deal of press work, also publicity work.

Mrs. Winn, of the Lucy Thurman union, then sang a solo, accompanied on the piano by Miss Goldie Hornady, which was heartily received.

Mrs. J. A. Downing, of the temperance and labor department, who is a professional nurse and visits many homes, spoke of knowing the conditions among the laboring class and how often it is said that the saloon is the workman's friend. She said that we should want to be delivered from such a friend.

Mrs. O. R. Kelsey, of the foreign speaking people department, then introduced Mrs. Grieme, president of the German W. C. T. U. of Hammond, Ind. Mrs. Grieme told of the great good the W. C. T. U. had done for some of the German families of Hammond.

Mrs. Martha Studebaker, of the flower mission, then spoke. She said that a child, a flower and a mother's heart were all three closely associated. Allen county has the state banner for this work and a great effort is being made to keep it. The sick have been remembered by W. C. T. U. flowers and a vast amount of good has been done in this way.

Mrs. J. W. Saunders, of the Lucy Thurman union, then gave a very splendid talk. She spoke of the large number of fine colored people, many of them young folks, coming to the city recently to live, and spoke of the housing problem. Mrs. Saunders told how twenty-one colored people were living in an eight room house. She said that she and those interested in her work were trying hard to save her people from questionable places, such as the open saloon, etc.

Mrs. Ridenour then spoke on parliamentary usage. Mrs. W. A. Parry gave a short talk on the personal good that the flower mission has done. Mrs. Parry was superintendent of the flower mission last year and through her efforts and good work helped to win the state pennant.

At the close of the day's work Mrs. Studebaker presented the following resolutions, which were accepted by the institute:

Resolutions Adopted.
The resolutions, copies of which were ordered sent to President Wilson and to congress upon its convening, are in part as follows:

"Whereas, The mothers of our land who are giving their sons, and the wives of their husbands, giving their lives for the cause so dear to our hearts; and

"Whereas, We are trying to make the world safe for democracy, we must not neglect to make democracy safe for the world; therefore, be it

"Resolved, That the Woman's Christian Temperance Union in county institute assembled, prays the president of the United States to instruct the war department of France to withhold its wines and beer from our American soldiers and to create a clean zone around their cantonments; and

"Whereas, The consumption of tobacco in the United States army and expeditionary forces is increasing in extent, thereby increasing the cost of maintenance of the army and encouraging the cigarette habit among our enlisted men; therefore, be it

"Resolved, By the W. C. T. U. of Allen county that the war department of the United States be asked to furnish and encourage the use of curative treatment for the tobacco habit among our soldiers; and, therefore, be it

"Resolved, That the women are cheerfully responding to the requests of the government and observing wheatless and meatless days, we demand that a like request be made of the men to have a smokeless and drinkless day once each week."

The institute closed its work for the day with a play given in the evening by the John Barleycorn Troupe, entitled "The Trial of John Barleycorn." The members of this troupe are T. M. Nantz, who is general manager; Abner Elzey, of Ossian, and the Sahara quartet, which is composed of the following members: Archie Spice, E. C. Monroe, J. W. Robinson and A. M. Houk. The attendance was good and great interest manifested.

Francis J. Wallis, of Pittsburgh, Wis. age fifty, tried to enlist in the engineers corps, but was refused because of his age. He then sold his property and bought $3,500 worth of liberty bonds.

MILITARY NEWS

A. W. MILLER WILL

BE HOME THURSDAY

Will Arrive With Camp Taylor Team Wednesday Afternoon.

Mrs. H. W. Meyer, 1801 South Lafayette street, is in receipt of the following letter from her brother, A. W. Miller, who is stationed at Camp Zachary Taylor:

"Dear Sister: Received your letter some time ago and was glad to hear from you. I will be home for Thanksgiving. We are going to play football at League park. No doubt you have read about it. As far as I know now we will leave here at 6 o'clock Wednesday morning and arrive in Fort Wayne by way of traction about 3 o'clock and will leave there Thanksgiving day at midnight.

"We played a game this afternoon and was defeated, but that was due to the fact that there were four Northwestern men and two Wisconsin men playing. We didn't get beat so bad. The score was 21 to 0. We have a good team.

"Well, I have put my name in the third officers' training camp which is to take place here. I have finished my course in the trench work, but I haven't received any grades so far. Well, everything is going fine and our eats are good. For dinner today we had pork chops, mashed potatoes and gravy, hot buns, coffee, creamed peas. I think we are getting good meals. Our mess hall is considered the cleanest one in the camp and our battalion has the credit of having the cleanest barracks in camp. We have an inspection every week and our company commander inspects our barracks every day. We haven't very many men in our company now—fourteen in all. We are expecting to get more some time around the first of the month. We have a non-commissioned officers' school every night from 6:30 to 8 o'clock and at 8:30 the lights go out.

"There has been some talk of breaking out of the battalions before long, but I don't think we will get 'busted' for we seemed to have one of the best in camp."

"Nig" as he is better known by, says the boys get plenty to eat and a good bed to sleep on. He shows it, too, having gained seventeen pounds while away. He also said false rumors are about, not getting enough to eat. "We get all we want and could get more if we wanted it," he declared. He said one of their superior officers left for France and said he did not know how soon they might be called. He was tendered a surprise Sunday by his parents. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. William Trautman and children, Della and Walter; Mr. and Mrs. George Trautman and children, Frieda and Clarence; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cruse and son, Howard; Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Bengnot and son, Gene; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bacon and children, Erwin, Harvey and Elsie, and the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Trautman, 1213 Wilt street.

Bluffton Boys Get Commissions

Liberty Center Young Man Fails on Account of His Height.

Bluffton, Ind., Nov. 24.—Bluffton boys will fare well in the giving out of the plums at the officers' training camp at Fort Benjamin Harrison Monday.

Publication of the appointments was not to be made until Monday, but Bluffton men who were down at the camp yesterday brought back news of the appointments.

Fred Sale, son of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Sale, received a second lieutenantcy in the field artillery service.

Marion O. Reiff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Reiff, was appointed first lieutenant in the infantry division.

John E. Swain, son of County Commissioner and Mrs. Henry Swain, was also appointed a first lieutenant in the infantry.

Hugh Thornburg, of Muncie, formerly of this city, also received a first lieutenantcy.

Justin Merriman, of Liberty Center, according to word brought back, failed on account of height.

This news speaks well for the Bluffton boys at the camp, showing 100 per cent. efficiency, as all three of them received a commission.

Emmett Stout, Field Dailey and Caspar Crim, other Bluffton boys, received commissions in the first officers' training camp.

Chas. Meredith, of Poneto, also received a commission in the first camp. Several Bluffton people visited the camp yesterday, among whom were: James W. Sale, Claude Cole and Dr. G. E. Fulton. The car on which they returned last evening was stalled about an hour at Montpelier on account of a burned out motor. They were forced to wait there until the next car came along.

THIRD TRAINING CAMP OFFERS OPPORTUNITIES

Number of Concordia Students and Graduates May Go—Opens January 5.

A number of Concordia students and graduates will go to the third officers' training camp, which opens January 5, 1918. All who go must enroll by December 1. All of those who are enrolled will take the examination given in Fort Wayne on December 3. The opportunities for commissions are excellent.

Only those who have had instruction in military science and men who have been in the regular army are eligible to make application to the third training camp. The quota of Concordia college is twenty principals and twenty alternates. Applications can be received from the examining board, officers' reserve corps, Commercial club.

English Recruits.
Sergeant Arthur Turner, of the local recruiting station, has announced that Canadian and English subjects desiring to get into the service of Great Britain may enlist at the local station. These men will be sent to the English recruiting officer stationed at Indianapolis.

Five men left for the army, Friday, two to the engineer corps, one each to the medical reserve, coast artillery and aviation section.

Two General Electric Employees Who Have Gone to Country's Support.

The above picture represents two former employees of the General Electric works who are now in the government service. The man on the left, Carl Bartels, who is represented at the left, is in the quartermaster's office at Camp Thomas, Kentucky, and Roland A. Leidolf, represented at the right of the picture, is in the quartermaster's department "somewhere in France." Mr. Bartels was at the time of enlistment assistant to Chief Shipping Clerk John R. Pulver at the General Electric works, and Mr. Leidolf was employed in the office in a clerical capacity for several years. Each young man is very popular with his acquaintances and the latter will be pleased to know that each is well and contented in their new positions. The young lady represented in the picture is Miss Lulu Leidolf, the sister of Roland, and the photograph was taken last summer while she was visiting her brother at Camp Thomas, Kentucky.

Miss Mathilda Goetz, of 163 East Leith street, a clerk in the receiving department of the General Electric works, where the writer of the letter also was employed in a clerical capacity before enlisting in the army, is in receipt of a letter from Roland Leidolf, which reads in part as follows:

"Dear Till:—Received your letter the other day here in France, where I am now safely located. I surely was glad to hear from you once again. This country is very beautiful and I am enjoying it very much. Have not been assigned as yet, but will be soon no doubt. We are having fine meals, fine place to sleep and of course, I am feeling fine too. Our trip over was very interesting, but we had a few stormy days. Cannot tell too much, as you know. I will visit your brother the first opportunity, but think the chance of doing it is doubtful. My address is Q. M. C., American Expeditionary Force."

RALPH L. COREY IS GIVEN COMMISSION

Ralph L. Corey, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Corey, 137 East DeWald street, has been commissioned a lieutenant in the division of aeronautical engineers, signal corps, U. S. A. He has been ordered to report to Washington, D. C., and left on Friday for that point. While in Fort Wayne he has been assistant to the general sales manager of S. F. Bowser & Co. Another son, Walter C. Corey, is at Camp Funston, Fort Riley, Kan.

EX-PREMIER IS ACCUSED

Former Head of French Government Charged With Crooked Part.

M. HERVE OPENLY ACCUSES CAILLOUX

Declares He is a Craven Peace Hunter and Pal of Bolo Pasha.

Paris, Nov. 24.—Under the bold caption "I accuse M. Caillaux," Gustav Herve, in La Victoire, charges former Premier Joseph Caillaux with being the center of the whole campaign for a dishonorable, ruinous peace.

M. Herve charges the former premier with having consorted during his stay in Italy with all the notorious "defeatists" and neutralists, his assertions to the contrary notwithstanding; with having not merely a social acquaintance with Bolo Pasha, but with having been his devoted friend and indefatigable protector; with having been the evil genius of Almerondia, the editor of the Bonnet Rouge, who died in prison while under charges, guiding and encouraging him in his "defeatist" attitude and drawing him on to his doom.

Paris, Nov. 24.—Under the bold caption "I accuse M. Caillaux," Gustav Herve, in La Victoire, charges former Premier Joseph Caillaux with being the center of the whole campaign for a dishonorable, ruinous peace.

M. Herve charges the former premier with having consorted during his stay in Italy with all the notorious "defeatists" and neutralists, his assertions to the contrary notwithstanding; with having not merely a social acquaintance with Bolo Pasha, but with having been his devoted friend and indefatigable protector; with having been the evil genius of Almerondia, the editor of the Bonnet Rouge, who died in prison while under charges, guiding and encouraging him in his "defeatist" attitude and drawing him on to his doom.

FRIARS READY FOR ANCIENT RIVALS

Friar-Wabash Game Will Be Most Bitterly Fought Battle of Season.

When the members of the Wabash team lines up on the field of battle Sunday they will find the Friars stronger than they have been this season. The gap in the line at center, caused by Peeney's accident, will be ably filled by the presence of Frank Rydzewski, the star Notre Dame pivot man, who plays his final college game Saturday at Pittsburg. Rockne, a Notre Dame coach, who has been playing at end for the Friars, together with Rydzewski, will leave Pittsburg immediately after the game and will arrive in Fort Wayne early Sunday morning.

The game with Wabash will end the Friar schedule as the game at Hammond on Dec. 2 is more in the nature of a post-season contest. The Hammond manager made the local team a flattering offer to appear in that city which the Friars felt compelled to accept. The Clabys would not consent to come to Fort Wayne for a game.

The team which will take the field for Wabash Sunday will present a number of new faces. That they have "loaded" for the game is clearly shown from the fact that a number of bets have already been made on the outcome of the contest. Several $100 wagers have been made and accepted. Reno, Miller and Checkey will appear in the Wabash squad and they are said to be playing a strong game. The identity of several players is still unknown but strong rumors are afloat that they are members of the Hammond Clabys.

As in all previous Friar-Wabash games, the "howling hundred" will be on hand to lead the cheering. Wabash will send a special train of rooters besides the large number who will drive through in automobiles. A number of local rooters raised enough money to hire the Elks' band, which will be present to inspire the local warriors.

The advance seat sale shows that the largest crowd of the season will be present. Wabash reserved a block of 500 seats and Huntington, Elletts and other towns are expected to send cars of followers of the game to witness the contest.

The preliminary will attract a great deal of attention. The game will be between the Tigers and Bachelors. The Tigers have been defeated twice by their opponents earlier in the season, but expect

Friars	Wabash
Hevie	L. E.
Robbins	L. G.
Rydzewski	C. T.
Bashaw	R. G.
Lockwood	R. T.

West End Juniors Win.

The light artillery of the West End Juniors smashed the lines of the heavy artillery of the ice machine All-Stars of the General Electric works. The combined efforts of Trautman and Kramer won the game for the Juniors.

The line-up was as follows: W. E. Juniors—Trautman, fullback; Paulson, fullback; Landenberg, center; Kramer, guard; Roembke, guard.

All-Stars—Wickliffe, fullback; Rockhill, fullback; Georgeher, center; Bowler, guard; Weeklife, guard.

Through Loss of Howard and Ewert I. U. Has Been Greatly Crippled.

Bloomington, Ind., Nov. 24.—Indiana and Purdue university elevens will meet on Jordan field here today in their annual gridiron battle with the odds greatly in favor of Purdue. Indiana's team has been badly crippled through the loss of Howard and Ewert, who have been declared ineligible. A strike of the Indiana varsity men because of this loss was narrowly averted Thursday. Special trains from Lafayette and Indianapolis brought the Purdue supporters and the alumni of the two schools to Bloomington this morning.

Before the game an unique ceremony—the hanging of the pictures of all former captains of Indiana athletic teams in the trophy room of the new gymnasium—was conducted with many of the former captains present. One of the speakers was Judge A. P. Twineham, of Princeton, Ind., who played on the first baseball team at Indiana back in the sixties.

The probable lineup for the game follows:

Indiana	Purdue
Risley	L. E.
Hathaway	L. T.
Bullus	L. G.
Hess	R. E.
Ingles	R. T.
Minton	R. G.
Cravens	R. H.
Buerling	O. B.
Flower	L. H.
Kewer	R. H.
Official	J. Schommer
Referee	F. E. Gardner
Umpire	A. C. Hoffman
Line judge	Chas. Field
Head line judge	Ralph David

Urbana, Ill., Nov. 24.—With players said to be physically fit and no overwhelming advantage conceded to either team, the universities of Minnesota and Illinois were prepared to battle for gridiron honors here today. Coach Williams brought his Gophers to this city early today and gave them a light workout before the game. Coach Zupple drilled his men in the snow, and declared the entire lineup to be satisfactory. There was much speculation before the game as to the effect of a change in the Illinois lineup which sent Lovejoy, a 17-year-old boy, playing his varsity game, in at quarterback, replacing Nichols, who went to light halfback.

The probable lineup:

Illinois	Minnesota
Klein	L. E.
Rundquist	L. T.
Goelitz	L. G.
Guverson	R. E.
Schlademan	R. T.
Bms	R. G.
Palms	R. H.
Lovejoy	O. B.
Sternaman	L. H.
Nichols	R. H.
Charlier	P. B.

NOTRE DAME IN THE EAST.

Washington, Pa., Nov. 24.—East and west met today in wartime football for the fourth time this season. Notre Dame having defeated one eastern eleven, the army, and defeated several of the leading western teams, encountered Washington and Jefferson, a team which though beaten by Pittsburg and West Virginia, ranks high among the eastern elevens.

The Indiana team today was credited with a slight shade over Washington and Jefferson although the absence of several mainstays from the visitors' line because of injuries was counted upon to make the game an even contest. The probable lineup:

W. and J.	Notre Dame
Carroll	L. E.
Henry	L. T.
Wimberly	L. G.
Guy	R. E.
Straw	R. T.
Stein	R. G.
Tressel	R. H.
Stobbs	O. B.
Smith	L. H.
Ruble	R. H.
McGee	P. B.

Referee—Crolius, Dartmouth. Umpire—Hammond, Michigan. Head line judge—Durfee, Williams. Time of periods—15 minutes.

NORTHWESTERN-MICHIGAN.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 24.—The University of Michigan football team is in Chicago today as a contestant for the first time since 1905 when it was defeated by the University of Chicago on Stagg field 2 to 0.

Northwestern university, however, furnishes the opposition today and the entire seating capacity of the Purple field, 18,000, has been sold out. The probable lineup:

Northwestern	Michigan
Marguard	L. E.
McLaughlin	L. T.
Ulrich	L. G.
Ullrich	R. E.
Ullrich	R. T.
Ullrich	R. G.
Ullrich	R. H.
Ullrich	O. B.
Ullrich	L. H.
Ullrich	R. H.
Ullrich	P. B.

CHICAGO-WISCONSIN.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 24.—Although the western conference championship is settled the football game here today between the University of Chicago and the University of Wisconsin lacked nothing but the assurance of a dry field to make it one of the stellar events of the present season. There was some doubt as to the condition of the field, however, and lineups are made contingent upon the weather.

The lineup:

Chicago	Wisconsin
Belos	L. E.
Jackson	L. T.
Bondzinski	L. G.
Gorgas	R. E.
Moller	R. T.
Kahn	R. G.
Hinkel	R. H.
Block	O. B.

Elton	R. H.
Higgins	P. B.

BIG TEN IN ANNUAL CROSS COUNTRY RUN

Chicago, Nov. 24.—Six teams will get away in the tenth annual cross country run of the "Big Ten" to be held today preliminary to the Chicago-Wisconsin football game. The five mile course is in Washington park, a few blocks from the football field.

Ames is the only university outside the western conference to enter a man. The other five entries are Chicago, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Ohio state and Purdue. The Chicago team will attempt a feat which is without precedent in recent years. The team, riddled by enlistments for military

HEROIC OLD NAMES RETURN TO YALE WITH SHEVLIN AND HEFFELFINGER

True, the men in the cut above are not immortal "Tom" and "Pudge," but they are blood relatives as well as namesakes. They are both "in the family," and in Yale football uniforms, which is more to the point. Both are members of the 1921 squad. Ed Shevlin, the first in the cut, lives in Portland, Ore., and like his immortal cousin, plays and runs. Heffelfinger, who from Minneapolis, as did his uncle William, nicknamed "Pudge" at Yale. He plays tackle while his uncle played guard.

TIGERS PRACTICE FOR SUNDAY'S GAME

The Tigers conducted a strenuous practice Saturday afternoon in preparation for Sunday's game with the Bachelors as preliminary to the Friar-Wabash clash. The preliminary starts at 1:30 o'clock and both Tigers and Bachelors are out for blood. The Tigers are claiming the amateur championship of the city, having defeated every fast local team except the Bachelors, who won the title last year.

"DISGRASEFUL STS" EDDY-TORIUL

The terrible condition of the sts in our midst as we go to press with this issue of the Bugle is a disgrace & a shame & a blot & a smear on the fair escutcheon of Bingville which it will take us a long time to live down and will cause other surrounding towns whose sts is in better condition to pint the finger of scorn at us.

The awful condition of the sts in our midst has been caused largely by the heavy rainfall (mixt with snow on one or two occasions) and as a result the mud in Main st rite thru the town is up to the hub in some places and higher than that on you in others.

Miss Polly Ann Whitteby who wassent aware how terrible awful the sts was tript outen her house tother evg jest afore dark to run acrost to Hen Weathersbys store to purchase some lamp.ile and afore she had pergrsd haff way acrost the st Polly foundd herself knee deep in mud and thort she was sinkin to her doom, so to speak.

Polly Ann hollerd "Help!" & "Murder" and "Fire!" as loud as she could holler afore shed got down for the last time. Well, Lem Brown our expert carpenter who lives next door to Hens store and his wife heard her cries and Lem he rushd outen the house folerd by his wife and when he seen Miss Polly strugglin in the mud Lem he throwd all percoshions to the winds being as Polly is turrible plump and buxum & purty for her age and rushd outen into the mud and lifted Polly into his manly arms and carried her not only outen the mud but clean up onto the front piazza of Hens store and tuk his time about settin her down and all the time Lem was carryin Polly Ann he was a whisperrin into her ear to keep up and be brave becuz he would save her and to lay her head on his manly buzzum if she so desired.

Of course Lems wife witnesd the hull performants and when Lem went back home she give him a turrible dreslin down so loud everybuddy around heard whot she said. Lems wife told him he could jest as well of led her out instid of carryin her in his arms in sitch a lovin manner. Missus Brown cald Polly Ann a cat and a minx and a hussy and then busted out cryin and went into the house slammn the door behint her.

Whose falt is it that our sts is in sitch a condition? Its the falt of our good for nothink road sooperviser Arioch Skimmer we anser. Sinst Arioch was cleckted to this important position of trust moren two yrs ago he aint did a lick of work on our sts but on the contrary has permitted same to go to rack & ruin. It is Ariochs bizness to see to it that our sts is in good condition instid of being in a impossible condition and sinst he aint did this in our judgment he ort to be impeachd & kickd outen offis to sombuddy who will do his swore dooty or bust.

These may be harsh words but we mean evry word of em.

Lokal Jottings

Verily we be standin on the threshold of winter as we go to press. Be you prepared for it?

Ab Snyders dog "Tige" who is subject to fits had another one of same in front of the P. O. tolier evg and cut up like everthink while it lasted, skeerin innocent bystanders from the sidewalk into the P. O. Ab perdieks that "Tige" will pass on in one of them fits sooner or later. In our opinyun it would be a good thing if "Tige" would pass on afore he bites sumbuddy in a fit.

Now that all the corn is husked and the crops harvested some of our farmers is repairing their fences hereabouts. As for the fences, most of em need it.

If you are a gentleman you will pay up your back subscription to the Bugle. If you are a lady you will also. No matter what your sex is we need the money and we dont make no exceptions of either sex.

Lige Henderson made a trip on his bisickel to Hardscrabble last wk and Lige says he walkd most of the way there and back pushing the blamed bisickel the hole way ovink to the condition of the roads. Lige ort to of left the bisickel to home in the last place.

Eggs is gittin skeerer and skeerer in Bingville and goin up in price all the time. Hen Weathersby prop of our general store is paying 30 cts per doz for strictly fresh eggs and sellin same for 45 cts per doz which is ridiculus in the extreme. One than emybuddy else in Bingville says he cant afford to ete eggs when he can git so much f. r em to the store and that he aint tasted a egg for so long that he wouldnt skeerely know whot one tasted like.

Mrs. Anne Hillyer recd a postage card from her sister Clarissa who lives over to the co seat that Clarissa is on the sicklist but not stating the complaint. This was quite a surprise to Missus Hillyer who never dreampt but whot Clarissa was in good helth until she recd the postal stating otherwise.

Hez Underwood is a going around with a big red bile on his nose which is sweld up most as big as a goose egg and as red as the back lie on a city-mobel. Hank Dewberry told Hez he didnt calkulate he needed any lantern after dark being as that bile would shed enuff lite for him to go by. Hez told Hank to go to thunder and that he hoped hed git biles all over hiss-lif for makin fun like that.

Bill Hepburn our artistick blacksmith had a awful sad experients last Satter-day when he went to the co seat to flicker up as ushal. When Bill started home in his spring wagon he put a gal of rum in a jug into the wagon bed behint him and the way to Bingville when the wagon went over a jounce whot did the jug hait to do but bounce out and lite on a stone and broke into smitherens wasting a full gal of good lick. We persoon Bill must of almost set down beside the road and wep.

Mrs. Martha Tucker had the misfortune to burn her cheek with a hot iron while ironing last wk. Martha tuk the iron offen the stove and held it to her cheek to see if it was hot. It was—and Martha was so surprised s'e dropd the iron which jest mist her toes by a inch.

Bill Squiggins and Ransie Hillyer swopt watches sight ussen last wk but neither of em got much the worst of it being as Bill got a ole brass case with no watch while Ransie got the works of a watch without no case. Ransie threatens to go to law about it being as he says that jest simply the works of a watch dont constytoot no watch.

Pull Down the Blinds, Sadie

It has been roomerd that the engagement is broke off betwixt Miss Sadie Perkins one of Bingvilles most estimable yung ladies and Sim Wilkins from down, Suake Bend way.

From whot we seen thru the winder as we was passing the Perkins residents last Satterday nite about 9 p. M. when Sim was sayin goodnite to Sadie we persoon there aint no truth in the report that their engagement is broke off.

You ort to pull down the blinds Sadie when you kiss Sim goodnite.

Do It Now

Subscribe for the Bugle at out and keep posted up on what is a going on around you and in the rest of the co to say nothink of the outside world. We print all the news thats fit to print and some that aint. In factt we dont miss nothink. If we dont git a certain item into the Bugle one wk its becuz we dont hear of it, but we allus do sooner or later and then we print it.

Why do you hesitate to subscribe for the Bugle and pay cash in advance for same? Its jest sitch hesitations as this which keeps down our circulation.

Come and Get Your Cat

Will the owner of the yaller cat whitteh come to our offis last wk and made itself to home and pesters us whilst we are trying to write news for the Bugle and sets in our paste pot and squalls and yells becuz we dont feed her as often as she thinks we ort to kindly call and take your property back home where she belongs?

This cat is a turrible poor mouser. Tother day as she was layin on the floor a mice run over her twict onct goin and onct comin and all she done was to lay there and look at it in disgust. Besides we already got one cat and two is sooperfloos.

HAPPY VALLEY

The corn crop hereabouts this fall aint up to the mark by a good cal being as its mostly runny ears and nubbins. The reason is the frost ketchd it afore it had time to mator.

There aint as much sickness in our midst as common at this time of yr. Why is this we ask. Ushually about this time when winter begins to set in most of us has colds or gripes or newmonya or somethink similar but this yr were all disappointed.

Hen Allman took his wife Sary Jane last Sunday in the spring wagon 9 mites to visit with his sister over Fea Ridge way. It aint offen that Hen gives his wife sitch a splurge as this becuz it wears out his horse harness he says to travel when it aint absolutely necessary. Rufe Peterson while out huntin one day last wk had a deer to jump out rite in front of him. Rufe said he might of shot the critter if it hadnt of surprised him so that it never ockurd to him he had a gun in his hands until the deer was outen sight.

Your correspondents Bugle didnt arrive last wk as usual. As a result several famlies who allus reads it after we git thru was turrible disappointed. Please dont let this ockur agin.

Molly West persented your correspondent with a mess of sweet pickel recently. Molly makes turrible good sweet pickel if we do say it ourself. Thanks Molly.

Ezra Sparrow has been off his feed for a wk or two. Ez thinks he has probly et too much salt pork. Probly, being as this is about all Ez etes.

These is all the items we can recall at this time so we will bring this communciation to a abrupt close. EXCELSIOR.

Births

We take great pleasure in reporting that births has been more numerous in our midst during the past wk than for several yrs according to our kalkulations. We mite almost say there has been a epydemic of births in Bingville sinst the last issue of the Bugle come out.

On last Tuesday for instants Mrs. Bale Hawkins persented Bale with a bouncing baby girl. The roomer spread like wild fire all over Bingville that the new arrival to Bales house weightd 16 lbs and consternation rained sooperbly deident beleeve sitch a thing as a new born baby weightk that much could be possibl. Finally Mrs. Cy Hoskins volunteered to investigate the roomer and she cald at Bales and found out that the scales which Bale had used to weigh the baby on was the same which he weighs his butter on for customers. When the child was weightd on a correct pr of scales it weightd only 9 lbs. Mother and child are doing well but Bale still is a good cal excited.

On Thursday Doc Livermore our veterinary & huming speeshialist was cald in grate haste to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Silas Hoskins on strictly private bizness. Does horse cast a shoe jest as he was startin and by the time Bill Hepburn had shod his horse and Doc arrived the child was borned—a 10 lb baby of the male persuasion we believe altho we aint shure but will let you know next wk.

On Friday sometime during the night Cy Hoskins old cow "Spot" persented him with a fine speckled calf whitteh is the living image of its mother except smaller. Sex of calf male. Cy says he is turrible glad to see ole Spot come in fresh being as now he can enjoy the luxury of cream in his coffee mornings and all the mik and butter he wants to drink.

This makes three births in our midst which is all we have heard of as we go to press, altho there may be others. Be that as it may this breaks all records for the past several yrs as far as berths is concernd and we in Bingville may well be proud of sitch a handsome increase in her population.

Roomer Aginst Hod

Denide

There has been a persistent roomer circilated around thru Bingville during the past wk to the effect that Hod Quigly who owes nearly evrybuddy in town and whose credit aint worth a toothpick has paid up all his detus in clouding seven yrs. back subscription to the Boogie and that now he kin hold up his head in this commoonity being as he dont owe a ct in the world.

We tuk the trouble to investigate this roomer and aint that Hod aint paid a dogasted red cent of whot he owes to a livin sole in Bingville—that hes jest as deep in debt as he ever was and is lookin for a chaunst to git in deeper. As fur as we be personally concernd he aint paid us ennything on his back subscription sinst he subscribed and we kalkulates he never will, the disrepytable dead beet!

Who starts sitch roomers about Hod emynhow?

Lost!

This is to notify whoever it concernd that one day last wk (I dont remember which) I went and lost my ole corncob pipe somewheres but where is a mystery being as I aint saw hide nor hair of that pipe sinst.

I have smoked that pipe now goin on three yrs and I miss it moren I can tell. I prize that pipe not so much for its intrinsic value as for the historick and meller assoshiations which clusters about it, so to speak and while I cant afford to give a reward for its return whoever does so will be liberally thanked by me and remembered with grattitood as long as I live. If you happen to smell ennythink like any ole corncob pipe please investigate. Bingville. DEACON ANDREWS.

FIRE! FIRE!! FIRE!!!

Being as there is a fire in my store every night so that my customers can sit around the stove and smoke and chat and warm their shins while the wind howls without and the mercury drops in the thermometer, I now offer for sale everything in the line of plain & fancy groceries, drygoods, notions, hardware, butter, eggs and evrythink else too numerus to mention which is usually kept in a big merkantile emporium sitch as I run.

How about them mitts to keep your hands warm this winter, or a over coat or a sweater thats garranteed to keep you so gorrard hot youll sweat all the time? I also handel ready made clothing, hats, caps, gloves, knitting yarn and nails. Prunes, crackers, cheese and dried herrings. As for my nitinng yarn there aint no better to be had any-where. Are you nitinng ennything for the soljers? If not why not?

Only yesterday I got in a fresh barl of molasses which I opene rite off. Hank Dewberry who was present when I opene same said they was the best molasses which ever trickled down his throat. But Hank let nearly a pint trickel down his throat afore he could tell. Try a pt or a qt or a gal of these molasses before theyre all gone. I persoon they will sell like hot cakes.

Fire! Fire!! Fire!!! Come in and git warm. It wont cost you a cent, but of course I expect you to buy somethink if its only some Crackers and cheese or a dried salt herring or two. Drinkin water with the herring FREE.

Yours for bizness,

Hen Weathersby

"Being Penny Wise" Does Not Necessitate Being "Pound Foolish"

To be just a little "close fisted" these days is a sterling virtue—days when we must get the fullest efficiency out of everything, our spendings included.

We have all been a little extravagant—large corporations have sprung up all over the country waxing fat on this one characteristic of the American people.

Now the pendulum must swing back—necessity demands it, not part way but all the way. We know of no better way to start than by opening and maintaining a live bank account.

AMERICAN TANKS TO EQUAL THE BRITISH

Construction of New War Engine Going Forward in This Country.

Washington, Nov. 24.—Tanks for the American army are expected to be as effective in every way as those used by the British in their great drive, it is learned, although no details of construction or as to the number of machines being built were available.

Secretary Baker refused to discuss the subject either in general or specific terms. There is every reason to believe, however, that substantial progress has been made in producing fighting machines that embody all that the British and French authorities have learned of this type of war engine.

It is an open secret that some American officers have not up to this time, at least, regarded the tanks as highly desirable for the American forces in view of the difficulties of transportation and the ponderous character of the tank equipment. There also has been some question heretofore as to their actual military value. British experience, past and present, is believed to have made it certain, however, that tanks will do their share on the American lines when a sector in France is taken over by General Pershing.

The tanks developed numerous weaknesses when first tried out by the British. They were very slow, sometimes holding up the advance of the infantry to a dangerous degree, and also showed a fondness for plowing their noses into mud banks and sticking there until hauled out by their other machines. There are indications, however, that new British tanks and also the French are a great improvement over the first models in both speed and general mobility.

ABRAIN D. SKIDGEL TO BE BURIED SUNDAY

Kendallville Man Passes Away in Local Hospital as Result of Pneumonia.

(Special to The Sentinel.)

Kendallville, Ind., Nov. 24.—The funeral of Abrahn D. Skidgel, who died Thursday evening at a hospital in Fort Wayne, where he had been a patient for several days suffering from pneumonia, will be held at Charter Oak church, near Bakerstown, Sunday afternoon. The body was brought to this city Friday and taken to the home of his son, C. C. Skidgel, on Sheridan street, where short services will be held Sunday at 11:45. The deceased was 74 years of age and was a veteran of the civil war. He was a member of Company D, Seventy-fourth Indiana Infantry. The following children survive: C. C. Skidgel and O. E. Skidgel and Mrs. Zella Reessler, all of this city; N. G. Skidgel, of Columbia City, and Mrs. Nancy Ragan, of Chubbuck.

Kendallville Briefs. Announcements of the marriage of Miss Verna Neuter, of Sturgis, Mich., and Gilbert Brown, of Battle Creek, Mich., have been received by relatives in this city. The bride is well known here, having resided here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mort Neuter. Mrs. Charles Sherwood, of this city, is an aunt of the bride, and Forrest Butte, a cousin, Mr. and Mrs. Brown will make their home at Battle Creek, Mich.

Mrs. Celia Walters, Mrs. Mattie Brown and Mrs. J. W. Miller will leave Monday for Clear Lake, Fla., where they will spend the winter months.

The Misses Elsie Redmond, Henrietta Lohman, Lucile Williams and Marjorie Schutt were at Wolcottville Thursday selling Red Cross Christmas seals.

Jeane Deter, of this city, and his brother, Philip Deter, of Colorado, have been called to Lagrange on account of the illness of their mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Ora Rendel and daughter, Thelma, have returned to their home in this city from Wanaka, where they spent several months with the former's mother.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Galloway Thursday evening. Mrs. Paul Sprandle and children are visiting friends in Elkhart.

Rev. H. S. Morrill and wife arrived here Friday from Aurora. They will make this city their future home and will reside at 509 East Mitchell street. Rev. Morrill has assumed the pastorate of the Baptist church.

Among the Odd Fellows from the Kendallville lodge who attended the grand lodge session at Indianapolis this week were: E. L. Loomis, district deputy grand chancellor to the grand encampment; W. H. Heign, representing the subordinate lodge; and Atley Wright and Glenn Merkling, representing the grand encampment. According to U. C. Brouse, director of the Y. M. C. A. drive in Wayne, Allen and Swan townships, the apportionment of $2,440 for Kendallville and Wayne townships had been raised. The captains of the various teams in the township were: Cecil Emerick, W. S. Baker, A. Fetter, J. M. Teal and Will Swogger. Mr. Brouse had received no official reports from Allen or Swan townships.

NOW SCARLET FEVER AND NOT SMALLPOX

Whitley County Health Officer Makes a Careful Inspection.

(Special to The Sentinel.)

Columbia City, Ind., Nov. 24.—County Health Officer E. V. Nolt and City Health Officer Dr. Ben P. Linvill made a trip to Washington township Thursday afternoon and after a careful inspection of conditions there decided that the contagious disease which has been raging in that locality for several weeks is not smallpox, but scarlet fever. The disease had traveled through the Washington Center school enrollment, and it was deemed unnecessary at this late time to place quarantine. The quarantine at the home of George Alexander has been lifted. It was at first thought the family was afflicted with smallpox, instead of scarlet fever. There are several suspicious cases of smallpox in Columbia City, although no new cases have developed.

Columbia City Short Items. Ralph E. Gates, son of Attorney and Mrs. B. E. Gates, of this city, has been sent back to New York city as United States naval paymaster. He will visit the American ports, inspect the pay rolls and recommend and explain the new government insurance.

The funeral of the late Miss Rena Gruesbeck was held Friday forenoon at 10 o'clock at the home of the parents and sole surviving kin, Mr. and Mrs. P. V. Gruesbeck, Rev. J. T. Bean, of the M. E. church, officiating; interment took place in the Masonic cemetery, the pall-bearers being S. E. Kessler, Leonard R. Schrader, Esta Goodrich, Carl Waterfall, W. F. Feaster and Austin E. Overdeer.

Russell B. Clapham was given the work in the Masonic council Thursday evening.

Mrs. T. O. Miller gave a farewell surprise Thursday evening in honor of Mrs. Ernest E. Briegele, who leaves soon to make her future home in Bluffton.

County Agent B. L. Hummel is urging the farmers to take the same care and precaution in early buying of seed potatoes as they have done in obtaining seed corn. Several thousand bushels of potatoes are stored or hoarded in Whitley county by farmers who are misled to believe that the price will advance in the spring. Such is diametrically opposite from what will be the case. If the potato price advances beyond reason, the government will put a curb on it, same as it has done on other staples. Farmers who have stored potatoes at home can realize best by selling them now to farmers who are in need of seed potatoes, says County Agent Hummel, who will take steps necessary to see that the demand for seed potatoes is supplied with the native product in Whitley county.

Mrs. Charles H. Jones has received a message announcing the death of her uncle, Jack Hite, of Bristol, near Elkhart. Mr. Hite, who was a civil war veteran, and his wife were residents of this city several years ago.

Mrs. Emel Meyer entertained the members of the Hebrew Ladies' Benevolent society Thursday afternoon. The members of the Six O'Clock Dinner club were entertained Friday evening by Mrs. Sam Trembley.

Earl Oberkiser, no not Mr. and Mrs. Philip Oberkiser, of this city, and a sergeant in Battery B of Fort Wayne, now in France, writes his parents he had a fine trip across the water, although there were some unavoidable hardships with which to contend. Sergeant Oberkiser has taken out a $10,000 government life policy, but says he does not fear the possibility of actual fighting for some time.

Mrs. Fred Morsches, chairman of the municipal Christmas tree committee, has named the following assistants for this year: Miss Margaret Coyle, Mrs. S. F. Trembley, Mrs. Julius Morsches, Miss Leona Leech, Mrs. Joe Champion, Mrs. Mary Berry, Mrs. W. W. Williamson, Miss Margaret Baker, Mrs. W. H. Waterfall, Mrs. Roy Clark, Miss Thelma Strouse, and Messrs. Archie Smith, C. E. Lillich and Alton Beeson. The municipal Christmas tree, with its "Star of the East" and attending program, will be conducted Monday evening, December 24.

W. H. Kissinger has sold his 28-acre farm in Richmond township to Edward Heald and wife for $2,800. From three acres on this land Mr. Kissinger realized 54 tons of cabbage and enough tomatoes on another small strip to net him a check for $528 at a local market. The chicken supper served at the Grace Lutheran church Thursday evening netted $60 to the Lutheran Mite society.

Over 100 people ate fish Friday in this city—some meatless day! The funeral of the late Mrs. Isaac Campbell, of Bucyrus, O., occurred Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the M. E. church, Revs. J. T. Bean and L. A. Luckenbill officiating; interment was made in the Linvill cemetery.

Edward Auer and wife, west of Peabody, and William I. Mowrey and wife and son, Sidney, leave December 3 to spend the winter at Los Angeles, Cal. J. Benn Herr, 40, residing five miles northwest of Columbia City, had his left ear almost torn off, a gash inflicted on his head, as well as several bad bruises sustained to his hands and arms Friday afternoon, when he was jerked from his wagon and landed on the ground after trying to stop a runaway team. The horses started to run when one of them, recently purchased, and an habitual runaway, took flight. Dr. Ben P. Linvill was called from this city.

Mrs. Charles Fetter, of South Whitley, is recovering nicely from an abdominal operation performed at Hope hospital, Fort Wayne. Last Monday evening a supposed invalid woman was placed on a cot in the double room occupied by Fetter. The strange woman suddenly became insane, after the attendants had left, and she locked the door and ran around in crazed fashion until the attendants, returning, broke open the door and took her to another ward.

FALLS FROM TWENTY FOOT TRACK ELEVATION

Miss Mathilda Fruth, 1518 Sherman street, was seriously injured Friday evening while on her way home from work at the Wayne Knitting mills, by falling from the Lake Erie elevation over Osage street. She fell a distance of twenty feet to the hard pavement below. Miss Fruth suffered from a broken jaw and many painful cuts and bruises about the legs.

The police ambulance made the run and took the young lady to the St. Joseph hospital, where Dr. Dinnen attended her. Although her injuries are painful, they are not considered serious.

INDIANA PROHIBITION STATUTE IS ATTACKED

Evansville Breweries File Suits to Set Aside the Bone-Dry Law.

Evansville, Ind., Nov. 24.—Three suits were filed in superior court here yesterday afternoon by the F. W. Cook Brewing company, the Evansville Brewing association and Henry Gergemath, a saloon keeper, to test the constitutionality of the prohibition law, which goes into effect April 2, 1918.

In each of the three suits the law is alleged unconstitutional because it abridges the use of property, because the title does not express all matters and subjects in the act or set forth. The act also provides penalties for violation and the power of the general assembly to pass such an act is questioned.

In the brewing company complaint it is set forth the law allows druggists, chemists and hospitals the right to use alcohol and questions the legality of such legislation.

Another paragraph claims the law specifies arbitrarily what a nuisance is, and such specification is unconstitutional.

Both brewing companies assert they have more than $1,000,000 invested in property which would be rendered worthless under the law. A perpetual injunction against Lane B. Osborne, county prosecutor; Sheriff William Habbe and Chief of Police Edgar Schmitt is asked in each suit.

SECRETARY OF STATE TO GET COMMISSION

Indianapolis, Nov. 24.—Edward Jackson, secretary of state, a member of the officers' reserve corps training camp, now coming to a close at Fort Benjamin Harrison, is said to have been informed unofficially that he will receive a commission as a captain in the infantry. Before entering the camp Mr. Jackson handed to Governor Goodrich his resignation as secretary of state conditioned on his receiving a commission as an officer of the army.

A number of candidates have been active in trying to arrange to be appointed secretary of state when the office becomes vacant. Governor Goodrich, however, never has intimated who will be appointed.

SUGAR SHORTAGE MAY CONTINUE SOME TIME

The shortage of sugar, which is being keenly felt in Fort Wayne at the present time, may continue indefinitely, in the opinion of A. H. Perfect, of the A. H. Perfect & Co., wholesale grocers. There is no relief in sight, he says. The shortage of sugar is general throughout the country.

SPENCERVILLE NEWS.

Spencerville, Ind., Nov. 24.—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Scott, Mrs. Milton Chaney, Miss Julia Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Rhodes and Mrs. Georgia Jenkins attended the funeral of Mrs. Kathleen (Silberg) Gilfort, of Auburn, on Thursday, at Auburn.

WAR MOTHER TO BE NAMED

Appointment Will Be Made by the Council of Patriotic Service.

CONSIDERABLE WORK ATTACHED TO JOB

Indiana Ice Dealers' Association Makes Offer to Co-Operate.

The council for patriotic service has received a request from the state council to nominate some mother of a soldier who will have the title of War Mother and who will compile a list of the names of every mother of a soldier living in this county. The council is itself open to nominations. The work will require time and labor for which the reward is the consciousness of doing something to make the lot of the soldier easier.

The Indiana Ice Dealers' association has appointed Bernard Moran delegate from Allen county with instructions to get in touch with the county council of defense and offer to co-operate in regard to measures of economy as they relate to ice and storage plants. The council is reported to be glad to accept this patriotic effort at co-operation for the public good.

In the absence of a law creating a moratorium for soldiers with mortgages on their homes the local chapter of the Red Cross has been requested to extend assistance to debtors when pressed for payment. The matter has been referred by President Mossman to the committee on civilian relief. Any soldier in trouble by reason of his army enlistment over the delay in meeting obligations is requested to report the case to this committee—phone 1944.

CAN PURCHASE ONLY ONE TON

Rigid Rules Are Put Into Effect by Fuel Administrator Beadell.

MUST SHOVEL COAL AND NOT FORK IT

Those Guilty of Hoarding Fuel Will Hereafter Be Prosecuted.

Rigid rules were announced Saturday by Henry Beadell, fuel administrator of Allen county, made necessary by the shortage of coal. Mr. Beadell announces that those guilty of violating them will be vigorously prosecuted. The new rules, which are now effective, are as follows:

"On account of the shortage of coal, dealers are only allowed to deliver one ton to private houses. Household who have on hand from two to four tons of coal must not attempt to get more, as this would be hoarding the coal. Such cases will be reported to me and much as I should regret to do it, I would be compelled, through the prosecuting attorney, to bring court action against them, in which case they can be heavily fined for the offense.

"To avoid waste of coal and also loss, dealers must shovel all coal and not fork it. The buying public must understand this and make the best of it, in view of the serious coal shortage. The dealers have to buy and pay for the slack as well as the lumps and it must all be used up."

PLANS DISCUSSED TO POOL THE RAILROADS

Washington, Nov. 24.—A plan for pooling the entire railway equipment and traffic of the United States was taken up at a conference today between government officials and railroad heads. Congestion has reached a stage, it is realized, where radical measures must be put into force if the country's traffic is to be moved.

Even pooling the tracks and equipment will not be enough, some railroad heads believe, and they have presented to the government a list of more than 500 commodities for which they ask that transportation be denied on the grounds that their movement is not essential to the conduct of the war.

VIENNA SEES BREADLESS TIME.

London, Nov. 24.—Vienna is threatened with a shortage of grain, bread and other foods, owing to transport difficulties, according to reports made at a conference of local food organizations and reported by the Neue Freie-Presser and forwarded from Copenhagen by the Exchange Telegraph company. The population, the newspaper said, was startled by the statement that Vienna only had sufficient bread for the next ten days. It was said that sufficient potatoes were available however, to allow each person one and one-half kilograms weekly.

DEATH FOR A DESERTER

Man in American Army Gets Sentence by Court Martial.

HAD PLANNED TO JOIN THE ENEMY

War Department is Not Yet Satisfied and is Making an Inquiry.

Washington, Nov. 24.—Sentence of death before a rifle squad has been imposed by a court-martial upon an enlisted man of the American army in the United States on his conviction of desertion with intent to join the enemy forces. It was learned today at the war department, however, that officials here are not satisfied from the evidence adduced before the court that intent to join the enemy was established and the trial court has been asked for additional information to clear up this point. The soldier in question is of either German birth or descent, it is understood, although the details of the case, including the name of the prisoner, are withheld.

The sentence of the court-martial will not be executed until approval from Washington has been received because the desertion was not in the face of the enemy.

MILITANTS ARE RETURNED FROM WORKS TO JAIL

Alexandria, Va., Nov. 24.—Twenty-five militants of the woman's party were returned to the District of Columbia jail today, under an order of Federal Judge Waddell, who held that they had been illegally transferred to the work house at Occoquan, Va., on a verbal order of the district commissioners.

HAVE SMALLPOX NOW UNDER FULL CONTROL

But One New Case of the Disease Reported to Health Board.

That the worst of the smallpox spread is over is firmly believed by the health board. But one new case was reported Saturday and it is but a mild one. Dr. L. P. Drayer stated Saturday morning that he believed that the disease was now under control and that unless the quarantines placed by the health board were broken the chance for spreading the disease was eliminated.

Many people have scoffed at the idea of smallpox, saying that the present cases were nothing more or less than chickenpox. If anyone doesn't believe that it is smallpox that is prevalent let him talk to someone who has been afflicted with the disease, said the health officer Saturday morning. Although it is mild sort of smallpox it is nevertheless smallpox.

Safe Artists Burn Holes in Strong Box of Bank at Dana, Ind.

GET AWAY WITH A NICE FAT SWAG

Acetylene Gas Used to Cut Holes in Safe to the Cash Depository.

Dana, Ind., Nov. 24.—Cracksmen, apparently working with an expert hand, looted the First National bank, of this place, some time during the night and escaped with between $5,000 and $10,000 in currency.

The robbery was discovered when officials opened the bank for business this morning.

President S. E. Scott, of the bank, said he could not say positively how much money had been taken until the funds had been checked up, but estimated it at the above amount.

The robbers gained entrance to the bank by burning off the lock with acetylene gas and to the safe by burning a hole through heavy doors. Reaching through the hole they took the money in gold, silver and bills that was within reach and fled. Four acetylene tanks were left in the bank, but the numbers had been scraped off, leaving no clue as to where they had been obtained.

AIMS OF WAR ARE BARRED

No Place in Conferences of the Allies Now Proceeding in Europe.

So Declares Colonel House at a Banquet Given by French Officials.

Paris, Nov. 24.—The first public appearance of a member of the American mission to the inter-allied conference was made last night at the annual banquet of the Anglo-American press association which was attended by Oscar Crosby, assistant United States treasurer. The banquet derived additional importance from the fact that Foreign Minister Tardieu and Justice Minister Leygues made their first public appearance since taking office. Mr. Pichon said he congratulated himself on being present at a reunion which coincides with the great British victory and the arrival of the American mission.

"The war will perhaps last a long time yet," he added, "but we shall win it and we shall owe the victory in large part to Great Britain and America."

Mr. Crosby, speaking alternately in French and English, aroused the enthusiasm of the Frenchmen present by saying: "Everything we have that you need shall be placed at your disposal. You must not forget, however, that 3,000 miles of ocean separate us. That is the only thing which prevents us from assuming our share of the burden as rapidly as we would like."

Col. E. M. House, the head of the mission, was entertained at luncheon, together with the other members of the mission, William Graves Sharp, the American ambassador, and the embassy staff, by President Poincare at the Elysee palace.

War aims, Col. House said definitely, would not be discussed at either the inter-allied conference or the war council. He added that the American mission was here solely for the purpose of furthering the prosecution of the war and the coordination of resources.

SION S. BASS POST TO CELEBRATE BIRTHDAY

National Chief O. A. Somers to Attend Thirty-Sixth Anniversary.

The thirty-sixth birthday anniversary of the Sion S. Bass post No. 40, G. A. R., will be celebrated with fitting honors on Nov. 26 in Vordermark hall. The post was organized in 1881 and was named after Sion S. Bass, colonel of the Thirtieth Indiana volunteer regiment, who was mortally wounded at the battle of Shiloh in 1862. The post included three hundred members at one time, but the membership has now dwindled down to less than a hundred.

Commander-in-Chief Orlando A. Somers, head of the Grand Army of the Republic, will be present, as will Judge S. M. Hench, department commander of the Indiana G. A. R. Chairman William Engle, Jasper Edsall and Joseph Corlett, the committee of arrangements, have arranged a patriotic program and will furnish suitable speakers. An invitation has been extended to the Lawton-Wayne post, G. A. R. Union Veteran Legion No. 51 and the W. R. C. The W. R. C. will serve refreshments immediately after the program has been completed.

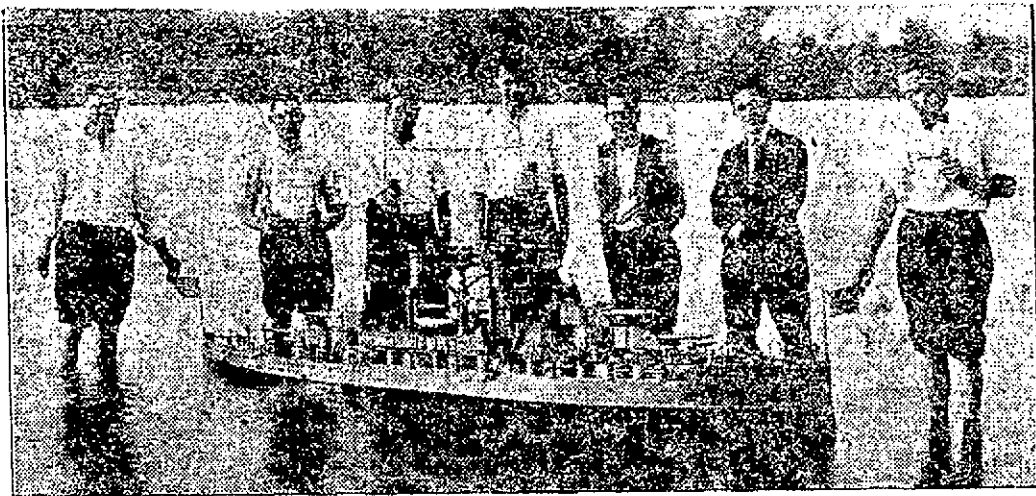

The program as tentatively arranged for Monday evening is as follows:

Song, "America," audience; address of welcome, Commander William Kenler; music; historical review of Sion S. Bass post No. 40, G. A. R., by Past Commander James E. Graham; music; address, Department Commander Samuel M. Hench; music; address, Commander-in-Chief Orlando A. Somers, of Kokomo; song, "Star-Spangled Banner," quartet and audience.

MODEL OF AT LEAST ONE GERMAN NEMESIS ON EXHIBITION AT WOLF & DESSAUER'S

What the American navy means to the American people is being shown in the basement of the Wolf & Dessauer store and is attracting considerable attention. A perfect model of the great superdreadnaught Pennsylvania is on exhibition and all who wish to see it can do so without charge.

Model Fully Equipped.
The miniature is not a lifeless model, but a real fighting model, manned by sailors, armed with cannon and torpedoes, equipped with electric lights, wireless apparatus and all the engineering of war.

The Stars and Stripes are raised, glorious battle flags are unfurled, whose luster has never been dimmed.

Lights glimmer in the portholes. The signal to up anchor is heard. Officers and crew take stations. Guns are manned and volleys fired.

The wireless crackles; searchlights flash code signals. The ship lives.

Sailors pass in and out the doors, which close carefully behind them.

Amidships the conductor steps out and a marine band plays.

Bells sound and the anchors cling to place. A siren howls and little seamen run here and there in orderly disorder. Smoke pour from the stacks and the propellers begin to whirl.

Lights are dimmed. The moment is at hand.

Turrets revolve momentarily and the battery of fourteen-inch guns is trained on the enemy. One blast of a trumpet and the broadside roars. Sailors scamper on the upper deck. Aeroplane guns are trained and fired.

The antennae of the wireless crack out signals to a sister ship. With a hiss a torpedo rushes forth to the work of destruction.

STIRK CIRCLE HOLDS IMPORTANT MEETING

Plans Made for Parcel Post Sale and Social Time for November 29.

At an important meeting of the Stirk circle, Ladies of the G. A. R., Friday night two candidates were mustered into the roll of the order. Further plans were formed for the parcel post sale and social time to be held next Friday evening, Nov. 29, in Vordermark hall. It was announced that S. J. Hartshorn, universally known as "Daddy," the oldest civil war veteran of the city, was ill at his home on Columbia avenue. The circle members were asked to call on the veteran. Word was received that Capt. W. A. Kelsey, another veteran, who has been ill for some time at his home in Lawton place, was greatly improved. The annual meeting and election of officers for the ensuing year will be held Dec. 14.

Plans were formed for the flag service that the circle will hold over the grave of Private Fred M. Cook, the Fort Wayne soldier who was accidentally shot in New York.

Memorial Service.
The Woman's Relief corps of the Sion S. Bass post, G. A. R., held memorial services Friday afternoon in Vordermark hall in honor of the members who have died during the past year. Those who have been mustered out are: Mrs. N. C. Patterson, Mrs. Schramm and Mrs. King. A large number were in attendance.

Circle Entertained.
Mrs. John Doffner, 2504 Miner street, entertained the L. A. S. circle No. 75 at her home Wednesday afternoon. Those present were Mesdames Fred West, E. F. Ponset, Fred Koopman, E. C. Emrick, Ketter, Junction, Frank Moore, Joe Thompson, Hiram Drummond, Elda Stump, J. Berkimer, G. Emrick, and Miss Mary Moore.

Initiation.
A number of candidates were initiated Friday night by the Moose. A social time followed the work.

COMMUNITY SINGING AT BUTLER SUCCESS

Judge Bowersox and His Class of Fifty Years Ago Take Part.

(Special to The Sentinel.)
Butler, Ind., Nov. 24.—Thursday evening the Butler high school put on a community singing at the Butler opera house which was a decided success. The house was literally packed with singers and their friends and Prof. E. E. Day, of the city schools, and his able corps of teachers and their pupils deserve great credit for the enjoyable evening they gave the Butler citizens. The entertainment was opened with remarks by Prof. E. E. Day and the first number was group singing and everyone joined in singing "Battle Hymns of the Republic," "Onward Christian Soldiers" and "Dixie." Judge Bowersox, of Bryan, Ohio, and his singing class of 50 years ago were present and gave two numbers "Over Jordan" and "Watchman Tell Us of the Night." Luther Knisely, a member of this class, gave a reading, "The Old Singing School," which was written by Wm. Barber, of this city. The children of the first and second grades gave a drill and song which was well given and heartily applauded. Group singing of "Columbia the Gem of the Ocean" was followed by a French round by the third and fourth grades. Group singing of "My Bonnie Lies Over the Ocean." At this time Rev. F. A. Shape, of the Christian church, gave an interesting report of the work done by the local Red Cross. Troy township sang "Little Brown Church in the Dell," followed by high school chorus, "Soldiers' Chorus" and "Yankee Doodle." Group singing "When Sammie Comes Marching Home Again." The members of the G. A. R. and W. R. C. sang "The Army Song." Recitation, "Hoover Will Get You if You Don't Watch Out," by Olivia Clay. Vocal Duet, "End of a Meatless Day," by the Misses Galpin and Lautzenhiser; vocal solo, "Roust With the Kaiser."

Rev. F. A. Shape, of the Christian church. High school songs and yells followed by the "Star Spangled Banner," and "Good Night Ladies" concluded the program. During the day the Red Cross held their first tag day and took in over $85.00.

RELIGION, TEMPERANCE AND HEALTH

(Christian Evangelist.)

"I want to make a big Thanksgiving dinner this year," said Mrs. Hamlin, "one that we will long remember, and one that our friends will keep as a bright spot in their memories."

"But, wife, we are invited to the Creightons."

"Yes, I know that, but while I appreciate the opportunity, I would prefer to send our regrets and issue some invitations myself."

"All right," said the doctor, "I am willing."

Doctor and Mrs. Hamlin were comparative newcomers in the little city of Ogden.

In their early married life they had started at the foot of the ladder and had worked their way upward a step at a time, by strict economy and modest living, instead of beginning where their parents left off, or living beyond their means. They had bought the oldest house in Ogden, a building surrounded by a nice plot of ground, and were occupying it until such time as they were able to build a new home. It was a roomy old brick structure, with open grates and deep windows.

Mrs. Hamlin was a teacher in the Sabbath school, and in studying the lesson, had her thoughts turned to the direction of Jesus in Luke 14:12. As she told her husband about it she gazed into the glowing coals before her with a far-away look in her eyes, which suddenly grew soft and luminous as she murmured softly, "It shall be in His name."

So society, which is ever ready to worship success, was sent the regrets of Dr. and Mrs. Hamlin.

Dr. Hamlin thought he knew his wife, but like many another man, he found himself often mistaken. However, to please her fancy, everything good, wholesome and luxurious was provided for the Thanksgiving feast. The rooms of the old house were made to look like a chrysanthemum show. The table was resplendent in its best china and snowy cloth. Mrs. Hamlin was charmingly dressed in a new bright, but inexpensive gown, which she thought befitting the occasion.

The hour had arrived for the coming of the guests. The coachman had received his orders, on the fly, from Mrs. Hamlin, and had started forth, with the family carriage, to bring the guests to the feast. First came a woman accompanied by a young, timid girl, who were ushered in by the door maid.

"Mrs. Sheldon, how good of you to come early. I know of no one who could assist me today so well as you. I certainly thank you."

"No thanks are necessary. I am only too glad to lend myself to such work."

Mrs. Sheldon was a preacher's widow, one of God's noblewomen—a woman whose life had been lived for the Master, and whose lot had been cast among the poor and lowly as well as with the rich and arrogant. Her heart's training had been along sympathetic lines, and her mind's training qualified her to grasp the mental heights of the most learned. Her daughter was one of God's earthly creatures that, like a tender plant blighted by frost, had been impaired by the blight of disease, until the mind that remained was that of a child in a woman's body. She was bright and cheery in her way, with a trustful love which only angels know, and was the one great comfort of her mother's lonely life.

The carriage drove up and two people were assisted to the door, for the door maid, driver and cook almost carried one of them. She was an old woman with white hair and a face which had a look of bitterness in it—a face that had not grown old gracefully, which was not softened by suffering, and which aroused pity. She was richly dressed, as was also her daughter, who was an imbecile. They were rich in this world's goods, but poor in their stock of love and friends and kindness. Dr. Hamlin had once said to his wife, "My dear, go visit them, for while they are wealthy, they are poor in all that goes to make life bright and sunny," and she often went.

The next arrival was an old lady, who had a face as bright as the noon-day sun. Her step was quick and firm, for one as old as she, and her hair was black at sixty-five. Her face had a sweet expression, as though something within was at work manufacturing sunshine. Her eyes—sad as it is to say—were sightless. She had windows, but the shutters were drawn. It was a light that came from above that made this aged face so bright and attractive. For years this Christian woman had lived in darkness; but the light of the sun of righteousness yet illumined her life.

Mrs. Hamlin led the blind woman to a place by Mrs. Sheldon and said, "Mrs. Winston, here is one who will anticipate your every wish, and you will find in her kindred thoughts and feelings. Mrs. Sheldon, I place this guest in your care."

Many others came, some rich, and some poor, but all were of the "alone" class. There was a music teacher who kept bachelor's hall, and a young carpenter who was far away from home and friends. The last arrival was an old soldier, who came in an invalid's chair, attended by his daughter, a sweet and faithful slave for her adoring father.

Then the doctor came in, his face aglow in anticipation of coming festivities. As he looked, he thought some mistake had been made—then he knew all. A hearty welcome was given to each by a warm handshake. They knew that this man was their best friend and wise counselor. The glad looks and bright faces and the loving exclamation of blind Mrs. Tilson made the doctor's eyes moist with suppressed feeling. He looked for his wife, and when their eyes met she was made the happiest woman in the world.

Dr. Hamlin, half carrying the cripple, led the way to the dining room, followed by Mrs. Sheldon with the blind woman, the others following. Mrs. Hamlin herself wheeling the soldier's chair. Such a dinner was never served before. When all were filled and merriment reigned supreme, the doctor proposed a toast to "The chief of entertainers—my wife." All agreed to this and the doctor himself responded in a manner becoming the time and place.

Then they returned to the parlor to hear the musician play the sweet songs of old. The tongue of the old soldier was loosened and tales of war and heroism delighted the listeners.

The time of parting came, and one by one the guests were helped into the carriage by loving hands. The joy of the occasion was reflected in the face of the young hostess, who realized she had not only given pleasure to a few of the unfortunate of earth, but she knew she had the approval of her heavenly Father, who says something in His book about the "cup of cold water" given in His name.

WHAT AMERICANS RESENT.

(Philadelphia Ledger.)

It can be said without denial that the American people, in this war to win, are too patriotic to resent the high prices made imperative by extraordinary conditions. What they do resent are the inequalities, so manifest and unfair, in prices, weights, qualities of their food. They object to wartime impositions, not wartime prices. They will pay the prices willingly enough if they are assured that others are doing it and that the average unfavored, buying "plain folks" are not augmenting swollen profits of manufacturers, wholesalers and dealers whose patriotism vanishes before the prospect of commercial gain.

UNSELFISH THANKSGIVING.

How many on Thanksgiving day have a time of merriment at home with their friends and loved ones and make a feast for them! How little they think of those who are in poverty and in suffering, of those shivering from the cold, and weak with hunger! Jesus said, "When thou makest a feast, call the poor, the maimed, the lame, the blind; and thou shalt be blessed, for they cannot recompense thee: for thou shalt be recompensed at the resurrection of the just."—God's Revivalist.

There's No Power in the World So Strong as the Power of Love

(Apples of Gold.)

A good Christian lady, we are told, once opened a home for crippled children. Among those who were received was a little boy three years old, who was a most frightful and disagreeable looking child.

The good lady did her best for him, but the child was so unpleasant in his ways that she could not bring herself to like him.

One day she was sitting on the veranda steps with the child in her arms. The sun was shining warm; the scent of the flowers, the chirping of the birds and the buzzing of the insects lulled her into drowsiness.

So in a half-waking, half-dreaming state, the lady dreamed of herself as having changed places with the child, only she was, if possible, more foul and more disagreeable than he was.

Over her, she saw the Lord bending, looking intently and lovingly into her face, and yet with a sort of rebuke in it, as if he meant to say, "If I can love you, who are so full of sin, surely you ought, for my sake, to love that suffering child."

Just then the lady awoke with a start and looked in the face of the little boy who lay on her lap. He had waked up, too, and she expected to hear him begin to cry; but he looked at her—poor little mite—very quietly and earnestly for a long time, and then she bent her face to his and kissed his forehead more tenderly than she had ever done.

With a startled look in his eyes and a flush on his cheeks, the little boy, instead of crying, gave her back a sweet smile that she had ever seen before.

From that day forth a perfect change came over the child. Young as he was, he had hitherto read the feeling of dislike and disgust in the faces of all who had approached him, but the touch of human love which now came into his life swept all the peevishness and ill-nature away, and woke him up to a happier life.

Do you know that there is no power in this world so strong as the power of love? As someone has truly said, love is the greatest thing in the world.

Face Your Troubles; They May Be Lighter Than You Think Them

(Advance.)

"I had plowed around a rock in one of my fields for five years," said a farmer, "and I had broken a moving machine knife against it, besides losing all of the ground in which it lay, all because I supposed it was such a large rock that it would take too much time and labor to remove it. But today, when I began to plow for corn, I thought that by-and-by I might break my cultivated against that rock; so I took a crowbar, intending to poke around it and find out its size once for all. And it was one of the surprises of my life to find that it was little more than two feet long. It was standing on its edge, and so light that I could lift it onto the wagon without help."

"The first time you really faced your trouble you conquered it," I replied aloud, but continued to enlarge upon the subject all to myself, for I do believe that before we pray, or, better, while we pray, we should look our trouble squarely in the face.

Imagine the farmer plowing around that rock for five years, praying all the while, "O Lord, remove that rock," when he did not know whether it was a big rock, or a little flat stone!

We shiver and shake and shrink, and sometimes do not dare to pray about a trouble, because it makes it seem so real, not even knowing what we wish the Lord to do about it, when, if we would face the trouble and call it by its name, one-half of its terror would be gone.

The trouble that lies down with us at night, and confronts us on first waking in the morning, is not the trouble that we have faced, but the trouble whose proportions we do not know.—Advance.

MADE OVER.

I am not thinking of garments, but of souls. There are, I suppose, people whose pride would not permit them to wear a made-over suit; but if we should refuse to wear our souls re-made most of us would go without. Growth implies outgrowing earlier measurements. Modes of thought and conviction alter as we mature. "The old order changeth, giving place to new." We also must change. We must have the old garments of thought recut. Some one says that the best violin is an old Cremona, and that the best of the old Cremonas is one which has been smashed and put together again. If this be true of violins, shall it not be still more true of souls? God's specialty, if I may say so, is to remake the soul.—George Clarke Peck.

NOT SO WONDERFUL.

The merchant turned to the boy with the weak intellect and said: "What a wonderful thing! When these wires are completed, you will be able to send a message through to Aberdeen, many miles away, and get an answer back in twenty minutes." The half-witted Christian lad, on hearing that, exclaimed: "I do not see anything wonderful in that at all." And on being asked by the merchant whether he knew of anything more wonderful, he remarked: "I should think I do." He then said to the merchant: "Did you ever hear of people getting an answer before they sent their message?" And on the merchant asking what he meant, he replied: "I only mean what Isaiah says: 'It shall come to pass that before they call I will answer, and while they are yet speaking I will hear.'"—The Gentleman.

FEELING AND DUTY.

We are responsible not only for the intensity of our feeling but for its quality. We are to see to it that our patriotic fervor contains no elements of vindictiveness, hatred or of lust for territory or domination over others.—Congregationalist.

EVANGELIST BILLY SUNDAY HAS HIT THE TRAIL WAY DOWN SOUTH

And now Billy Sunday himself has "hit the trail." So did his wife, "Ma" Sunday, and their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George Sunday.

It happened down south—on one of the evangelist's "off days." Now for the "ketch"—it was the trail of the "possums." They all hit the sawdust trail long ago. Aw! You guessed? Pshaw!

On the extreme left is "Ma," next to her (indicated by the arrow) is Billy; next, in the white shirt, is George; next to George his wife.

YOUR HEALTH AND HOW YOU CAN KEEP IT

Ventilate Night and Day if You Would Avoid Disease.

Proper ventilation includes not only a constant current of air to replace used up, but that air must be pure air, free from smoke, gases, dirt or germs.

Proper ventilation, however, does not mean that the doors and windows should be thrown open and that which has been kept so during the winter months without heating the rooms. Proper ventilation may be maintained in heated living rooms and the temperature kept at a comfortable degree.

It is best, however, to sleep in an unheated room and with the windows open. The burning of candles, lamps or gas is not conducive to good health, especially in places where proper ventilation cannot be maintained.

Drafts should be avoided and a constant supply of fresh air provided to take the place of that which has already been used. The size and shape of a room may be a factor in proper ventilation. No matter how large a room be, if the supply of fresh air is not steady the air will become impure. On the other hand, no matter how small the room if sufficient ventilation is carried on the air continues pure.

A lofty, unventilated room will in a short time, if occupied, become filled with impure air. Floor space is more important to ventilation than height. With a modern system of ventilation you will breathe better air in many basement establishments than in stores and offices containing enormous floor space with high ceilings, but lacking in proper ventilation.

What One Man Did to Benefit the Public Health.

"Hygiene is the art of preserving health; that is, obtaining the most perfect action of the body and mind during as long a period as is consistent with the laws of life."

So wrote a man who devoted all his adult life to the promotion of the public health and who died at the age of 56 of pulmonary tuberculosis.

Edmund Alexander Parkes, born March 29, 1819, physician, surgeon, sanitarian and author, left perhaps a greater impress on sanitary science than any Englishman of the nineteenth century.

His work ranges from the theoretical consideration of the minutest details of chemical and physiological research to the practical consideration of the cleansing of a sewer or the lighting of the soldier's knapsack.

India, the Crimea and London saw his labors and benefited thereby. War brings some good things in its train. Just as the Napoleonic campaigns perfected the art of transporting the sick and the loss of life from preventable disease in the Spanish war quickened the sanitary conscience of the American people, so the horrors of the Crimean campaign made Parkes a professor of military hygiene.

He organized a complete course of instruction based on the principle that the student must be able to practically apply the lessons which he learned. Many of the sanitary reforms which he inaugurated are now bearing fruit in the improvement of the well-being of the community at large.

Hints for Those Who Can't Sleep and Those Who Can.

Don't take business to bed with you. Make your brain cells stop work.

Cultivate calmness and soon you will be in the land of slumber.

Taking your worries to bed is one of the surest ways of getting insomnia. Eye strain is another cause of it. If you are a "fretful sleeper" it will be well to eat only a very light meal in the evening. Avoid drinking water or other fluids several hours before going to bed. Over-indulgence in tea, coffee, or tobacco is also bad.

If you have the habit of waking with the first rays of morning light have your bedroom window fitted with black, opaque shades.

Persons who sleep out of doors are frequently troubled in this way. To overcome the annoyance, tie a black bandage across the eyes or rub the eyelids with burnt cork.

Sleep during the early part of the night is considered best. Those who have trouble in dropping off to sleep promptly are sometimes benefited by munching a cracker or drinking a glass of warm milk just before they retire.

If you can't go to sleep at once don't get up and walk around or read. Once the habit of wakefulness has been acquired, it is particularly hard to break. If the body and brain are in normal condition there is no reason why one should not go to sleep easily. Don't worry over the fact that you can't. At the same time make up your mind that you are going to sleep. Learn to dominate your brain cells. It will not be long before they will obey you implicitly.

Life More Abundant; Narrow Life Cannot Be Close to Christ

(Rev. C. C. Albertson in the Christian Herald.)

People of certain temperaments are inclined to certain sins. The ambitions are in danger of pride. The acquisitive are in peril of greed. The volatile temperament is likely to be unduly elated one day, and unduly depressed the next. The strong-willed are disposed to "lord it" over others, while the weak-willed are apt to be too easily influenced. The ascetic type is blind to life's joy and beauty, while the esthetic type must guard itself against the tyranny of the flesh and of the senses. There are some sins to which we are all disposed. (One of these is that of littleness. It is easy to be content to live narrow lives.)

To do less than we ought; to let our motives be dominant; to carry on our life work on a low plane, untouched by the motives which make high souls. The trouble with most of us, we do not perceive that littleness and greatness are essentially of the spirit. A king may be a small soul. A peasant may be an ample soul.

The keynote of the Christian religion is the development of the individual to the utmost of his powers. No one of us can follow Christ closely, and live a narrow life. We may not be given great tasks, but life takes on new dimensions. Michel Angelo, working on his statue of David, put a lighted candle in the visor of his cap, and so prevented any shadow of himself falling upon his work. Worldliness disqualifies us for spiritual greatness, for largeness of heart, false pride, social envy, wrath, ignorance, low ideals, immature love of ease and pleasure, unbridled passion—all these are prison bars to keep our souls within a meager compass. We may get out; we may break the bars; our souls have a strong Friend who opens gates of iron and breaks down thick walls, and leads us to high viewpoints and vast outlooks. God awaits only our prayer to deliver from bondage to little things, to make us comrades of his Son.

"YE HAVE DONE IT UNTO ME" A TALE OF THE WEST WHERE A GOOD DEED WORKS MIRACLE

It was an August afternoon. The hot winds were sweeping over the western prairies. Not a green thing was to be seen. The earth was parched and dried up, and the heavens were brass. Everything seemed to be crying, "Water, water!"

Rachel stood in the door of the rude cabin on the plain, and shading her eyes with her hand, looked far out over the prairies. "Why don't father and mother come?" she said. "There, I guess they are coming now."

No, it was only an immigrant wagon, but it was following the trail that would bring it right by her door. Two half-starved horses, drawing a dilapidated wagon, a drunken driver, a sick woman, and four children—these were what Rachel saw when they drew near. "Any water," asked the driver. "Whiskey ain't as cooling as some other things on a day like this."

For an instant Rachel hesitated; a pail of water stood on the bench behind the door, but it was the very last they would be able to draw from their well, and when that was gone, where was more to come from? A thin white hand lifted the cover, and a pale face looked out.

Rachel hesitated no longer. She quickly took the dipper from the nail on which it hung, and carried the pail to the wagon. The half-famished creature licked it dry, and the dog came and licked it dry.

"Remember, child," said the woman, as they drove away, "who it was that said, 'Inasmuch as ye have done it unto the least of these, my brethren, ye have done it unto me.'"

Rachel watched them out of sight, and when she turned and entered her humble home, she felt happy, despite the fact that she knew not whence the next drop of water was to come.

All the afternoon a still, small voice kept saying, "Ye have done it unto me; ye have done it unto me." It was dark before her father and mother returned. They had gone several miles beyond the village to a well where they heard water was to be had, and brought back two barrels full. The little family on the plain suffered many privations during that year of drought, but the needy were never turned from their door.

The years passed by, and the desert began to "blossom as the rose." Fertile fields, thriving villages, and popular cities were to be seen on all sides. It was then that the brave-hearted people began "a peaceful war for God, and home, and native land."

Rachel was no longer a barefooted girl, but had developed into a comely matron, and was one of the most valiant soldiers in the great struggle. She had been the means of securing a well known speaker to deliver a lecture in her town.

"I love this country," said the speaker, as he looked over the large audience. I shall always love it; for it was on these plains that I took my first temperance pledge. When I was a lad my father settled in the western part of the state, but during the summer of the great drought we were literally starved out. Packing our few effects into a wagon, we started back east.

For days we traveled over the parched desert, through winds and drifting sand, with scarcely water enough to moisten our burning lips.

Finally we came to a house. It was only a shanty standing alone out on the wild prairie, but it was the home of the angel of our deliverance. A sweet girl brought out a pail of water, and gave us all we could drink. It was all she had, and have often wished she could know just how much her cup of cold water did in our family. We held a praise meeting right there, in the old wagon.

My father threw away his whisky bottle. "This is my thank-offering," he said. "Mine," said my mother, "shall be my boy." I promised her then for the rest of my life to be a soldier in the cold-water army.

Rachel bowed her head to hide the tears that were coursing down her cheeks, and she heard the still small voice say, "Ye have done it unto me! Ye have done it unto me!"

An African Teacher and His Eloquence Describing a Bible

Najola, Agbebi, Ph. D., a native of Lagos, and the head of the native Baptist church of West Africa, thus defines the Bible:

"This Book contains the mind of God, reveals the state of man, the way of salvation, the doom of sinners, and the happiness of believers. Its doctrines are holy, its precepts are binding, its histories are true, and its decisions are immutable. Read it and be wise, believe it and be safe, and practice it and be holy. It contains light to direct you, food to support you, and comfort to cheer you. It is the traveler's map, the pilgrim's staff, the pilot's pass, the soldier's sword, and the Christian's character. Here Paradise is restored, heaven opened, and the gates of hell closed. Christ is its grand subject, our good its design, and the glory of God its end. Read it slowly, frequently, prayerfully. It is a mine of wealth, a paradise of glory, and a river of pleasure. It is given to you in life, will be opened at the judgment, and remembered forever. It involves the highest responsibility, rewards the greatest labor, and endures all who trifle with its precepts."

"The sense of duty is the largest asset in humanity."—Dargan.

JUST PIECE OF PAPER.

(The Outlook.)

Appropos of a recent financial magazine's downfall, a depositor remarked to a bank official that he thought that the man in a subordinate position who handles large amounts of cash is subjected to a greater temptation than the "high financier." "Not so," was the answer. "I was a paying teller for 10 years and I can assure you that handling cash in large amounts is absolutely like handling simple pieces of paper with numbers on them. It is the mathematics of accounting that interests a cashier—the keeping of these bits of paper in perfect order. The question of what he might do with the bills never enters a busy paying teller's mind."

HELPING THE MINISTER.

"One thing helped me very much while I was preaching today," said a clergyman.

"What was that?" inquired a friend.

"It was the attention of a little girl, who kept her eyes fixed on me and seemed to hear and understand every word I said. She was a great help to me."

Think of that, little ones, and when you go to church, fix your eyes on the minister and try to understand what he says, for he is speaking to you as well as to grown-up people. He is telling about the Lord Jesus, who said, "Suffer little children to come unto me."—Selected.

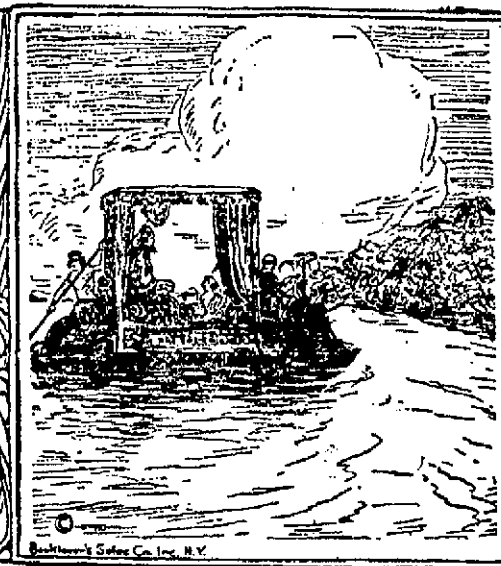

THE HEROIC AGE

(By RICHARD WATSON GILDER.)

He speaks not well who doth his time deplore, Naming it new and little and obscure, Ignoble and unfit for lofty deeds. All times were modern in the times of them, And this no more than others. Do thy part Here the living day, as did the great Who made old days immortal! So shall men, Gazing long back to this far-looking hour, Say: "Then the time when men were truly men;" Tho' wars grew less, their spirits met the test Of new conditions; conquering civic wrong, Saving the state anew by virtuous lives; Guarding their country's honor as their own, And their own as their country's and their sons'; Proclaiming service as the one test of worth; Defying leagued fraud with single truth; Knights of the spirit; warriors in the cause Of justice absolute 'twixt man and man; Not fearing loss; and daring to be pure. When error through the land raged like a pest They calmed the madness caught from mind to mind By wisdom drawn from eld, and counsel sane; And as the martyrs of the ancient world Gave Death for man, so nobly gave they life: Those the great days, and that the heroic age.

Last Week's Question and the Answer

Last week's query: "What is the shortest song in the Bible?" is answered in Numbers, Chapter 21, Verse 17:

"Thou Israel song this song, Spring up, O well, sing ye unto it."

THE MOUNTAINS IS STILL IN PROGRESS

In this last desperate charge, the officers and men were eager to advance, preferring death to being made prisoners. The enemy losses must be very heavy, but he is bringing forward a steady stream of reserves.

The first army also is sustaining a heavy fight west of Brenna river, where the enemy rush has been repulsed by the splendid resistance of the Italians.

Heroic Daring of Men.

The Count of Turin, commander of the Italian cavalry in the recent retreat, has given out a written review of the deeds performed by his men. Many instances of individual daring are recorded. A corporal of the Florence Lancers was ordered to explore a zone near Cividale. Going forward he saw a large party of Italians held prisoner by the enemy. He returned and gathered a force of cavalry, which released the imprisoned party and brought them back. In another case Piedmontese cavalry, after being surrounded, broke through the enemy lines, but the colonel commanding failed to escape. He was the only man left inside the enemy circle and he was seen to take his stand against a wall, probably preferring death to being made a prisoner.

The fate of the Caserta cavalry, which was dismounted and fought aloft, and of their fellow dragoons, also is recounted, making this recital one of the most stirring chapters of the recent operations.

Issue On Mountain Battle.

On the outcome of the mountain battle depends the result of the enemy's greatest effort to break through the Italian lines to the Venetian plain. The recapture of the Italian positions on Monte Tomba was accomplished by a succession of brilliant charges which dyed the swords red and left the ground piled with enemy dead. Monte Pertica was lost and won four times, the enemy finally being thrown back. Although the losses have been terrible, those of the enemy are by far the greater, owing to the condition of the fighting field and the desperate heroism of the Italian troops. The battle, which had been gradually gathering force in the last few days, broke in full fury early yesterday and raged throughout the day, the night and today. The first blow was struck at Monte Pertica, where dense masses of enemy infantry were hurled against the Italians. The fighting was extremely violent.

Where Greatest Blow Fell.

The enemy's greatest blow was aimed at the strategic key of Monte Tomba and Monte Montefenera. Here the full force of two divisions, one German, the other Austrian, was hurled in a furious attack on the Italian right wing in an effort to turn the wing and cut off the army from its line of communication along the Piave. Now came one of the bloodiest struggles of the war, which went on all last night and today with a steady succession of attack and counter attack.

What the outcome will be cannot be foreseen, but the Italian army have again covered themselves with glory and have snatched back victory when it was hanging in the balance. Even the enemy yields before the Italian valor, for prisoners say their forces are surprised at the resistance met and disconcerted by the intemperate bravery of the Italian troops.

REORGANIZING ARMY.

Rome, Friday, Nov. 23.—"The reorganization of the entire Italian army is proceeding apace," said Senator Vini Marconi, inventor of the wireless, in an interview today with the Associated Press. "It makes us confident that the onward march of the enemy will be definitely stopped."

Sensor Marconi has just returned from a tour of the front from the mouth of the Piave to Monte Grappa, during which he inspected the wireless apparatus.

"I saw the Duke of Aosta, (commander of the third army), General Diaz (commander-in-chief), General Badoglio (second in command) and other leading commanders," he continued. "All were filled with hope that the worst is over, that the revival of the morale of the soldiers, which is constantly more noticeable, may give unexpected results. I found everywhere that the spirit of the troops was very high. The men are desirous to take revenge for the reverses suffered and are furious at the thought that any Italians had been beaten into believing Austrian and German lies when the enemy announced the intention to lay down arms if the Italians did the same."

"The navy, co-operating with the army along the coast and in the war section of the Piave, is gaining splendid successes, to which the British monitors are contributing. The Italian artillery is doing marvelous getting the last ounce possible out of the guns along the Piave."

"I was told the enemy had suffered severe losses near Asiago and also in the mountains between the Brenta and Piave rivers. The general opinion in high quarters is that if the Italians can hold their line for four or five days longer the immediate danger will be over."

"What we desire ardently is the closest possible union and co-operation with America. I have been able already to appreciate the co-operation of the United States in this great war, but it would bring it home to the Italians more effectively if they knew that America also was at war with our nearest enemy, Austria."

Last night after the teams had all reached the result of their day's work, it was found that $4,796.02 had been gathered in since the preceding day's report, making a grand total to date of $14,172.66 up to last night. What has been gathered since then will not be revealed until this evening's final meeting of the teams. It is believed, however, that Allen county's quota will be reached if not exceeded. The figure which the national board set for Allen county was $15,000, but it was hoped that the amount secured here might be in excess of this in order to make up such shortage as may occur in the other six counties which constitute the Port Wayne district, whose quota was $21,000. It was found impossible, for lack of time, to organize the work thoroughly in the outside counties, on account of the necessity of starting the campaign so soon after the close of the Y. M. C. A. drive.

Last evening, the teams representing the industrial extension department, in reporting a total of $328, stated that it was made up of the following subscriptions, made by many wage earners who showed splendid loyalty and sacrifice in making the total so large: Holman Street Lamp works employees, $15.50; Helt-Miller-Law Co. employees, $13.25; Helt-Miller-Law Co. employees, $13.25; Helt-Miller-Law Co. employees, $13.25; Union Manufacturing Co. employees, $12.75; Union Manufacturing Co. employees, $12.75; Economy Glove Co. employees, $18; east branch of the Wayne Knitting Mills, $48.50. The teachers of the schools have subscribed generously to the cause.

Following is the record for yesterday:

Teams.	Amount.
Mrs. Corey	$92.25
Mrs. Jacobs	$89.50
Mrs. McBride	$25.00
Mrs. Meriwether	1,000.00

W. H. Schlemmer, president of the Allen County Council of Defense, is one of the strong supporters of the Y. W. C. A. cause. Says he: "We are endeavoring, through the Y. W. C. A. to protect the soldiers by surrounding them with an environment that will keep them clean in body and mind. Why shouldn't we give the same consideration to the girls—all the girls? If men are willing to help save the boys, why shouldn't men help the women to save the girls? I believe the Y. W. C. A. stands for greater success to Y. M. C. A."

For Future Generations.

"If there was ever a time when people should be generous in supporting any movement that tends to conserve the moral, physical and spiritual welfare of young people, surely the present years of our history to this work will yield the greatest returns," says E. E. Griest, president of the Port Wayne Y. M. C. A. and one of the most active workers in the late men's campaign. "There are many other reasons why this great Y. W. C. A. movement should be supported, but the big purpose as I see it, is the conservation of life. It has been stated on most excellent authority that the countries of Europe would for the next three generations feel the effect of not properly safe-guarding their young people—not only the young men in the armies but the young men and women in civil life as well."

"It is fortunate for us and our future generations that the men at the head of our war department realize the great value of righteous living and that this means good men for our army and good men for women to carry on the great work necessary to make our army and navy successful. And that the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. are doing this tremendous task well is apparent from the many tributes paid three organizations, by our army officers, both in France and in this country."

Are Absolute Need.

"One need only to visit a cantonment to see the absolute need of the work of the Y. W. C. A. The girls working in the cantonments will be protected by this great organization. And we must remember that there are many more girls working than ever before. Many girls are working now to help out, and surely we want these girls protected in the same way the men are."

Then there will be a place for sisters, mothers and sweethearts to stay in comfort when they visit their loved ones. There is a crying need for this Y. W. C. A. work and the people of this great country will make sacrifices, if necessary, to carry it through. "I often wonder if we know what sacrifice is. As I listened to Lieutenant Perigord, of the French army, tell of the conditions at Verdun it seemed that surely our men would never have to suffer what these French soldiers did. Think of men in trenches for three weeks without removing their shoes, and for five weeks without removing their clothing! And for 26 months not having seen a child or woman! Surely these men have made sacrifices that we, who remain in this country will never experience. So, who who remain at home ought to give until it pinches—and then a little more. We ought to be liberal in giving to this worthy cause."

"A good woman is the greatest incentive for correct behavior on the part of a man. And these splendid women who will work for the Y. W. C. A. will have just that effect on the men in the cantonments."

A. H. Perfect's Comment.

In his comment concerning the Y. W. C. A. campaign, A. H. Perfect one of the leaders in the Y. M. C. A. work, says: "The Young Women's Christian association has been asked by the men on the ground who understand the necessities of our army work to help out in the struggle for personal purity that stands so prominently as the great question in this titanic struggle, and those whose sons are in the cantonments as well as those whose daughters are brought into contact with the army life in its varied forms want to have every safe-guard thrown around them that 'really' protects and the efforts of our local organization should be helped along to the best of our ability. In these times when there are so many calls for money if we were going on the usual practices we would have to stop and consider, but certainly no one can hope to lay up money while this war is on us with all its frightfulness, and those of us who cannot fight and have some money, the very least we can do is to 'pay' and do that willingly and substantially."

One of the documents published is a letter dated Sept. 26 last, from M. Tarnoschenko, then Russian foreign minister to the Russian ambassador at Washington. The letter instructed the ambassador to express to Secretary Lansing high appreciation of the fact that the American ambassador at Petrograd, David R. Francis, refrained from joining in representations by the British, French and Italian ambassadors that some measures must be taken to increase the fighting capacity of the Russian armies. The letter added that this action had a depressing effect, inasmuch as the allies knew the energies which the Russian government was exerting toward carrying on the war.

SUMMARY OF THE

rendering the latter useless as a secondary line of defense against an attack from the west. In this operation valuable high ground around the dominating Baurion wood to the west of Cambrai was taken yesterday and progress was made further west on both sides of the canal Du Nord, near Moeuvres and Queant. Additional ground also was gained in the neighborhood of Bullecourt.

The Italian front is still holding firmly, although its defense is costing the Italians heavily in men. There were further efforts by the Austro-German masses to break through to the west end of the line between Asiago plateau and the Brenta, but Gen. Diaz's troops successfully withstood all these carefully prepared thrusts. The Piave river line remains intact and apparently the enemy efforts to force it are no longer serious, although Rome today reports the breaking up by artillery fire of hostile attempts to lay pontoon.

In the more important mountain front between Brenna and Piave the struggle is still a desperate one. No progress is claimed by Berlin in this sector. On the contrary the Italians have been counter-attacking heavily, although, Berlin declares, without success.

Two American destroyers in the war zone accounted for a German submarine recently, it was officially announced in Washington. A depth bomb caused the U-boat to come to the surface disabled and she sank soon afterwards while a destroyer with a line attached was attempting to tow her in.

On the Italian front the forces of General Diaz in hand to hand fighting are holding up strong Austro-German attempts at advance.

On the Asiago plateau of the Brenta river the Italians have checked an enemy enfilading movement with the object of surrounding Monte Meletta, the vantage point in this region. The enemy attacked after a strong bombardment but the Italian first army held to its position, inflicting serious losses upon the attackers and took 200 prisoners.

East of the Brenta toward the Piave river the Italians still hold firm on the important Monte Grappa-Monte Tomba line, protecting the entrance to the Venetian plains. The fighting here is of the most desperate character. The Austro-Germans are attacking in massed formation, aided by strong artillery fire. They have been unable, however, to make a dent in the Italian defenses in the last three days.

The bait of a separate peace offered by the Bolshevik government in Petrograd apparently has attracted the central powers. According to a report from Stockholm an emissary has gone to Petrograd with an offer of peace from Germany and its allies. It is reported also that Gen. von Ludendorff, Field Marshal von Hindenburg's principal aid and the reputed strong man of the German staff, has gone to the eastern front in connection with the Bolshevik offer of an armistice.

American government officials regard the Bolshevik offer as an act that would place Russia in the list of unfriendly nations. The British government, its minister of blockade, declares that the making of a separate peace by the people of Russia would put them virtually outside the pale of civilized Europe.

RUSS ENVOY HOLDS FAST

bers of the embassy to find other fields for their activities.

Ambassador's Letter.

The letter of the ambassador follows: "My Dear Secretary: In connection with the events which are taking place at present in Russia I have considered it imperative to define clearly the attitude which the embassy has adopted with regard to further activities."

"First, from the very outset of the revolution in Petrograd the embassy has considered a 'Bolshevik' government as anti-national and not representative of the true will of the Russian people. The embassy has, therefore, refused to accept the authority and has not entered into any contact with the group at present in power in Petrograd. In the future I will continue in not recognizing a 'Bolshevik' or any similar government which would break loyalty to Russia's allies and lead the country to a non-participation in the war."

"However disorganizing and dangerous for my country and the common allied cause might be the passing rule of the 'Bolshevik', I have not declined to a moment the firm attitude of faith and conviction that have open steps undertaken by Russia from the war cannot prejudice the true spirit of the Russian people and of the real decisions which the people will adopt when freed from the temporary rule of violence which is endeavoring actually to bring forth irreparable action."

New Russia Bound to Arise.

"A deep and active opposition of all sound and constructive elements of Russia is bound to arise, revealing in positive action the true spirit of the national Russia."

"However, it is evident that until conditions change the Russian embassy cannot exercise in full measure the most essential of its duties and activities which are based on active war co-operation with the United States government and the allies. I have authorized therefore members of the embassy to follow their natural feeling in their desire to find other grounds for their activities."

"As to myself, I consider it my duty to remain at my post, having to hold firmly the dignity of national and loyal Russia, and to maintain the responsibility to all engagements and commitments of the legal government of Russia which has been entrusted to me. I will continue to carry such duties until recognized as such by the United States government, takes charge of the representation of Russia after formal acceptance of the whole of its functions, duties and liabilities."

Will Hold Fast to Duty.

"In the meantime, defending the symbol of a national representation of Russia, I will carry on the current affairs pertaining to the manifold matters in which the Russian government has contracted tight bonds in the process of war co-operation with the government of the United States and different institutions of this country."

"I will endeavor, as well, to render all possible protection to the interests of the citizens of Russia in this country and will give support to all activities of individuals and institutions in Russia whose endeavors are directed to frustrate the rule of anti-national elements and contribute to the revelation of the true spirit of the country."

"A staff of assistants necessary for the fulfillment of this task will remain in the embassy and other Russian institutions in the United States performing the heavy patriotic duty and contributing their devotion to the endeavors which are actually made in Russia by different departments and institutions which not recognizing the 'Bolshevik' government, apply all efforts to oppose its destructive activities by maintaining to the utmost the danger of disruption of all elements of the state."

"Accept, excellency, the renewed assurances of my highest consideration."

of war material and several scores of guns. Fighting activity has been renewed in the Plaines, but on a small scale. Southeast of Ypres, Field Marshal Haig made a slight advance in the direction of Menin. German artillery fire is heavy on this front especially around Passchendaele.

TAKE OVER 100 GUNS.

London, Nov. 24.—At various points west of Cambrai the British made progress yesterday, the war office reports. More than 100 guns have been captured recently in this area.

LINE OF MAIN ATTACK.

British Army Headquarters in France, Friday, Nov. 23.—(By the Associated Press.)—The main attack on the opening of the offensive Tuesday was along the western bank of the canal Du Nord, which runs almost due north and south and a little west of Havrincourt. The main Hindenburg line trenches were built along this waterway and the British had to fight their way up the big ditch. The Usteries hurled themselves on the Germans with such fury that the latter were compelled to desert their machine guns and abandon the hill, and many of them were shot down as they fled northward along the canal. A large number of prisoners were captured in the dugouts.

During the afternoon the Irish were held up temporarily because of the shortage of ammunition near a sunken road, southwest of Graincourt, where the Germans were established in considerable force. The ammunition came up and the British charged forward again. They overcame the resistance south of the Cambrai-Bapaume highway. Hand to hand fighting occurred at positions below the road but the Germans finally were forced to withdraw. Dugouts lighted by electricity were found in the chain of defenses along the highway. By 6:10 o'clock in the evening the Irish troops had crossed the Cambrai-Bapaume highway on both sides of the canal and taken a stand south of Moeuvres. This was the situation here at the end of the first day's fighting.

Wednesday morning the British pushed forward, this time having the support of a certain amount of artillery. Moeuvres was strongly held, but the Irish stormed the defenses with bombs and forced their way half through the village. Here they came up against a heavy barricade which they took with the bayonet and for a time drove the Germans out of the village. In the afternoon the German approached from the east of the canal for a counter-attack, but this was smashed by machine gun and rifle fire. Later in the afternoon the German artillery opened up and heavily shelled the trenches held by the British south of Moeuvres.

Thursday morning the Irish were holding most of Moeuvres and the east bank of the canal. In the afternoon the Germans delivered a sudden counter-attack from the north and after hand to hand fighting thrusts among the houses they forced the British to withdraw to the southern outskirts. This morning the Irish again surged forward against the town and at an early hour had worked their way around toward the north.

In the Graincourt section on the right of the Irish, remarkable work was done by cavalry on the first day. The horsemen had swept forward and captured Annex by Tuesday evening. This represented an advance of about 7,000 yards, which is said to be a record for one day.

An elaborate battalion headquarters fell into their hands.

The British Forced Out.

During Tuesday night the Germans counter attacked Annex with troops which had just been brought from the Russian front. A strong battle took place and the British again attacked Annex and recaptured it.

Proceeding northward the British drove the enemy from the trenches near the edge of Bourlon wood. This trench was so remarkably well camouflaged that no sign of it was visible until the British saw the German faces apparently coming out of the ground. A hand to hand battle began. Later the British were forced to withdraw slightly because of heavy machine gun fire from Bourlon village. The British again attacked the trench with the assistance of tanks, and established their line around the southern face of the wood.

The troops which captured Flequaires and Cantaine, encountered heavy resistance at the former place. Wednesday morning the British again attacked and this time forced the Germans from the village after taking their guns.

Made Rapid Advance.

Wednesday the advance was rapid. The British, against strong resistance, battled their way forward with rifles and bayonets and by noon had forced an entrance into Cantaine. Wednesday night the advance continued and an assault was made on Fontaine Notre Dame. The British took and remained in possession of Fontaine until shortly after noon yesterday, when the Germans made a heavy counter attack and again occupied the town.

However, the British were forced to withdraw only a short distance and still hold the ground from Cantaine to the south of Bourlon wood. The story of the fighting at Marconing and Masnières already has been told and this completes the summary of the operations before Cambrai since Tuesday morning. There was, however, heavy fighting to the north in the region of Bullecourt. The main objective here was the famous tunnel trench, an underground fortification of great strength about 2,000 yards long. The trench trench was mined, as the British well knew, and behind it the Germans had dug 1,000 yards of support trenches. Many concrete pill boxes also reinforced the trench defenses.

Kept Them Nervous.

For a month the British had been keeping the Germans nervous by putting down smoke barrages and employing gas. The enemy had become so accustomed to this that when the British started a flurry of gun fire at dawn Tuesday the Germans thought it was more of the same thing and they were caught unawares. The first danger which the attackers faced was the possibility of the mines being blown up, and they knew this must be avoided. Accordingly they took along a body of expert tunnel men. By good fortune they mastered the secret of the mine and out the lead wires. This enabled the British infantry which swarmed into the trench to prevent the enemy from setting off the explosives. A hot fight took place in the tunnel. Many Germans battled with bayonets to the death and 400 enemy bodies were counted after the conflict.

In addition more than 700 prisoners were taken. Further evidence of the German unpreparedness for an offensive in the Cambrai sector was obtained today in the nature of an order drawn up by a German battalion commander the day before the attack. It was his summary of the events for a week, and he drew this conclusion:

"The attitude of the enemy clearly is one of defensive." This commander was stationed in the forward area, and it is quite apparent he did not know what was going on. It is also evident that the higher command had no information or it would have informed him. The Germans have called upon every possible source to get troops to withstand the British attack.

By raking many places in their line they apparently were able in the first 48 hours of fighting to bring in only two new divisions and some five odd battalions. Today another division was brought up from the Aisne front and the 115th division from Flanders. Owing to the British artillery work there is little doubt that the Germans will be forced to abandon Cambrai as a rail head for bringing up troops.

A later report from Bourlon woods as this dispatch is being filed, said that the British attack there was progressing well.

GOOD CORN DAY ON CITY MARKET

Hay Again Drops to $20 a Ton—First Load of Old Corn of Week Received.

Friday's feat of the hay decrease was again repeated at the city scales and a market which opened with buyers at $25 closed with the paying price as low as $20 a ton. Private's bumper returns of forty-ton loads was followed with eighteen more at Saturday. The first load of old corn of the week was received Saturday and that brought $2 a bushel. Seven loads of new corn brought prices ranging from $1 to $1.18 a bushel. Four loads of oats were quoted at 55¢ and 60¢ a bushel. The city street market was fairly well represented, in contrast to the previous days of the week. A large number of the stalls were filled and the trade was brisk. Poultry and fresh meat were again the leading articles of commerce on the market.

LOTTA MILES GUARANTEED

Notice this Comparison

Here is an exposition of the cost per hundred miles, of three of the other most popular tires in comparison with Kelly-Springfields.

It wouldn't be fair to mention names. We just call them A, B and C.
